Shop Center Plea Denied

Backers of a proposed shopping center for the northeast corner of Kirchoff and Wilke rds. were denied reconsideration Monday by the Arlington Heights village board.

A petition concerning the three-year-old matter of rezoning the nine-acre tract from residential to commercial was presented to the board by G. H. Hennessey, attorney representing developer Nicholas Prassas.

The petition requested the board reconsider its November, 1959, denial of the rezoning. Hennessey said "changed circumstances in the territory" may indicate the board would look more favorably upon the project at this time.

BUT TRUSTEE Eugene Schlickman, noting the developer has filed suit against the village for its previous denial, moved the request for reconsideration be denied. The motion was supported 4-0.

According to village attorney Stephen Jurco, the developer has refused to withdraw litigation. Jurco said the suit was filed against the village by the developer so that he could retain his option on the land in question.

Trustees felt, however, there was a danger that their second denial of the rezoning might result in a second law suit. They therefore refused to reconsider the rezoning proposition again.

THE CHANGE in zoning for a proposed shopping center was first sought in November, 1957. Residents of Westgate and Rolling Meadows voiced considerable opposition to the project, claiming it would be "spot zoning" and a hazard to traffic.

Engineers Start Oakton St. Plans

Consoer, Townsend and Associates, consulting engineers, were directed Thursday by the Arlington Heights board of local improvements to prepare plans for the widening of Oakton st.

The board, after a 3-2 vote, directed that the street be widened to meet "the existing pavement." Existing pavement, between Wilke and Yale sts., is about 30 feet wide.

Plans will detail the widening of Oakton from Yale east to State rd. Vertical facing curbs and sidewalks will be installed as a part of the same project.

AFTER THE engineering plans are presented to and approved by the improvement board, a resolution supporting their acceptance will be forwarded to village trustees for their approval. Trustees cannot amend the plans, but can throw them out altogether.

The Oakton st. project has been one of the most controversial in the village's history. Two members of the board of local improvements feel the street should be wider, thus conforming with the master plan and recommendations of the village engineer and Consoer, Townsend and Associates.

Yule Hours for Village Stores

Donald Hess, executive manager of the Arlington Heights chamber of commerce, this week announced that beginning Monday, Dec. 12, retail stores in the village will stay open nights until 9 p.m.

Stores will close at 5 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 24, and most stores will be closed all day Monday, Dec. 26, Hess said.

New Support For Changes In Tollway

The board of directors of the Arlington Heights chamber of commerce last week passed a resolution in support of the drive now under way to obtain access to and from the Northwest tollway at State rd.

The resolution, approved unanimously last Thursday, calls for the Illinois Tollway commission to give "immediate favorable consideration and take any action necessary" to provide funds for, and the construction of, entrance and exit facilities.

THE DIRECTORS reasoned that State rd. is a logical place for access to and from the tollway because of the road's heavy use by residents of the communities of Arlington Heights, Elk Grove Village and Rolling Meadows.

The resolution pointed out that the employed population of these communities is predominantly commuter and that the projected population of the area may approach 120,000 in 1970.

NEW VILLAGE HALL ELECTION SATURDAY

Issuance Of Bonds At Stake

Shall $350,000 in bonds be issued by the village of Arlington Heights for construction of a new village hall?

Residents will answer the question at the polls Saturday.

Urging "yes" votes are the Village Hall Citizens committee, Arlington Heights League of Women Voters, Arlington Heights Woman's club, Greenview Estates Civic association, and Arlington Heights Jaycees and Chamber of Commerce.

Polls in the village's 21 precincts will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday. Mrs. Mildred Pearson, village clerk, is giving special instruction to the referendum's 105 judges, lending a note of professionalism to the election.

JOHN G. WOODS, chairman of the citizens committee which recommended the bond issue be put to a vote, has stressed that the badly needed village hall is being financed by the "best method possible."

"Issuance of the bonds will increase taxes an average of $2.23 per year per dwelling," Woods pointed out. "The additional tax will be only 27 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation. And this cost will get smaller each year as new assessed valuation is added to tax rolls.

"Under the long-range financing plan, the cost of the building is not borne exclusively by present residents, but will be shared by all people moving into the village during the next 20 years. It's a pay-as-you-go plan."

THE NEW HALL, to be located on village property at State rd. and Sigwalt st., will house the administrative, police and fire departments. A ceiling of $450,000 has been placed on construction cost. More than $100,000 is expected to be derived from the sale of the present hall site.

In studying the many problems connected with the existing village hall, the citizens committee interviewed numberous architects, government officials, and employees, conducted field trips, collected information and data, and held regular meetings.

The committee concluded that the deficiencies of the present hall not only cause unavoidable waste and inefficiency, but also seriously threaten public safety because of handicaps under which the police and fire departments now operate.

Village manager L. A. Hanson reports new quarters for the fire department will go "a long way" in decreasing residents' fire insurance costs. Police chief L. W. Calderwood says the operation of the police department will be greatly improved when outmoded facilities are abandoned.

IN BRIEF, the proposed cement block and brick hall will provide each village department with quarters designed to serve the public better. The building will include a central lobby, conference room, and offices for the police magistrate and health officer, none of which are in the existing building.

The unit will include a partial basement, a one-story section and a two-story wing, and is designed to permit economical future construction of a second story as the village grows to an estimated population of 47,000 by 1970.

Hard working chairmen of the citizens sub-committees have been Bill Trude, building; Paul Collins, finance; Dick Dunlop and Ray Becker, publicity, and E. J. O'Brien, executive.

This Saturday, Dec. 10, residents will go to the polls from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. to decide the fate of the new hall.

VILLAGE VOTERS will cast ballots Saturday to decide the fate of a village hall bond issue. If successful, the referendum will allow the sale of $350,000 in bonds for construction of a building as shown above in architect's rendering. Polls in 21 precincts will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

A Herald Editorial

New Village Hall Needed

On the eve of the village hall referendum, we'd like to reaffirm our position in favor of its passage.

The issue, simply stated, is whether or not the village of Arlington Heights shall authorize the sale of $350,000 in bonds for the purpose of constructing new facilities for the administrative, police and fire departments.

We strongly feel voters should approve the bond issue.

There is little doubt more and better facilities are sorely needed. Those residents who have inspected the present village hall can attest to its inadequacies, its ill repair, its hopelessness.

Probably an underlying reason we feel obligated to endorse the referendum's passage is that we know the recommendations made by the Village Hall Citizens committee are to be highly respected.

This committee was no "rubber stamp" group. Acting independently under the able chairmanship of John G. Woods, the committee spent months in making field trips, studying specifications, interviewing governmental personnel, discussing every aspect of the proposition.

The committee was broadly representative of the community, including builders, lawyers, salesmen, housewives and financial experts. The committee took the time — despite some criticism — to do a thorough job of research, to hear and consider advice from every quarter.

The committee could have depended upon data already compiled by village trustees. But it didn't. It started from the ground floor, delving into the village's needs and searching for the most economical means of satisfying them. It was coincidental that the committee's final recommendations closely paralleled those made by the village government.

In view of the worthiness of the new village hall proposed, the long-range ramifications of its construction, and the competence of the Citizens committee report, we urge residents' support Saturday of the village hall referendum.

Driver, 49, Killed When Car Hits Tree

A 49-year-old Arlington Heights man was killed Saturday when his auto went out of control on N. Dryden, jumped the curb, and crashed into a tree.

Pronounced dead on arrival at Northwest Community hospital was John Harris, of 627 S. Walnut. According to Arlington Heights police chief L. W. Calderwood, a coroner's physician Monday ruled the death accidental.

POLICE reconstructed the accident as follows: Harris was driving north on Dryden when he apparently lost control of his auto. The car veered to the left, leaped the curb, sped back to the right, crossed the street, and came to rest against a tree at 406 N. Dryden.

A witness, Lee J. Schlegal, of Des Plaines, told police he was driving southbound on Dryden when he saw Harris' car bearing down on him on the wrong side of the street. Schlegal said he pulled over the curb to avoid being hit.

"The car turned over and over—I don't know how many times," Schlegal said. He noted Harris' car was traveling at a "high rate" of speed and that it knocked over many shrubs in its chaotic path across residents' lawns.

ANOTHER WITNESS, Terry Scholl, of 1220 E. Fremont, backed up Schlegal's testimony. The dead man's auto traveled a total of 286 feet from its entry over the curb near St. James st. to its ultimate halt, police said.

It was reported at Monday's inquest that Harris suffered a blood clot, possibly causing him to black out. His neck was broken when he was thrown from the rampaging auto.

DEATH SCENE IS examined Saturday by officers of the Arlington Heights police department. Demolished auto at right carried John Harris, 49, of 627 S. Walnut, to his death. The car caromed off shrubs and trees as it sped out of control on Dryden pl., coming to rest in front of 406 N. Dryden. (AF

Vandals Damage Lumber Truck

Vandals last Thursday night damaged a truck parked in the rear of Hill Behan Lumber co., 5 S. State rd., according to a report filed with Arlington Heights police by Adolph Meyer, manager.

Meyer said he came to work Friday morning and found the truck's headlights smashed and side view mirrors ripped from the cab. Some building material in the vicinity was also damaged.

Builder Tells of Agreement

Attempts to relocate Arlington Heights controversial ready-mix plant bogged down Tuesday under the weight of objections from builder Salvatore DiMucci and two Arlington Heights homeowners.

Objections were voiced at a public hearing called to hear the case for and against moving Consumers company, a ready-mix concrete operation, from its site at 301 W. Northwest hwy. to the village's inactive sewage plant.

DiMucci, a Mt. Prospect builder, presented numerous objections to village manager L. A. Hanson's petition asking for a zoning variation at the sewage plant.

OTHER OBJECTORS were Russell Conklin, 207 S. Forrest, representing the Greenview Estates Civic association, and Donald Burdick, 810 McKinley, president of the Arlington Heights Park Manor Homeowners association.

"I'm on your team in wanting to move the cement plant," DiMucci told the board, "but let's find a better place for it than the one proposed."

He claimed that Consumers company trucks would be forced to travel over Arthur st. or through residential areas in leaving the sewage plant, which is located at the southeastern corner of the village adjacent to the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks.

DIMUCCI FURTHER objected to what he called a "back door deal," preferring to see the village advertise the property for lease, assigning it to the highest bidder, rather than negotiating privately with only one firm.

The builder surprised board members by announcing he had made a "gentleman's agreement" with the Arlington Heights trustees "three or four years ago." The agreement, DiMucci said, gives him first right to refuse use of the sewage plant's 9.5 acres.

He could not, however, recall the names of the trustees with whom he made the agreement or the exact date of the deal. He promised to produce the mysterious trustees "if they're still living" and to furnish the board with the date of the agreement.

Conklin said members of his association feared the blowing of cement dust onto their property near the sewage plant. Burdick objected to any encouragement of industry which might encroach upon the now residential Park Manor subdivision.

Village attorney Stephen Jurco assured the board, objectors and some 30 spectators that any lease worked out with Consumers would provide for protection against cement dust blowing onto homes.

HE POINTED out that access to the sewage plant is available from other than residential streets, and noted that a new roadway may be constructed across the railroad tracks to allow the company trucks access to Northwest hwy.

Jurco objected to DiMucci's reference to a "back door deal," saying a ready-mix plant would provide "highest economic use" of the sewage plant. He said he doubted the validity of DiMucci's claim on a "gentleman's agreement."

After hearing two and a half hours of testimony, the zoning board reported it is taking the matter under advisement and will come up with a recommendation Wednesday, Dec. 28.

Issue Is School Payments

Hasbrook Residents Want Builder Reply

Natives of the Hasbrook subdivision in north Arlington Heights are restless.

Causing unrest of growing proportions is the reluctance of builder Albert E. Riley to negotiate in settling a dispute over school contributions, residents say.

Howard Sjogren, president of the Hasbrook Civic association, said the group directed letters to Riley on September 14 and October 31. Neither has been answered Neither has been answered, Sjogren noted.

Subject of the letters was Riley's suspension of payments to Wilson school district 24. Association members point out that Riley agreed to pay $175 per home to the district, but abruptly halted payments in May.

AFTER failing to make progress in negotiations with the builder, a committee of association members was appointed in August to study the problem. A Chicago attorney was consulted for advice.

Then came the first letter to Riley. It urged payments be resumed. The second letter mentioned the lack of a reply to the first. It, too, brought no response.

"We are firm in our belief that Mr. Riley is obligated to us as homeowners to follow through with his commitment," Sjogren told the Herald this week. "He may choose not to fulfill his agrement with the school district, but he still is responsible to each individual who purchased a Hasbrook home."

SJOGREN explained that in outlining benefits of his 500-home subdivision to prospective buyers, Riley promised to contribute to the school district for each home. Association members claim the promise is legally binding.

In his Hasbrook News Review brochure of July, Riley mentions he "is paying $175 a house to the school district." The association says this publicity was not only a benefit to home sales, but also an aid in getting the subdivision annexed to the village.

"We have deep regrets that Mr. Riley failed to reply to our letters," Sjogren said, "and trust that this failure was not intended to provoke direct action for recovery of the promised school funds."

The 240-member association still hopes to be advised of Riley's intentions in time to avert possible court action. (AF

Merchant Group Endorses Issue

Directors of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, after hearing a presentation Tuesday by John G. Woods, chairman of the Village Hall Citizens committee, voted unanimously to endorse Saturday's village hall referendum.

Woods spoke to the directors and several chamber members at a luncheon meeting here. He pointed to the "intangible" assets of the new village hall and stressed that its financing takes into consideration those thousands expected to move into the village in the future.

THE DIRECTORS also announced that effective Monday, Dec. 12, stores will begin staying open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Most stores will be closed all day Monday, Dec. 26.

Arlington Heights businessmen were praised by chamber directors for "outstanding" cooperation in adopting a uniform Christmas lighting program. It was suggested merchants, for the sake of unity, keep lighting on from 5 to 10 p.m. daily. (AF

Park Manor Hearing Is December 15

The Arlington Heights board of local improvements Thursday officially established Thursday, Dec. 15, as the formal public hearing date for the Arlington Heights Park Manor improvement project.

Upon hearing the reading of a resolution by village attorney Stephen Jurco, the board unanimously voted to finalize the hearing date.

EXPECTED TO be discussed at the hearing is the per home cost of the project. Several homeowners have expressed the opinion the cost estimates are too high and not in keeping with similar improvement programs carried out in the past.

The project consists of the installation of sanitary sewer, water main, storm sewer and paving in the 80-acre area situated in the southeastern portion of the village.

Bldg. Code Ready for Inspection

Copies of the new Arlington Heights building code will be available for trustees' inspection Friday in the village manager's office, it was disclosed Monday.

At a regular meeting of the village board, attorney Stephen Jurco said a revised proof of the code had been obtained from the printers. The code, Jurco noted, would have to be ratified by the board because of changes made since its adoption earlier.

AFTER TRUSTEES have examined the code, they will presumaby act to ratify it at an adjourned session next Monday night.

The first revised code was adopted by the board during the latter part of 1959. Since that time additions and corrections have required revisions, thus delaying the code's final approval. (AF

Investigate Parked Cars Near Base

Arlington Heights police this week were investigating reports that men in parked autos have been seen acting suspiciously near the U. S. Army Nike base on Central rd.

A resident on south Mitchell last week told police she saw three cars parked on Kirchoff rd. west of Ridge av Occupants of the cars appeared to be viewing the base through binoculars, she said.

Another resident reported seeing a man step out of his auto at the same location and take photographs of the base. The auto's license plate number is being checked with Chicago police.

Set Election Judge School

Mrs. Mildred Pearson, Arlington Heights village clerk, will conduct a training program this evening, Thursday, Dec. 8 for 105 election judges who will work on Saturday's village hall referendum.

The training session, beginning at 8 p.m. in the village hall council room, is designed to familiarize judges with their duties and the proper conduct of a municipal election, Mrs. Pearson explained.

Five judges from each of the village's 21 precincts have been requested to take part in the program. Village residents interested in the mechanics of elections are also invited to attend.

'Missing' Postal Bag Is Returned

Arlington Heights postal authorities breathed easier last Thursday after a Prospect Heights man found and returned a bag full of mail which had been missing for several hours.

As Elberg Vowell, of 200 N. Parkway, was driving westbound on Northwest hwy, at Highland ave., he spied a bag lying in the outer lane of traffic. He stopped, picked it up, and brought it to the Arlington Heights police station.

Post office employees who retrieved the bag said it probably dropped from a postal truck without the driver noticing it.

Appoint Bishop For Assessment

The Arlington Heights board of local improvements Thursday appointed Robert B. Bishop, of 530 S. Chestnut, as special commissioner to spread the assessment for roadway construction in two blocks on the north side of the village.

The project calls for roadway on Elm st., between Walnut and Kennicott, and on Ridge ave., from Elm to Oakton. Village trustees approved the assessment October 24.

Suburb Educators Meet

School Legislation Proposed at Parley

Suburban educators met last week to hear proposals for state legislation covering teacher and pupil welfare, administration and organization changes, and tax reform.

The proposals were presented at a meeting of more than 150 educators and interested citizens at Palatine high school. Attending were representatives from schools in Elk Grove, Wheeling, Schaumburg, and Palatine townships.

The need for tax reforms was stressed by Marion Jordan, superintendent of Palatine - Rolling Meadows schools. He said Illinois placed an unduly heavy tax burden on sales and property taxes. Urging improved assessment procedures throughout the state, he also suggested an amendment to the revenue article of the state constitution to permit a state income tax. Jordan emphasized the importance of finding new sources of revenue to increase state aid for schools.

MRS. R. B. Yadon, legislative chairman for PTA groups in grade school districts located within the district 214, recommended a state board of education comprised of lay persons with long, staggered terms. She pointed out that Illinois is one of only two states which does not have such a board.

She also recommended the appointment of the state superintendent of public instruction by the school board rather than by election.

Dr. Kenneth Gill, superintendent of Wheeling schools, spoke on retirement problems for teachers, raising minimum salaries, increasing teacher certification requirements, teacher liability protection, and scholarships for experienced teachers to prepare them for special education programs.

The speakers urged elimination of small high school districts with less than 150 pupils.

ANOTHER proposal aired at the meeting was establishment of more junior colleges throughout the state. These would specialize in two - year vocational and occupational programs as well as college preparatory programs.

Chairman of the meeting was Donald Holtzee of Salk school, Rolling Meadows. He is legislative chairman for the Illinois Education association in four northwest townships.

The legislative proposals will be submitted to the representative assembly of the Illinois Education association at the annual convention December 27-29 in Chicago.

If the proposals are adopted by the association, the northwest area I.E.A. group will schedule meetings with state senators and representatives from northwest suburbs. (B8

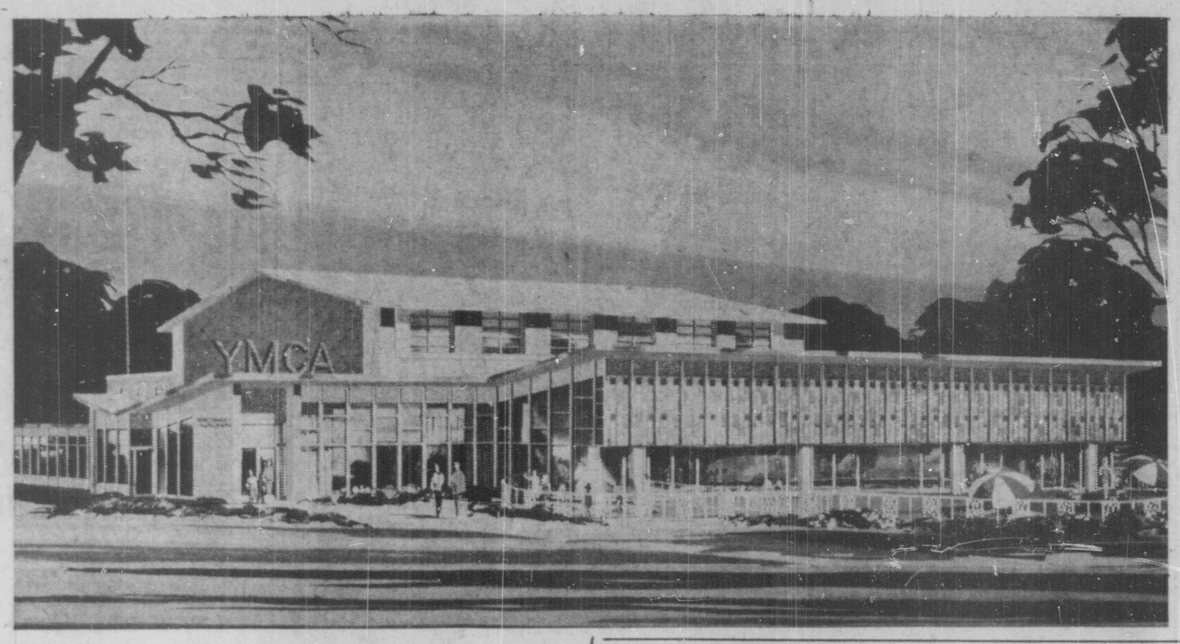
Home TV Distribution

by ED LANDWEHR

It is a good idea for new home builders to consider multiple TV distribution systems. This allows television viewing in every major room in contrast to the two television couple generally used.

These systems in larger form have been used in public buildings for some time, and now a simplified one is available for houses.

For more information about this handy idea, phone CLearbrook 5-0700 and the LANDWEHR'S TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, will be pleased to give you all the information you need including estimates on installation. Electronics is our profession and not a sideline.



YMCA BUILDING on Northwest hwy. near Mt. Prospect rd. will be dedicated at an open house, Sunday, Jan. 15. Residents of area who have supported the $1 million plant are invited to attend the dedication. Guests will be given a tour of the facilities. (B8

Northwest Suburban YMCA Dedication Set January 15

The new Northwest Suburban YMCA building will be dedicated Sunday afternoon, Jan. 15, according to Ralph H. Martin of Des Plaines, chairman of the dedication committee.

The open house is set for 1 to 6 p.m., with the dedication ceremony at 3 o'clock in the gymnasium of the new building, located on Northwest hwy. near Mt. Prospect rd.

Serving on the dedication committee from this area are Robert Bukowski of Arlington Heights, John Gobeille of Mt. Prospect.

Representing the Women's auxiliary are Mrs. Robert Phillips and Mrs. Ann Petrie, both of Mount Prospect, and Mrs. W. L. Downing of Arlington Heights.

RESIDENTS of the Northwest suburban area who have supported this $1 million structure are invited to attend both the formal dedication and the open house. During the afternoon guides will take small groups through the facilities, pointing out highlights of the recreational unit. Members of the YMCA board of directors and Women's auxiliary will act as hosts and guides for the occasion.

The committee anticipates a crowd of 600 people at the dedication ceremony and an additional 1,400 guests during the open house. (B8

Go-Cart Craze Is Sweeping Suburbs

A Palatine man who thinks that go-carts are the hottest thing since the cha cha has the wheels in motion to form a private club so kids can race their models safely.

Raymond F. Metzler, 260 N. Middleton, who calls himself an "underpaid school teacher" thinks that the go-cart hobby has really caught the country by storm.

'If kids don't have a place to go with them, they're going to mess around and hurt people and themselves," he said. "That's why I want to have a track."

THE TRACK he envisions would be the "Grand Prix" snake-type track, a half mile long and blacktopped. In addition to this, he plans on grandstand room for 4,000 persons, sheds where kids can store their carts and service them, and rental carts if these are popular.

"If you give supervision, have drivers carry insurance, and race with kids their own age, then no one is going to get hurt. It is healthy sport," Metzler added.

"And talk about popularity. Why, where I teach school a class that used to be called Home Mechanics is now Go-Cart Repairs!"

He said that national statistics show that 10 out of 100 boys have the low slung carts equipped with engines capable of doing between 30 and 60 miles per hour.

"I venture to say there are 1,000 carts in the northwest area alone," Metzler added.

THE 26-YEAR-OLD bachelor has already taken membership money for three boys and says he has lined up about 20 more in Glenview where he teaches printing at Glenview Junior high school.

Though the site has not been definitely established, it will be between Arlington Heights and Palatine, Metzler said. He has been bonded by Palatine attorney Albert Peters and drew his first paying customer from Palatine -- Paul Somotas, manager of the One Hoss Shay, whose two sons have carts.

The first 200 memberships will be sold for $50 each. Those who are interested in joining the club or learning more about its program may call Metzler at Flanders 8-1872 or PA 4-4452. (A13

Voice Changing

Talking Dog Boasts 3 Word Vocabulary

Most dogs bark when asked to "speak," but Baron, a five year old boxer owned by Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Burion, Wilke and Dundee rds. in Palatine township, obeys the command literally.

Baron actually "talks," that is, when begging he rolls his tongue and makes deep utterances which more than resemble "I want" and "I want it."

The Burians noted this unique ability several years ago and have encouraged the dog to improve his "speech."

"He's getting better," smiles Rudy, an employee of Motorola corp., "and his voice has changed since he was a two-year-old. It's deeper now and more intelligible."

THE BURIANS, somewhat amazed by the dog's speaking ability, seldom tell others about it "for fear it's our imagination because he's our dog." But visitors who have heard Baron "speak" have carried his fame elsewhere.

"Some children from Willow Springs were so overwhelmed by Baron's speech that they told all their friends about it," relates Rudy's wife, Olga. "We received numerous calls asking us to bring the dog to Willow Springs so others could hear."

The dog evidently understands what is expected when he is asked to "speak." He seldom barks, and, although he begins his "conversation" with moans, he works up to audible speech. Burian has tape recorded the dog's utterances so skeptical guests can be convinced even if Baron isn't in a mood to perform.

"PERHAPS Baron is jealous of his neighbors," smiled Burian, referring to a talking crow owned by Mr. and Mrs. Clem Piekarski, who live next door. At any rate, Baron, who loves people and weighs over 100 pounds, could make a fortune advertising dog food. (B8

Salvage Store Is Veritable Wonderland of Merchandise

by BOB CUMMINS

The morning sun glinted on snow-flecked fields as I drove north to visit the Illinois Railroad Salvage and Discount store.

It was with a keen sense of anticipation that I put the miles behind me and finally arrived at my destination at route 83 and route 45 near Mundelein.

For I had been told: "This store is unique. It has everything.

It can be compared only to the historic trading posts which served the beaver trappers in Indian country during frontier days."

Alighting from my car, I pushed my way through a crowd of Indians and beavers, and entered the Illinois Railroad Salvage and Discount store.

MIKE STEINBERG examines one of the many unusual items sold at Illinois Railroad Salvage and Discount store near Mundelein. It is a sheet on which are printed all the playing cards. Some people buy the sheet and cut it into 52 pieces. Others frame the whole thing for their recreation room.

WHAT I saw was a veritable wonderland of merchandise.

The proprietor, Michael "Mike" Steinberg, came forward with hand outstretched and greeted me. "You see before you a veritable wonderland of merchandise," he said, with understandable pride.

"Let me show you what I mean," he said, and guided me down the crowded aisles of his store. And I saw everything—radios, towels, picture frames, paints, pajamas, a big new shoe department, and platters, posies, peanuts, and pie pans.

How did it all start? Mike Steinberg told me.

In 1945 he was discharged from the army with a hip injury that ended his military career. After discharge, he accompanied his uncle to a railroad salvage store. There Mike saw some copper screening—and he bought it, and took it to his uncle's farm near Mundelein.

Because of wartime shortages, he had no difficulty selling it to farmers. So Mike went back and bought a stock of ladders. The farmers bought these eagerly. After that Mike was in the railroad salvage business.

AND IT HAS thrived for him at rtes. 83 and 45. The present building was put up in 1957, an addition was built the following year, and the handicap of a fire was hurdled without a backward look. Three years ago Steinberg took in a partner—his brother-in-law, Norman Cutler.

There is a story behind almost every item of merchandise for sale. Guilding me down the aisles where items are casually piled in cardboard boxes or heaped on the counters, Mike pointed to a pile of books on shorthand, biology, and algebra.

"I bought these from Wauconda high school when they changed textbooks," he explains. "'I'm selling them for 12 cents apiece. One girl came in, rummaged through them to find the ones that had her name, and bought all the books she used in high school!"

ACROSS THE aisle are some pizza pans. "I got these after a fire," Mike says. "Clean them up and they're as good as new."

A few steps further on are some custom kitchen cabinets. "The workmen measured wrong on these so we got them." Mike explains.

"Here's one I took a flyer on." Mike held up a sheet of pasteboard about a yard square. On it were printed all 52 playing cards. "This is the way they make playing cards—print 'em on this sheet, then cut 'em up. Some people frame the whole thing and put it in their recreation room. Others buy it and cut a deck of cards for themselves.

In the next aisle I asked: "What's that?" pointing to large loops of filmy thread.

"Nylon parachute cord," Mike replied.

"What do people use it for?"

"I don't know, but they buy it." And buy they do. Customers come all the way from Kenosha to Indiana.

AND THEY WILL find ladies belts next to kitchen sinks, ax handles next to hair tonic, and linoleum next to boat anchors.

It was time to go. As a parting shot, Mike said: "You know what's interesting in this business? You never know what you're going to sell next!"

Before I left I bought a roll of birch bark. It only cost a dime at Illinois Railroad Salvage. I gave it to the beavers, and as I drove southward I looked in my rearview mirror and saw them munching happily. (A-14)

Arlington Sets New Standard with Plays

by CHARLES HAYES

An Arlington Heights parent, attending a high school play for the first time in 26 years, remarked during intermission that "dramatics has certainly changed since I was in school."

He was witnessing for the first time the "new look" in educational theater at Arlington high school. It was the recent production of George Bernard Shaw's classic of manners and mores, "Man and Superman."

This production was another illustration of the exciting progress being made in dramatics at Arlington. In recent years, students have presented a series of outstanding productions which would do justice to professional companies.

FREQUENTLY, the school has successfully attempted plays usually considered beyond the range of teenagers. Such a play is "Man and Superman." This adult classic is a social commentary in which Shaw hammers away at common human frailties. It also essays in comic terms Shaw's theory of the 'Life Force' — nature's way of continuing the human race.

Shaw accomplishes this in delightful fashion with a play of pith and wit. Expert writing coupled with talented students resulted in an evening of sparkling entertainment.

A major share of credit for this success belongs, of course, to the superb direction and guidance of Director Douglas K. Murphy. He continues to astound colleague and spectator alike with a unique ability to mold polished and meaningful performances from inexperienced young students. This was a first class production; rare indeed was a scene in which the audience was ever painfully aware of the youthfulness of the performer.

Also praiseworthy was the excellent staging by Mary Ellen Grasso, English instructor, and James Walker and Ed Fischer of the art department.

Lead roles in the production were well cast and ably executed.

Of special note was the extraordinary performance of Kurt Markshausen, whose part was one of the play's longest and most difficult. Memorization alone would have been an accomplishment for a high school student; he not only mastered the lines but brought subtley and meaning to his characterization of the "hero" John Tanner.

CHARLES KING as Octavius Robinson, the hapless poet, showed a genuine flair for comedy. He did an exceptional job of maintaining his character at all times, with special attention paid to those small details of gesture, stance, and inflection which so often separate amateur from professional.

Carol Weiser did a commendable job as Violet and Martha LaRose demonstrated great acting potential in her portrayal of Ann, the "heroine."

An area in which most high school plays are found lacking is in the quality of supporting roles. Happily, this production had a number of good secondary players. My particular favorite was the too-brief appearance of Bonnie Luster in her delightful interpretation of the biddy Miss Ramsden.

OTHER competent players included Robert Stone, Mary Jane Heberling, Richard Keslinke, and Elroy Schuler.

"Man and Superman" was a particularly enjoyable experience for those of us who have long associated educational theater with such tired vehicles as "Gammer Gurton's Needle" or "The Man Who Came to Dinner.

But at Arlington — under the leadership of Murphy and Lyovonne Trad, director of speech activities — new depth and purpose have been brought to dramatics activity. They believe that educational theater is a learning experience, that plays provide for an enrichment of young people by helping them to acquire a respect and an appreciation for good theater.

Stressing that theater is "literature after dark," the school has sought to present dramatic material which provides youngsters with greater understanding of life and people as well as a broader experience. Quality plays also help to bridge the gap between classroom and stage.

By working with and enjoying good plays, students are gaining an appreciation of the cultural influence which the theater has upon civilization as well as developing personal standards of taste that will make them a more discriminating audience when they reach adulthood.

IN EXPLAINING the underlying philosophy of educational theater at Arlington, Murphy and Miss Trad quoted from a top university expert:

"The truer the aesthetic experience, the deeper the educational effect. If this approach is sound, the educational theater is not to be judged by the popularity of the play with the high school audience or by the box office receipts. Rather, they are to be judged by the measure and value of their contribution to the intellectual and emotional life of the pupils participating as evinced by increased maturity, judgment, poise, understanding, independence, and leadership."

This approach and the high caliber of dramatic achievement which is resulting from it is another example of the workmanlike job that Arlington high school is doing for its students.

Saturday Slated As Do-It-Day Here

Saturday has been designated as "Do-It-Day" by Dr. Walter C. Bornemeier, general chairman of the 1960 Christmas Seal campaign.

On this day everyone is urged to make a special effort to mail his contribution to the 1960 Christmas Seal campaign.

"Last year at this time, Christmas Seal contributions came to $20,000 more than has been received so far," reported Dr. Bornemeier. "During the first two weeks of our drive, the response was excellent, with many letters thanking us for free chest X-rays. Now, however, perhaps because of the hurry and excitement of the holidays, we are falling behind."

IT IS HOPED by officials of the Tuberculosis Institute, which conducts the Christmas Seal campaign and is supported by contributions to it, that the "Do-It-Day" appeal will be the special incentive to bring the Seal contributions up to normal.

"None of us would like to see a cutback in the number of free X-rays offered to the public, the number of tuberculin tests available to school children, the amounts granted for medical research, rehabilitation or education. Yet if we fall short of our $820,000 goal, such cutbacks will be necessary.

"Giving to Christmas Seals may be part of the greatest gift you can give to those you love . . . the gift of health. The gifts given in past years by generous residents of Chicagoland have made it possible to bring many fathers back to their families and saved the lives of many mothers and children, too."

DR. BORNEMEIER pointed out that 94 per cent of all funds raised remain in the Chicago area and urged that Christmas Seal gifts be mailed to The Tuberculosis Institute, 1412 W. Washington, Chicago 7.

"Make Saturday your 'Do It-Day' so that the Institute can do its best to strike back at TB during the coming year." (B8

Elementary to High School

Course Coordination For School Districts

A unique curriculum coordination program has been completed by the Proviso township school districts, modeled on a similar program initiated by the schools of the Arlington-Prospect high school and elementary school districts.

The need for the program became apparent with the problems faced at the high school freshman level when students from seven separate school districts enrolled, with each district attaining a different level of preparedness for their graduating eighth graders. A basic uniform curriculum design for the entire township appeared to be the answer.

TO DEVELOP this basic curriculum small committees were set up at each grade level, kindergarten through twelfth grade. These committees prepared the basic design in social studies, arithmetic, reading, science and English. Other committees prepared material in the areas of art, physical education, music, library, home economics and shop. The speech correctionists and nurses from the township met together to discuss their problems and to make recommendations for their programs.

As these various small committees completed their work, the material was refined on increasingly broader levels. The final revision was done by township committees with one representative from each school district, and in some cases the services of an outside consultant. The final product was reviewed by the steering committee and recommended in its entirety to the superintendents of the township.

The main feature of the Proviso Curriculum Design is the involvement in the study of the more than 750 teachers in the area. It basically represents what classroom teachers think the curriculum should be in light of their own training and experience. It was evolved over a period of almost four years.

GENERAL consultant for the curriculum development program was Dr. George Beauchamp of Northwestern University. Districts involved in the study were elementary school districts 87, 88, 89, 91, 92, 92½, 93 and high school district 209.

Superintendent of Proviso district 209 is Dr. LeRoy J. Knoeppel, past superintendent of Arlington high school district 214.

A similar, but less detailed and comprehensive program, is consistently being developed by the curriculum directors of the Arlington Area Educators council, a professional - development and education - improvement group of teachers and administrators of the Arlington high school and underlying elementary school districts.

THE PROVISO program of curriculum development has been hailed as a "model program" by educators. B8

Editor's Column

STUART R. PADDOCK

Roper hospital Charleston, S. C.

Bright sunshine smiles on the faces of patient, nurses and surgeon as stitches were removed from this editor; but two hours later all was changed.

Smiles were gone, blood pressure and temperature climbed. A consultation determined that the cause of an apparent "relapse" was the delayed arrival of the December 1 issue of the Palatine Enterprise.

The paper told of an unwarranted attack on Mayor Olsen; of the apparent decision of the Economy party to not only prevent the purchase of the Triangle park, but the knifing of the park board plan for the formation of three small school parks.

If successful in their plans, it could mean the formation of a strong arm political party in Palatine, which if continued, could bring about a "bossism" in municipal government.

This all happened in a community which a few weeks earlier had given its approval to a million dollar bond issue for more schools.

We have bowed to orders of the physician and nurses that all stories of what is happening in Palatine politically shall be banned from our sick room until we can again take such disturbances "on the chin."

In this, our farewell column until we get back on the job, we hope some strong willed group will present to the people of Palatine the answer that is so greatly needed.

Two weeks ago when we outlined the Triangle park campaign, we were surprised to discover how many leading citizens of past years were shrugging their shoulders with the words "What's the use?"

The coming election next week will tell if Palatine voters have really surrendered their autonomy.

Police Quiz Two Suspects

Arlington Heights police Wednesday continued to question two suspects believed to be involved in a $200 robbery of Moran's bar and grill, 656 W. Northwest hwy.

Police said thieves entered the building sometime early Tuesday morning by breaking a side window and made off with $200 hidden behind the bar.

Ridge Well Inspection Is Slated

Arlington Heights trustees Monday voted 4-0 to accept the recommendation of Consoer, Townsend and Associates, consulting engineers, that the Ridge well pump be pulled for inspection.

The well, in continuous operation since 1953, has been operated fewer hours per day recently because of a drop in the water level. It is common practice to pull a deep well pump at least every five years, engineers pointed out.

ARTHUR LEWIS, representing Consoer, Townsend and Associates, estimated cost of the inspection at $7,500.

He urged trustees to hire a well driller to pull the pump, dismantle and inspect its bowls, impellers and line shaft, and run a measuring line in the well. (A

Congregational Church Changes Its Location

The Congregational Church of Arlington Heights, which has been holding its services of worship and sessions of the church school in Pioneer Park field house since it was organized in May, 1959, moved Sunday, Dec. 4, to the South Junior high school on South st.

The time remains the same, 10 a.m. for both church school and worship service. Coffee hour following will be held in the lobby entrance.

Primary reason for this move is to provide more room for the growing church school, as well as for the increasing congregation. Meetings of the congregation other than Sunday services will continue to be held at Pioneer Park field house. (A

Kiwanis Hears Expert Warn

Compulsory Insurance No Traffic Cure-All

An insurance claims expert warned Tuesday against a public misconception that a state system of compulsory automobile insurance would rid the roads of financially irresponsible drivers.

Edward C. Williams, resident secretary in the Chicago claims office of the Kemper Insurance group, told the Palatine Kiwanis that compulsory insurance schemes simply failed to live up to the expectations of their sponsors and of the insurance industry.

Speaking from more than 20 years of insurance experience, Williams said that in the three states where it has been tried, compulsory plans have led to higher insurance rates, more claims and litigation, extensive state bureaucracy and public dissatisfaction.

HE EXPLAINED that it comes as a surprise to much of the general public to learn that the insurance industry generally opposes legislation which would make its services mandatory for all who own automobiles. This industry opposition developed, he said, because the only three states which tried compulsory insurance — Massachusetts, New York and North Carolina — discovered it adds up finally to a shattering administrative and financial headache without finally solving the problem of the irresponsible.

An officer of the Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company of the Kemper Group, Williams also was appearing here as a spokesman for the 19 principal Illinois-domiciled casualty companies organized in the Illinois Insurance Information Service. He addressed the regular meeting of the Palatine Kiwanis Club

"On basis of actual experience." he said, "compulsory insurance can be and too often is evaded by the irresponsible and, moreover, it provides no protection at all against the hit-run driver, the driver of a stolen car, or the driver of an uninsured out-of-state car.

"In Massachusetts, New York and North Carolina, many thousands of motorists still continue to drive without insurance — evading the law in one way or another — and many more fail to renew insurance when their policies expire. The insurance industry is convinced that compulsory insurance will not accomplish the objectives which many people assume it will," he said.

WILLIAMS pointed out that approximately 89 to 90 per cent of all motor cars now licensed in Illinois now are insured by their owners. On the experience of the three states experimenting in compulsory insurance, he said, it would be rash to believe that a compulsory liability law would bring 100 per cent compliance because "there always are some people of the type who somehow would evade a compulsory insurance law and continue to drive without insurance just as long as they could get away with it."

Rather than leading Illinois into the bureaucratic problems of a state directed compulsory insurance system, Williams said, the prudent driver here can get better protection by seeing to it that his own policy carries "uninsured motorist" coverage.

All major companies now will write such coverage into regular policies, he explained. This coverage provides up to $10,000 for death or bodily injury of one person and up to $20,000 for death and injury of two or more persons when they are wrongfully hit by a driver without insurance.

"That not only protects you and your family or guests against the uninsured driver, but also against an unapprehended hit-run driver or the driver of a stolen car — the type of offender which a compulsory insurance law cannot touch," Williams explained. (B8

Q. If I am in a group of persons and someone whom I do not know joins us, should I introduce myself to him or should I ask someone else in the group to introduce us?

A. Neither is necessary. If you happen to have something to say to the stranger, you would address him just as if he had been introduced to you.

Salvation Army Mail Appeal Set

A special mail appeal on behalf of the Salvation Army's local service unit program will be held in communities of the metropolitan Chicago area during December, reports Joseph Schneller, 21 S. Dryden, chairman of the Arlington Heights committee.

Salvation Army service unit committees are organized to give rapid help in emergencies, assistance in sudden or prolonged illness and a friendly helping hand to people who are not covered by established or routine welfare programs. Whenever possible, the problem is solved within the community, but when necessary people are referred to institutions and services operated by The Salvation Army in Chicago.

HOLIDAY FOOD baskets, rent, homemaker service, assistance to stranded transients, health services, food, clothing, fuel, furniture and bedding were among the services given by the committees in the past year.

Donald F. Morton, 16 S. William, Mt. Prospect, treasurer of the Arlington Heights committee, urged residents to mail their contributions soon, and pointed out that a part of the funds raised will remain in the community to carry out the assistance program. The same plan is followed on the annual "Doughnut Tag Day" in June. The balance of the amount raised helps support the other traditional Salvation Army services and institutions in the greater Chicago area. (A

1960 Death Total Is 170

October Was Deadly Month For Suburban Traffic Toll

October, with 28 traffic fatalities, was the deadliest month of the year on streets and highways in suburban Cook county.

The Cook County Traffic Safety Commission reports that in its 15 years of record keeping only one other month had a higher death toll—June, 1953, with 29 dead.

The death toll for the first 10 months of this year stands at 170, or exactly the final figure for all of 1959.

Based on National Safety Council statistics, the county traffic safety commission estimates October's accidents presented a bill of at least $4,200,000 to suburban Cook county.

Fifteen fatalities in October occurred on roads in the unincorporated areas.

There were two deaths in Cicero, two in Des Plaines, and one each in Berwyn, Calumet City, Skokie, LaGrange Park, Homewood, River Grove, Palatine, Niles, and Barrington Hills.

At the top of the suburban death toll list for the first 10 months of the year, with six fatalities each, are Cicero, Chicago Heights, and Harvey.

Towns with four traffic fatalities: Oak Park, Berwyn, and River Grove.

With three fatalities: Blue Island, Des Plaines, Niles, Norridge, and Alsip.

With two fatalities: Evanston, Brookfield, Skokie, Oak Lawn, Lansing, LaGrange Park, Lincolnwood, Rolling Meadows, and Rosemont.

With one fatality each: Maywood, Elmwood Park, Calumet City, Forest Park, Melrose Park, LaGrange, River Forest, Riverside, Summit, Bellwood, Park Forest, Lyons, Homewood, Broadview, Robbins, Palatine, Mt. Prospect, and Midlothian.

Also, Calumet Park, Hillside, Northfield, Schiller Park, Willow Springs, Matteson, Wheeling, McCook, Country Club Hills, and Hickory Hills.

The other 79 deaths occurred on state and federal highways and county roads in unincorporated areas.

Police units reported 3,156 traffic accidents in October in which 944 persons were injured.

The number of accidents and persons injured in suburbs in this section of the county in the first 10 months of the year follows:

Rural Area Keeps Representation On School Board

One member representing the unincorporated areas will continue to serve on the board of education of Arlington-Prospect high school district 214.

Under state statutes in districts where more than 15 per cent of the assessed valuation is in unincorporated areas one member of the seven-man board must reside in the unincorporated area. If the assessed valuation is more than 30 per cent, then two members must be elected from such areas.

AT THE MEETING of the school board Monday night, results of an investigation revealed the unincorporated property assessment in the school district represented 27.17 per cent of the total assessment. The total assessment of the district is $265,937,553. Within the corporate limits of Wheeling, Buffalo Grove, Mount Prospect Arlington Heights, Elk Grove and Rolling Meadows there is more than $191 million. In unincorporated areas there is less than $74 million.

The present "rural" member of the school board is E. Charles Lockwood Jr.

Lockwood lived in Prospect Heights, an unincorporated community, when elected to the board. He has since moved to Arlington Heights, making him ineligible for re-election as a "rural" member.

A replacement will be elected next spring at the time of the regular school board election. (ACM

DEDICATION SERVICES Sunday at St. Simon Episcopal church, 717 W. Kirchhoff rd., Arlington Heights, brought the new building's floor area to capacity use. The Right Rev. Driver Award Is Presented

Chief Calderwood said he witnessed Jones pull his auto to a halt November 25 and wait patiently while a long line of Arlington Heights residents on their way to a parade crossed the street.

The driver commendation certificates are awarded jointly by the Red Owl food store, Arlington Heights Safety council and Arlington Heights police department. (A

Assessments

Arlington Heights' trustees Monday passed two ordinances calling for special assessments in the Arlington Manor subdivision. One concerned the paving of south Ridge, the other installation of sanitary sewer on the same street. (A

Pie Baking Contest Won By Sandra

Winner of a cherry-pie baking contest conducted by Arlington high school home economics department and the Northern Illinois Gas company was Sandra Behm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Behm, 563 Laurel, Elk Grove Village.

Competing with three other girls from the local high school, Sandra baked the best 9-inch pie as judged by Mrs. Dorothy Scharf and Mrs. Marilyn Kane of the home economics department. Assisting in the judging were Jack Martin and H. W. Grace of Arlington high school and Mrs. Helene Bristol of Paddock Publications.

THE OTHER girls who competed in the contest were Diana Koenig, Penny Pennington and Judy Boehmer.

Similar contests were held in most junior high and high schools served by the Northern Illinois Gas company. At stake is a $400 scholarship for first prize and a $150 scholarship second prize. The final contest will be held in Aurora sometime in January. (ACM

High School Gets Saving with Line

High school district 214 has found a "bargain" in one of the construction problems at the new Forest View high school site on Goebbert rd., south of Arlington Heights.

The board had agreed to the installation of underground power lines at a total cost of $6,575 by the Public Service company. Of this amount $2,034 was for trenching.

A BID for trenching and backfilling for only $695 was recently received from Sproul Construction company, general contractors at the site. Since this represented a saving of $1,344 the school board quickly changed the contract with the Public Service company to include only installation and other costs at $4,541.

The $695 bid of Sproul was formally accepted and approved by the board Monday night. (ACM

GEORGE HARRIS

We have had many compliments on our "Stag Night" Christmas shopping, a night that is strictly reserved for the "man of the family." This is a night when Dad is strictly on his own, and it really gives him a feeling of superiority to be able to choose his own personal gifts.

In-as-much as this night has become a tradition at Harris Pharmacy, I might as well tell you now that you will find a larger selection of Gifts than ever before. For Mom, there are colognes, perfumes, ladies' wallets and ever so many selections. Then you will find a lot of things for the "small fry," items that you will not be able to find anyplace else. Come on in, Dad, the shopping's fine and you'll love the freedom.

We feel that it is a privilege to be able to serve the Man of the House with our "Stag Night," so here's hoping we see you Stag Night, Sunday, Dec. 18, 6 to 8 p.m.

Every woman—the beauty experts say—can be attractive. The secret? Do the most with what you have. And books at the Arlington Heights Memorial library can help.

You'll find such practical manuals as John Robert Powers' "How to Have Model Beauty, Poise and Personality," "The Harper's Baazar Beauty Book," Arlene Francis' "That Certain Something: The Magic of Charm," Vogue's "The New Beauty Book," and Lily Dache's "Glamour Book."

THESE practical handbooks of charm and beauty cover such topics as the art of make-up, how to dress, care of the hair, diet and exercise, and other beauty problems.

Becky Hackbarth entertained the ladies on Illinois dr. in her home at 218 S. Illinois dr. Wednesday evening for their monthly get-together. DAVID, THE newest addition to the Joe Conroy family of 32 N. Reuter, was baptized Sunday in Our Lady of the Wayside. Maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kiley, and godparents, James Bauers and Eileen Dohn, were there. Afterwards they all returned to the Conroy home for dinner.

Luanne, daughter of Delores and Harold Goeddeke, 28 N. Reuter, 5 December 6, shared her birthday with her grandmother, Mrs. Otto Goeddeke, Roselle, whose birthday was the same day. Her sisters, Vicky Ann and Sandra, and brothers, Ronald and Ricky, were also at grandmother's for the occasion.

A welcome is extended to Shirley and Oliver Stern and their children, Freddie, Sherrie, Dawn and Denise, who recently moved into their new home at 1704 W. Grove from 309 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights.

Jane and Joe Lennon, 120 S. Dwyer, entertained a few business couples in their home last Saturday evening.

ALICE GAARE, 18 S. Yale is recuperating at home after a recent operation in Northwest Community hospital.

The second birthday of David, son of Helen and John Bente, 210 S. Harvard ave., was celebrated with a few neighborhood friends December 2. His friends, Kristin Dye and Mary Ellen Corcoran, came for birthday cake and ice cream. Their mothers, Betty Dye and Rose Mary Corcoran, came along and enjoyed the afternoon.

Esther and Carl Fortner, 112 N. Reuter, and their children, Karen, Carl and Philip, returned Saturday from a week's visit with both parents. They visited Esther's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Kaetzel of Dale, Ind., and later went on to Rockville, Ind., to spend a few days with Carl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fortner.

New Westgate residents are Mickey and Bob Bliss and Mark, Jack and Jimmy, who recently moved into their home at 119 S. Harvard from 814 Linden, Scarsdale. Friday evening they were surprised with a house warming party given by friends from Scarsdale and Arlington Heights.

A PRE-HOLIDAY cocktail party was given by Dotty and Bob Bledsoe, 301 S. Reuter, last Saturday evening. Several friends from Park Ridge, business friends and neighbors were invited.

Bob's 84-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Pearl Acker, Dallas, came by train for a visit with the family and plans to stay until after the holidays.

Tuesday evening Dee Perry entertained her bridge club in her home at 207 S. Illinois dr. Christmas decorations were in evidence throughout the house and the girls enjoyed opening surprise gifts from the grab bag. Later in the evening they presented Beverly McCall with a gift for her expectant arrival. In diamonds...

CONSIDER THESE FIVE OF EQUAL SIZE . . .

BUT EACH OF DIFFERENT COLOUR, DIFFERENT INTERNAL QUALITY, AND DIFFERENT PRICE!

Size alone or price alone can be misleading!

Based on percentage comparisons, the five diamonds pictured here vary in actual value and price from 100% at the top, down to 44% at the bottom . . . because of differences in colour and internal quality. Yet, they are all of the exact same size!

We urge you, before you buy, to get the whole story of diamond quality in the few but fact-filled pages of our new "KNOW YOUR DIAMOND" presentation. It will not take much of your time . . . but it is bound to give you an entirely new conception of how to get THE BEST DIAMOND FOR YOUR DOLLAR!

FROM SHERWOOD

The Robert Fernstroms, 1219 Watling, will spend this Christmas in their new apartment in the Carriage Hill section of Glenview. Their house has been sold and they plan to move next week. No goodbyes are in order, as they plan to come back here often to the delight of their many friends and neighbors here who don't take kindly to their moving in the first place.

Christmas came early to the W. A. Rademachers, 1105 N. Princeton. Their eldest son, Richard, and his wife, the former Carole Finch of Arlington Heights presented them with their first grandchild November 8. Julie Ann was born in Norwegian American hospital, Chicago, and weighed 7 pounds 9 ounces.

After an extra long holiday weekend in southern Illinois, where they visited her family, the Warren Nelsons, 1105 N. Patton, are busily getting ready for the next holiday—Christmas.

RIDGE PARK

Paul Hostler has decided he likes being 4 and he also likes birthday parties, especially the one he had Sunday. Boys around at 12:30 for a luncheon in his honor were Johnny, Joey and Jimmie Lauer, Chip Kunberger, David Kubik, Raymond Witczak, Billy and Bobby Stevens, Wayne Kellar and Paul's brother, Rickey. His sister, Linda, was there too, in the role of mother's helper. Before going home the boys received balloons and toys to take with them. That wasn't the end of Paul's partying though. In the evening his Chicago grandparents came out for another party. Paul is the son of Lu and Ralph Hostler, 927 N. Kennicott.

Sunday afternoon Shirley and Phil Rosheger, 807 N. Kennicott, had their infant daughter, Penny Ann, baptized in St. James church. Miss Toni Rosheger and Dominick Muscarello were the godparents. Shirley and Phil had the godparents and their families for dinner before the baptism and afterward the rest of the family came for coffee and cake.

Being born close to Christmas doesn't bother Faye Machas, not when she can have a party like the one she had Sunday. Her cousins, aunts, uncles, godparents and her grandmother came for a buffet supper in her honor. The daughter of the Stafford Machases, 1019 N. Salem, was 4.

BECAUSE JOEY Dunne's fifth birthday fell on Thanksgiving his party was postponed until the following Saturday, when the following boys came to a luncheon at his house: Jamie and Markie Talaber, Jimmy Brown, Mark and John Griffin, David Hugg and Douglas Law. After lunch the boys were taken to a movie in Mount Prospect. Joey is the son of the Joe Dunnes, 1016 N. Illinois.

The welcome mat is out to Mr. and Mrs. Tedd Smith, who moved to 826 N. Kennicott two weeks ago from Crown Point, Ind. This is a transfer for Mr. Smith, who works for Rand-McNally. Their daughter, Heather, will be one next week.

When Bill Jr. was home from Southern Illinois university for the Thanksgiving weekend, he had good news for his parents, Eleanor and Bill Frost, 1225 W. Oakton. He was elected to the student board down there, an organization in charge of all activities during the year.

Saturday evening the J. T. Garrisons, 716 N. Kaspar, entertained her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnson of Wilmington, Del. The Johnsons have been spending a month with their daughter, Shirley's cousin, in Rolling Meadows.

Roberta Gorder might have been cheated out of Thanksgiving dinner, but she is looking forward to enjoying Christmas dinner this year. She had a tonsillectomy in Henrotin hospital, Chicago, and didn't come home until Thanksgiving evening. She returned to her eighth grade class at South junior high Monday, after recuperating at home for a week. Roberta is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gorder, 1006 N. Harvard.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hall, 159 Brown, are planning on an early Christmas celebration. His mother, Mrs. L. D. Hall of Summitt, N. J., will be with them for a week before the holidays.

JANET SCHAUER, 823 N. Salem, was going over their Christmas card list last Saturday when several of their neighbors started drifting in bringing food and all the fixings for a farewell party for Janet and Warren. His recent promotion is taking them to Cincinnati, and because so many of their friends dread seeing them leave, they planned a surprise party right at Janet and Warren's home. It is still hard for them to get away with the twins being so young. Someone had written a "this is your life" about the house at 823 N. Salem, beginning before Janet and Warren moved in and taking it right up to the time they will leave. As a going away gift, the couples presented them with a silver well and tree platter.

Terry, son of Marie and Al Kluesing, 905 N. Salem, was 9 Sunday and celebrated the occasion by inviting the following boys to a party in his honor: Claude Brocksmith, Kevin Koeneman, Craig Colgrove, Fred Halleck, Raymond and Brian Molitor, Rickey Ehlers and Billy Bergstrom. Gary Meyer and Sean Corkell were unable to come. When everyone had arrived, they all piled in the car and Al took them to the movie. Marie had a regular boy supper ready for them when the show was over.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Kroll, 918 N. Chicago, ushered in the Christmas season last Friday evening when they entertained 11 couples at a party in their home. The Christmas decorations in the basement put everyone in a gay holiday mood for an evening of fun. Barbara and Don Beswick and Lauri and Bob Hake were co-hosts and cohostesses with the Krolls.

CHRISTMAS will be celebrated at the Henry C. Rosenblatts', 1007 N. Salem, when their son, Edward, comes home on furlough this week from Keesler Air Force base in Biloxi, Miss. An airman third class, Edward has two weeks and must be back at his base by December 21. He enlisted August 4 for four years and is now taking a 40-week course in electronics at Keesler, in which he is making excellent grades. Monday was his 19th birthday and his parents had the pleasure of talking with him at the base. His sister, Diana's 17th birthday was November 21, and since this is the first time they have not been together on their birthdays, they won't celebrate until he gets home.

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Francis Richter, 1224 Northwest hwy., who is in Northwest Community hospital recovering from an operation.

Mrs. John Wakefield, 709 N. Kaspar, is home recuperating from recent surgery in Northwest Community hospital. Friends and neighbors wish her a speedy recovery. (A

Jaycees Endorse New Village Hall

A unanimous vote in support of the proposed new village hall was the center of interest of the November 30 business meeting of the Arlington Heights Jaycees at the Old Orchard country club.

Installation of new members and a community liaison appointment were other highlights. Ralph E. Clabaugh, superintendent of Arlington schools, was the featured speaker at the dinner preceding the meeting.

PERSONAL experiences in the present village hall, vividly described by Junior Chamber of Commerce member Thomas De Riemer, finance director and assistant manager of the village, took the members through a verbal tour of the existing building and to a solid expression of their support for the referendum to be voted on this Saturday.

The stimulation of interest and support for the issuance of bonds, required to finance the new village hall, was heartily endorsed by speakers for the motion of Jaycee approval.

Three new members were formally installed and welcomed into the Village Jaycee chapter, Frank L. Kams, Jerald W. Milligan and Thomas A. De Riemer. At the same time, all members were urged to invite any young men between the ages of 21 and 35 to join one of the most active Jaycee chapters in the area.

CHARLES B. Harrington, chairman of the community development project, was appointed as the chapter representative to the school board nominating committee. As chairman of this project, Harrington has been leading a study of the community and its needs in all areas since early this year.

Preceding the business meeting, Supt. Clabaugh, who has been the district's superintendent of schools since 1946, described the local school system, its history and probable future. His provocative talk prompted a further hour of questions from an enthusiastic audience, most with children of school or pre-school age.

The next regular dinner-business meeting of the Arlington Heights Junior Chamber of Commerce is to be on December 28 at the Old Orchard country club. Prospective members are invited as guests of the chapter. (A

Purse Snatcher Is Found Guilty

One of two men accused of the weekend robbery of an Arlington Heights student nurse was found guilty of petty larceny Tuesday and released on probation.

The victim of a purse snatching was 23-year-old Cyndy Tice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Tice, 626 N Douglas. Miss Tice, a 1954 graduate of Arlington high school, is a student nurse at Chicago's Wesley Memorial hospital.

She told police she was enroute Saturday night from Cook county hospital nurses residence at 1900 W. Polk st. elevated station when two men accosted her, one holding her while the other grabbed her purse containing only $2.

AS THE MEN fled, Miss Tice ran back toward the hospital to summon a policeman on duty there. Her shouts attracted a cruising squad car. Its occupants spotted the robbers running north. One was apprehended. One escaped.

The prisoner identified himself as Donald H. Figueroa, 22, of 2514 Van Buren st. He was first charged with robbery, but found guilty of a lesser charge—petty larceny—and freed.

Lt. Terence Ryan of the Marquette police station praised Miss Tice for her presence of mind in immediately shouting for police. Extra policemen have been recently assigned to the area of the west side medical center because of a series of attacks on women.

Study Village Jobs, Salaries

Village manager L. A. Hanson was authorized by Arlington Heights trustees Monday to secure the services of a Chicago firm to bring the village position and classification plan up to date.

The plan concerns village employees' duties and salaries. The revision, to be handled by Public Administration Service, will not exceed $600 in cost. (A

Augustana Lutheran

New Church Selects Cross for Its Name

The ancient process of naming a new church has been repeated in Arlington Heights with the selection of "Lutheran Church of the Cross' as the name of the new Augustana Lutheran congregation in the south part of the village.

Selection of the name followed a study of the reasons certain names have been used through the centuries, followed by extensive inquiries about names chosen by older churches in the Arlington Heights area, Rev. Bruce K. Benander, pastor of the new congregation, said.

One of the major "sources" of names is the long list of men and women who have done outstanding work in the life of the church and have been its leaders, Pastor Benander said, citing St. Peter Lutheran Church of Arlington.

This congregation, now in its centennial year and in the midst of a large-scale building program in the north part of the village, was named for the apostle.

"DURING the period our congregation was organized, many churches being started in the area chose names of apostles," Rev. Robert O. Bartz, pastor of St. Peter, pointed out. He cited St. John Church of Elk Grove and St. Peter of Schaumburg, both older than the Arlington Heights church.

Another important wellspring of church names is the terminology used in the Bible to describe man's relation to Christ. This is the area from which Faith Lutheran church, 431 S. State road, Arlington Heights, chose its name.

"Faith, of course, is one of the great principles of the Lutheran Church. When our congregation was organized, members were asked to suggest possible names. The final selection then was made from among three or four names," Pastor Edgar H. Behrens said.

SYNONYMS for the name of God or descriptions of attributes of God also are important sources of church names. Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, 1234 N. State road, Arlington Heights, is an example.

A congregational poll also was held in this case and was at least partially responsible for selection of the name.

"Purpose of the congregation was to help bring Christ to the community. The name which best specified this purpose was Our Saviour's, another name given our Lord," said Pastor John P. Petersen.

ON THE basis of Pastor Benander's study of area church names, Arlington Heights' newest church took its name from still another important source, the various incidents in the life of Christ—in this case, His cross.

"It was necessary to express by the name something of the message of the church, yet adopt a name which wouldn't be confused with another in the area and a name easily understood when heard or seen.

"Thus the name Lutheran Church of the Cross was chosen to highlight the central fact of the Christian faith, which has been given to man as the symbol of God's mercy and forgiveness," Pastor Benander said.

THE NEW congregation meets in Dryden School, 750 S. Dryden pl., with worship service at 10:45 a.m. and Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. Purchase of the future site of the church on Golf road just west of Arlington Heights road was authorized last week. The parsonage is at 1029 S. Pine ave., Arlington Heights. (AMP

Public Affairs Program Presented Toastmasters

The Arlington Heights Toastmaster club—1087, meeting in the basement of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association, heard a special public affairs presentation along with regular business and scheduled speeches November 30.

John G. Woods, chairman of the Village Hall Citizens committee, delivered an informative and thought provoking speech on the village hall referendum and the importance of voting "yes" on Saturday, Dec. 10.

CHAIRMAN Woods graphically described the deplorable, almost archaic conditions of the present village hall. He stressed that the courtroom could be described as "The showplace of the building," and encouraged members to visit other departments to witness the even more shocking conditions regarding sanitation, employee welfare, public safety and general efficiency.

The conclusion of Woods talk emphasized the long range, pay-as-you-use plan, whereby the cost of the new building will be shared by all people residing in the village during the next 20 years.

The issuance of bonds will increase taxes an average of only a little over $2 per year per dwelling, "the cost of a few packs of cigarettes," Woods said.

THE FIVE regularly scheduled speeches completed the major speaking part of the program with Werner Baule, Frank Callaghan, Dale Galloway, Roy Jernberg, and Ray Mel presenting informative topics.

Roy Jernberg, giving his "hands up" speech, took first prize, and was awarded the traveling trophy and miniature cup for his talk entitled, "Death of the Pill Box."

Jack White and Bob Stein won first place in the judging of the best "impromptu" speaking effort at the evening's Table Topics session conducted by Table Topics master Warren Lattof.

THE FOUR LITTLE KITTENS who lost their "mommy" and then began to cry—are once again well fed and secure. Their mother, who was lost for four days, was the object of a village-wide search last week. The search ended when the pedigreed, white Persian cat was found by a Scarsdale family, less than a mile from home. The anxiety and tension over, her mistress left almost immediately for her postponed engagement with Mr. Stork. (A

Fluffy Found! Feline Wins Race With Stork

Fluffy is home again and all's well in the E. C. Lockwood home.

Three weeks ago, shortly after the Lockwoods moved from Prospect Heights to their new home at 201 W. Orchard, Arlington Heights, Fluffy a pedigreed white Persian cat, gave birth to four kittens. One night last week Fluffy stepped outside and apparently became confused by the still unfamiliar landmarks.

She searched vainly for her home for four days. Meanwhile her little family was being fed by doll bottles and cleaned by Fluffy's owners. The community was alerted through signs, the schools, police, veterinarians, a Paddock ad and a feature story and picture in last week's edition.

DOZENS OF calls came into the Lockwood home. All had seen Fluffy - from Arlington Heights to Mt. Prospect to Prospect Heights. And Mrs. Lockwood, who had delayed an overdue date with the stork just to find Fluffy, tracked down each lead, driving through the neighborhoods questioning everyone she saw and calling for Fluffy.

But the phone call from Mrs. Robert T. Casey in nearby Scarsdale was the one that brought joy back to the Lockwood home. Mrs. Casey had just found Fluffy in her back yard and was bringing her home!

SCRATCHED AND dirty from her searching, Fluffy had a huge reception committee awaiting her return, including the six Lockwood children, various playmates and of course, the four little kittens.

But happiest of all was Mrs. Lockwood, who after bathing Fluffy, dressing her wounds and seeing that the kittens were once again secure with their own mother, left the following day to keep her date with the stork.

A 9 pound 3 ounce son, Jeffrey Allan, is the newest addition to the Lockwood household. (A

VIRGINIA TERRACE

A birthday luncheon party for Dorothy Ballard, 1241 N. Race, was held December 1 in the home of Isabel Nottoli, 1227 N. Race. Toasting the celebrant in proper fashion were Pauline Noerenberg, Maisie Sikorske and Marga Wilmot. After lunch, and following the presentation of a gift, they settled down for an afternoon of card playing.

Lori, daughter of Helen and Jack Martin, 1337 N. Chicago, four November 30, celebrated her birthday with her playmates last Saturday afternoon. Wishing her many happy returns were her brother, Doug, sister, Beth, Guy Eisenhuth, Robin and Kevin Corley, Johnny Formhals, Ricky Kirstein, Marty Singer, Jimmy Charleston, Debbie Bang, Carolyn Slaughter and former Terrace friends, Danny and Mary Ann Healy. Birthday treats were sent home to Ricky's sister, Donna, who was recovering from the mumps.

Tam O'Shanter country club was the scene last Saturday night of much gaiety, as Pauline and John Noerenberg, Marilou and Ray Crouch, Pat and Terry McGuire, Pat and El Lechelt, Pat and Don Kieffer, along with Rita and Norm Wall, Arlington Heights, and Marily and Blaine Crouch, Barrington, dined and danced at the Christmas affair sponsored by the Arlington Heights Junior Women's club.

EILEEN Brown, 1504 W. Oakton, and her co-hostess, Mary Louise Burkhardt, entertained friends of Dorothy Henneman at an evening kaffee klatsch Tuesday. Wishing her luck and happiness in her new home were 17 friends from this area and Park Ridge.

Among those invited to share in the sixth birthday celebration of Roxanne, daughter of Elaine and Bill Petrucci, 1115 N. Wilke, were her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Ellison, Chicago, brother, Kenny, Kathy Narup, Kim Vogtritter, Gail McAllister, Barbara Sadowski, Loni Larson, Dawn Dolejs, and Robin Mells, Mt. Prospect.

It was a triple celebration for Donna, daughter of Harriette and Frank Moore, 1401 N. Illinois, 3 December 4. It started at a luncheon party Saturday afternoon for her playmates, among whom were her brother, Allen, Eric, Wendy and Cheryl Bloom and Poodie Speer. Center of attraction amidst the "Little Girl" theme was the Maypole cake, decorated with miniature dolls. That evening the Moores, along with Donna's maternal grandmother, Mrs. L. A. Armstrong, treated her to dinner out. Sunday, Mrs. Frank Moore, Park Ridge, Donna's paternal grandmother, was present at a family dinner party at home.

Sandy Mullins, 1415 N. Illinois, was guest of honor at a birthday luncheon Monday afternoon in the home of Jeannette Gaffney, 1405 N. Illinois. Wishing her well in the years to come were Bunny Reinhardt, Olive Balow and Betty Badali, who also presented Sandy with a gift.

BECAUSE Scott, son of Lois and Gil Martin, 1417 N. Chicago, who was 6 November 30, was recovering from the mumps, a quiet celebration was in order over the weekend; with his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lamont, Chicago, dropping in Saturday to wish him many happy returns, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Frank Martin, Chicago, on hand Sunday, along with his brother, Gary, and sisters Beth and Barbara, at a family dinner party.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Johnson, Waukegan, visited their son and his family, the George Maybees, 1251 N. Wilke, Saturday for the dual purpose of wishing their granddaughter, Kathleen, a happy third birthday and baby sitting while Mary and George attended the Christmas dinner dance Saturday night at the Orphei Singing club, Chicago, for members of the Chicago and North Western Railway's "400" club. Although the Johnsons had to return home Sunday, the Maybees, including Kathleen's sister, Debra, and brothers, Michael and Timothy, celebrated her birthday at a family dinner party.

Due to illness in the family it was a quiet celebration for Carol Jean, daughter of Ruth and Dick Randle, 1448 N. Yale, as she marked her third birthday December 4.

ALTHOUGH Cathy, daughter of Vivian and Robert Weber, 1508 Oakton, wasn't 3 until Wednesday, her festivities began Sunday, when her parents and brother, Mark toured Santa's Village, after which they returned home for a family dinner party attended by her older brothers, Bob and Bruce, paternal grandmother, Mrs. Rose Weber, and aunt, Miss June Weber, both of Chicago.

Tuesday evening her godfather, John Torretto and his family, Arlington Heights, stopped in to wish her a happy birthday and share in the birthday cake and ice cream. Wednesday special guests at a luncheon party were her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Yvonne McAvoy, Chicago, and playmate, Peggy Brown.

Friends and neighbors of Dorothy and Bill Henneman, 1200 N. Chicago, and their children, Michael, Mary Kay, Patricia, Diane, Christine and Eileen Mary, are glad that their move over the weekend will take them only to a new home at 1001 N. Pine Arlington Heights.

December 5 marked the natal day of "Chip", son of Carolyn and William Schrader, 1342 N. Race. Assisting him in blowing out the candle on his birthday cake this year at a family dinner party was his sister, Lisa.

JEAN, daughter of Jean and Bill Guderley, 1228 N. Yale, was guest of honor at a dinner party Saturday night, and although good friends Lynn Matthews and Judy Whipple were unable to be present, Marcia Cech, Ann Schmitt, Judy Walsh and Jeri Lorenz shared in the festivities marking her 15th birthday, as did Jean's sister, Gail. Later the girls went on to attend their high school's basketball games.

Terrace resident Mary Ann Geer, 1515 Clarendon, was among the hundreds belonging to the Community Choir group, which presented Handel's "Messiah" Sunday evening at Arlington high school.

Another active Terrace resident is Pauline Noerenberg, 1235 N. Race, who was recently chosen to be chairman of coming fashion show presented by the Women's Auxiliary of the Northwest Community hospital.

Margaret and John Noon, 1221 N. Chicago, and their children, John Patrick, Jamie, Jonathan and Margaret, recently enjoyed a week's visit from Margaret's brother, Dennis O'Connell, New York, who was enroute home after being discharged from the army at Ft. Sheridan. Most enjoyable was his becoming acquainted with his 4-month-old niece, whom he had never seen.

Present at a birthday celebration the afternoon of November 30, held in honor of Briggs, son of Joan and Warren Blackburn, 1326 N. Race, who was 10, were his sisters Alison and Kris, aunt, Mrs. Donald Anderson, Palatine, and cousins, Dale, Keith and Robin.

EVELYN and Al Schmitt, 1321 N. Illinois, recently got together with five other couples, all of whom have been friends for some 20 years, at the Wagon Wheel, Rockton, and needless to say, reports Evelyn, a wonderful time was had by all, as they relived old times, ice skated, bowled, swam, dined and danced. Sunday, before heading for home, the Schmitts and several of the others, made a side trip to view Beloit college campus.

Entering his teen years November 29 was John, son of Eleanore and John Blomquist, 1248 N. Illinois, and present the previous Sunday at a celebration of same were his sister, Elaine, brother, Bobby, aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Von Oepen, and cousin, Sharon, Des Plaines, and cousin, Mrs. Daniel Carr, and her daughter, Cathy.

Musical Program For WSCS Yule Tea

Later in the week a dinner party was held with his aunt, Mrs. John Spalding, cousins, John, whose birthday was also honored, and Patricia, Chicago, and aunt, Miss Thyra Blomquist, present.

Mary Ann and John Geer were guests Monday evening of John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Geer, Western Springs, as were John's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Kennedy, Hinsdale. After enjoying dinner out, the couples went on to see a showing of "Ben-Hur."

Birthday club member Mary Kale, 1322 N. Illinois, was the celebrant last Friday night at a party held in the home of Evelyn Schmitt. Toasting her into a new year were Adelaide Fairfield, LaRue Reed, Charlene Bang, Jo Lampasona, Barbara Montgomery, Doris Koser, Helen Marineau, Barbara Bade and Shirlee Pircher. They played games, caught up on the latest news, had dessert and coffee and presented Mary with a birthday remembrance. (A

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. When one is served a cup of coffee that is filled to the brim, is it all right to bend over the cup and take a few sips so as to avoid any danger of spilling when lifting the cup?

A. Certainly not! Take a sufficient number of spoonfuls of coffee and sip these, until you are sure you can lift the cup safely.

Q. Is it really considered proper for a woman to use scented stationery, and if so, how may she best produce this scent?

A. This is in quite good taste, and the best way to do it is to put a sachet bag in the drawer or box in which the stationery is kept.

Q. When visitors arrive unexpectedly while a family is having its meal, what should the hostess do?

A. If merely acquaintances, you can ask them to wait for a few minutes in the living room. If good friends, it is nice to invite them to sit at the table with you and have a cup of coffee while you finish your meal.

Pine Tree Farm Enterprise

Family Yule Tree Project Becomes Profitable Business

A Fox River Grove family has regretted the disappearance of a family Christmas tradition—that of a trip into the woods to cut their Christmas tree.

Mr. and Mrs. Mandel Elman have had a "gentleman" farm five miles north of Barrington on E. Indian Trail rd. The couple and their son, William, have been "roughing" it on the 110 acre farm during their spare hours at all times of the year. They are now building their family home there.

WILLIAM IS now grown up, and he and his father are attorneys in Chicago. The family, however, still enjoys the pleasures of Pine Tree Farm they knew when William was a child.

PERKY, THE Elman's pet Collie supervises Mrs. Elman as she cuts one of the 40,000 Christmas trees on Pine Tree Farm. Families are invited to select and cut their own Christmas trees at the farm located five miles north of Barrington on E. Indian Trail rd. (B8

MRS. MANDEL Elman examines an inside-out doll and other gifts sold in the Christmas Cabin at Pine Tree Farm. Mrs. Elman and Mrs. George Lodge are proprietors of the gift shop. (B8

In the summer there has been camping, fishing and swimming. In the winter the family and their friends have enjoyed bobsledding and tramping through the woods to enjoy the winter nature.

One of their favorite times of the year is Christmas when the three of them comb their farm for just the right Christmas tree to cut and take to their home in Fox River Grove.

THE ELMANS got to thinking one day, about 15 years ago as they were enjoying their "Yule tree" excursion. They thought how nice it would be if all families could share in this particular Christmas pleasure. They felt sorry that many children would grow up without ever having had the fun and excitement of a Christmas tree cutting excursion.

They decided to plant thousands of Christmas trees on their farm. They dreamed that someday it would be possible for families to share in the fun of selecting and cutting their Christmas tree.

About three years ago, many of the trees were of a suitable range of sizes for the Elmans to offer them to the public, at prices which would fit every pocketbook.

This year, again, families are invited to visit Pine Tree Farm, to look over the 40,000 Scotch Pine, Red Pine and White Pine trees and select the one they feel is "just right" for their home. If they want to cut the tree themselves, they can borrow an ax and do so. If they want to select the tree and have it cut for them, they can also have that done.

Part of the traditional tree cutting fun, of course, includes tramping through the fields, or riding a horse drawn sleigh and enjoying a big warm fire and refreshments.

THE ELMANS, weather permitting, offer these added attractions during week-ends in the Christmas season.

They have a large wagon and a sleigh. They take the families for sleigh rides when there is snow and for hay rides at other times.

Just outside a "Christmas Cabin" where special Christmas gifts are sold, is a huge open fireplace. During week-ends a roaring fire, hot chocolate and stories entertain the customers.

If families happen to hit a time when Mrs. Elman's brother, Richard Perkins, of Skokie, is there, they are entertained with his stories and folk songs.

A family Christmas tree cutting excursion to Pine Tree Farm is sure to bring a bit of old fashioned Christmas pleasure to families who might not otherwise be able to know the joys of bygone Christmases. (B-8)

CTA Pushes Plan For Suburb Yard

The Chicago Transit Authority is pushing forward plans to locate a rapid transit terminal yard south of Park Ridge for the Northwest expressway route.

It has filed in Superior court a petition to purchase by condemnation a 25-acre tract of land lying south of Higgins road between East River (Dee) road and Cumberland avenue.

Location of the terminal at this site is opposed by members of the Cumberland Woods association.

THE SITE, on the north side of the expressway, consists of three parcels. Owners of the land, named defendants in the condemnation suit, are Alexander Roskie, Higgins-Cumberland Development corporation, and Drake North, Inc.

The latter corporation at one time intended to construct a hotel-motel on its property.

The CTA has plans to establish a parking lot and train-bus yard for a programmed, but not yet financed, rapid transit line in the median strip of the expressway. The proposed park-and-ride lot would have space for 3,000 to 4,000 cars.

THE SITE on the south side of Higgins is the third selected by the CTA board. It dropped the first two selections rather than fight property owners who didn't want to give up their homes for a terminal and storage yard.

The first was in the area of Foster and Central in the Jefferson Park community of Chicago. The second was south of Higgins and Canfield, near Park Ridge.

Present...with a future
You give more than money when you give a savings account in an Insured Savings and Loan Association. You give someone a head start on the savings habit . . . on getting many other worthwhile things in the future. And, as over seventeen million Americans know, saving in an Insured Savings and Loan Association means important advantages. Excellent returns from your money is one advantage. Efficient, forward-looking service from men who know how to make your dollars work harder for you is another.
And, of course, your money is safe because in Insured Associations your savings are protected by sound management and substantial reserves. They are insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation—an agency of the U.S. Government. These are the reasons why Americans are putting more of their savings account dollars into Insured Savings and Loan Associations than anywhere else! And, with over $38 billion of assets, these Insured Associations are a great force in encouraging thrift and home ownership.
You can invest in the future with as little as $1 to $5. Plan now to give someone in your family (or yourself) this "present with a future." Why not start with a part of your Christmas bonus . . . watch it grow . . . more quickly than you'd think.

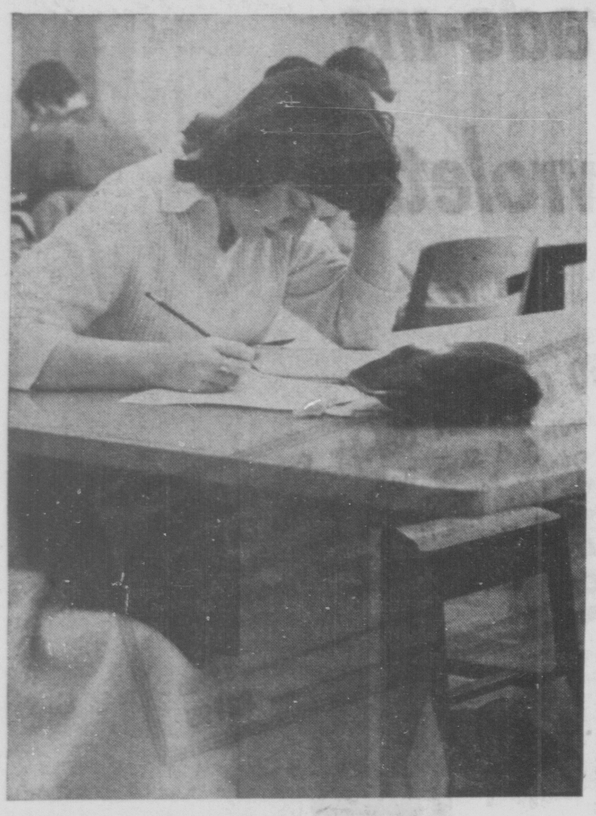
ATTENTION RIVETED TO their test papers, part of the group of 258 students who took the college board scholastic aptitude test Saturday concentrate on the answers. The students are from a large area including high schools in Lake county, as well as other schools in the Northwest suburban area. Arlington high school is one of the many college board test centers established throughout the United States by the college entrance examination board. The test scores are used by about 500 colleges as a part of entrance requirements. (B8

Suburban Students Take College Entrance Exams



"IS IT A, C OR E?" seems to be the problem for Betty Buck during the college boards scholastic aptitude test Saturday at Arlington high school. Students from the Northwest suburban area took the test at the test center established by the college entrance examination board. Th multiple-choice questions are not designed to show achievement but the student's ability to study and their aptitude for academic work. (B8

College Board examinations, the first step toward acceptance by almost 500 colleges, were taken by 330 students Saturday at the special testing center established at Arlington high school.

The students came from the entire northwest suburban area.

More than 250 students participated in the three-hour "morning section" scholastic aptitude test. Another group undertook the three-hour "afternoon section" academic achievement test.

The tests are prepared by the College Entrance Examination Board, Princeton, N.J. Results of the individual student's test are sent to three colleges of the student's choice as well as to the high school.

THESE TEST scores are used by about 500 colleges which are members of the Association of College Admission Counselors. In addition other colleges and universities use the test scores as a basis for college entrance acceptance.

The test center at Arlington high school is one of the few in the Chicago area which gives the scholastic aptitude test five times during the school year — in December, January, February, March and May. The Arlington test center is supervised by David Whiteside, Arlington high school counselor.

Proctors for the test are other counselors of the Prospect and Arlington high schools.

During the five yearly test dates an average of more than one thousand students take the scholastic aptitude test. About 400 to 500 students undertake the achievement test according to Whiteside. Whiteside stressed more students are taking the test every year. The tests are conducted at the expense of the students. Charges are $4 for the aptitude test and $6 for the achievement test.

A FEW typical questions are listed below so readers may test their skill along with the college-bound junior and senior high school students. The answers are given at the bottom—but readers are reminded the students do not have such "easy cheating" available to them.

LUTHERANS BELIEVE...

In the God who expresses Himself in three persons . . . and that doesn't mean three gods!

First. God expresses Himself in creation. In the budding rose one sees the hand of a creator. In the majestic sunset one sees the glories of a creator.

Second. God expresses Himself in the person of Jesus Christ. In Jesus Christ one sees God loving, feeding, forgiving, healing.

Third. God expresses Himself in the lives of Christians as He gives them guidance and strength for their daily lives.

In each case, it's the same God—but He expresses Himself in three different ways.

Perhaps an example will help at this point . . .

H2O is the formula for water . . . for ice . . . and for steam. The same substance expresses itself in three different ways.

So, God—whose substance does not change—expresses Himself in three different ways. It does not mean three gods.

One God . . . one substance . . . but three expressions of His being.

Lutherans believe God cannot be disected and explained —only worshipped and praised.

Prospect Math Faculty Plans Dynamic Program

SEATED IN A SEMI-CIRCLE around Prospect high school mathematics teacher Millard Yount, students in an experimental mathematics class concentrate on one of their problems. The experimental classroom arranged in an intimate semicircle seating pattern, has raised grades of 75 per cent of the students enrolled.

A dynamic two year program for the teaching of Mathematics has been outlined by the mathematics department of Prospect high school. Based upon the modern algebra techniques, the emphasis is upon the proving of mathematical problems rather than upon the memorization of rules.

Sets, number lines, identity element, closure, additive and multiplicative inverses, and numerical phrases are by-words in this new math program. Although these terms may puzzle others, most students have been using them since eighth grade.

"If I had to explain the new mathematics program in one sentence," said Edward Spacapan, head of the mathematics Department, "I would say the stress is on the 'why' more than on the 'how,' but both questions are very important."

AN EXPERIMENT to encourage social and critical thinking in the mathematics classroom has been undertaken by two instructors, Millard Yount and John McGaughey. To achieve greater student participation in class, seats are arranged in semicircles, no more than three rows in depth.

This new approach is being used in both algebra and geometry. Started last year in the McGaughey's classes, the idea has now been expanded. Small discussion groups are often formed around a leader or captain.

When Doris Maloney, one of the pupils in Yount's class, was asked about her reaction, she stated that the seating arrangement had two major advantages:

"First, those sitting in the back rows do not have several pupils sitting in front of them obstructing their view," Doris explained. "I know that I am not distracted now as I was before. Everyone is on his best behavior; no matter where one sits, it's like sitting on the front row."

THE SUCCESS of the seating experiment has been reflected in the grades of the pupils. Some 75 per cent of those enrolled in a freshmen class earned better grades after they had made the change in the seating. When the seats were placed in the regular rows again, 50 per cent of those who had improved slipped to a lower level of achievement and thus to lower grades.

For those who like mathematics well enough to spend time on it after school, the department sponsors a Mathematics Club. Members of the club work as a group to solve problems and enjoy lectures, movies, and other activities together. (ACM

Language Clubs Plan Christmas Parties Series

Christmas as celebrated in foreign lands will be the inspiration for a series of parties sponsored by the foreign language clubs of Prospect high school just before Christmas vacation.

At the Spanish club festivity December 19, guests will celebrate the old custom of breaking the pinata, a gaily colored papier mache ball filled with candy. The singing of Christmas carols in Spanish will conclude the program.

CELEBRATING the Saturnalia (as the people of ancient Rome called this special season of the year) will be the Latin club. The program will include a skit or play, and gingerbread men, typical of food eaten by the Romans at the December feasts, will be served as refreshments.

Serving on the committee in charge of the Latin club party will be Pat Kist, Elizabeth Gross, Mike Thompson, Judy Junkunc, and Lois Sohn.

"Les Berets Noirs," the French Club, will celebrate Christmas December 19 with an after-school party in the cafeteria. Because of the full schedule planned, the affair will last longer than the usual eighth period.

The program will begin with a talk by Sponsor Robert Roussey on Christmas in France through the ages and today. Those attending will then converse in French and sing French Christmas carols. The refreshments will consist of traditional French pastry in the form of a Yule log served with tea or hot chocolate.

THE GERMAN club, will have a pot-luck supper consisting of hot dishes and salads contributed by various members. Highlighting the affair will be a talk about Christmas in Germany by Mrs. Erika Neumann, a native German.

Games played in Germany and certain German delicacies will be part of the festivities. These will include Marzipan candy made with almond paste; Katzenzungen, chocolate in fancy shapes of cats' tongue; Stollen coffee cake; Spekulatius; and Pfeffernuesse cookies. (ACM

Cornerstone Laying Set

Cornerstone-laying service for Grace Lutheran church, Des Plaines, will begin at 3 p.m. at West Park fieldhouse, December 11.

After the service, coffee will be served by the Luther League. All interested persons will drive to the church location at Euclid and Wolf to view the setting of the stone for the 125 member church.

Rev. Constant R. Johnson of Evanston, president of the Northern Chicago district of the central conference of the Augustana Lutheran church, will officiate.

Pastor Irwin Wendt of Trinity Lutheran, Des Plaines and president of the Des Plaines ministerial association will also attend.

ENCLOSED in the cornerstone, designed by Charles W. Johnson, will be snapshots of members of the congregation, clippings of newspaper articles about the church, a picture of the first confirmation class, a copy of the Grace Lutheran newsletter, a list of officers, and a copy of the Synodical Minutes of 1960. Edward Edstrom will assist in setting the stone.

On December 18 Grace Lutheran church will mark its first anniversary of organization. (ACM

South America Is Next Series Stop

A native Cuban will present "South America Coast to Coast" Tuesday, Dec. 13, as part of high school district 214's adult education program's Travel and adventure series.

Aubert Lavastida, an experienced traveler and photographer will show films of what he terms "the first surface crossing of the forbidding continent."

Accompanied by his wife, Lavastida traveled from Buenaventura, Colombia, in the Andes foothills to Georgetown, British Guiana. Highlights of the colored filming of the trip include the cities of Cali, legendary city dominating the lush Cauca River valley; Puerto Paez, Venezuela, "where bulls fight and live," and Ciudid Bolivar, city of sacred stones.

IN CONNECTION with the series, the night school director, Tom Shirley, has announced a special Christmas gift offer which would allow residents to purchase season tickets for the remaining six lectures at a special price of $2.

Purchasers should call or write Arlington high school. All orders are "seasonly" packaged and mailed to the address indicated.

Remaining film-lectures in the series are "Indonesia," January 10; "Switzerland," February 7; "Hungary," February 28; "Czechoslovakia," March 14; "Splendors of Persia," April 4; and "The Mighty Mississippi," April 18. (ACM

Ask Attendance At Zone Meets

Trustee Eugene Schlickman Monday suggested the Arlington Heights village board direct a letter to the president of the zoning board of appeals expressing trustees' concern over absenteeism at zoning board meetings.

Schlickman noted that it is possible for the absence of zoning board members at meetings to result in the failure of official action to be taken. He called what he termed "absenteeism" to the village board's attention at Monday's regular meeting.

Three of the seven members of the village board were not present at the meeting. (A

Liquor License Change Denied

A trustee's negative vote Monday prevented the Arlington Heights village board from granting Cooper's restaurant and lounge, 902 E. Northwest hwy., a class A liquor license.

Voting "no" on an ordinance designed to elevate the restaurant-lounge from class B was Trustee Eugene Schlickman. The vote was 3-1 in favor of the ordinance, but the proposal failed to carry because four affirmative votes were needed. (A

PTA TO REORGANIZE

For many years Arlington Heights Parent - Teacher association operated as a combined unit, holding only general meetings, and with one set of officers and committee chairmen for all school buildings.

During the 1953-54 school year the unit reorganized and has operated since on a village plan; that is, having one set of officers, but holding meetings in each school building except for two general meetings each year. The overall direction of the organization has continued to remain with the one executive board for the whole system.

Each school has a chairman and the chairman and the principal represent the school on the board. Each school has a school committee, with representatives serving on each of the executive committees.

UPON recommendation from the planning committee, the executive board voted at its regular November meeting that the Arlington Heights PTA should reorganize into separate units within each school, with a charter and elected officers.

At the regular November PTA meetings the eight schools voted to concur with the executive board in their opinion that each school should have its own PTA chapter. School chairmen have appointed committees to present proposed by-laws at the January meeting.

IT WAS ALSO proposed that a council, represented by each school unit, should be formed for the purpose of cooperation and coordination between the units.

The present organization will remain intact, including all programs, projects and ways and means events, until the end of the school year.

SOUTH JUNIOR HIGH

Dr. Gerard W. Weber, local physician and psychiatrist, spoke to the parents attending the South Junior high meeting last Tuesday evening about the sociological trends affecting our lives. Dr. Weber pointed out the value of developing a variety of interest to achieve a full life, thereby leaving no time for anxieties.

Television watching generally becomes a lazy spoonfed interest, rather than a stimulating one. Many parents were happy to hear him favor a firm and consistent hand in dealing with children. (A

Village, Builder Reach Agreement

After nearly two years of negotiations, the village of Arlington Heights and subdivider Don E. Traver came to agreement Monday on details of the 47-lot Traver subdivision.

The subdivision, situated between Kensington rd. and Miner st. near Stratford, was first called to the attention of the village plan commission in February, 1959. The commission disapproved the plat of subdivision.

AT MONDAY'S village board meeting, however, trustees accepted the recommendation of the plan commission to approve the plat, certain variation, and money in lieu of land contribution.

At the request of realtor Ed Smith, who represented the subdivider, the plan was accepted as final rather than preliminary, providing the plan commission approves.

HOLDING UP agreement on the project were problems of lot size and shape. Variations approved Monday involved lot size and street alignment and width. Accepted in lieu of land contribution was $5,000.

In recommending trustees' approval of the subdivision plat, the plan commission noted it was an "extremely difficult subdivision job" and that it "meets the basic requirements" of Evert, Kincaid and Associates, planning consultants. (A

This is Busiest Time of the Year - Except Socially

Between the social oases of Thanksgiving and Christmas there is a desertlike spot every year about this time. It's too soon for holiday parties, there's no time for vacationing and out-of-town visitors are back home beating their own personal deadlines to Christmas. It's the busiest time of the year. Except socially.

Late reports of Thanksgiving trips include a few concerning the hunt. Among local seekers after a venison steak were the Leon Websters, 5 W. Olive, who recently returned from an annual Michigan trip that combines a Thanksgiving family reunion and a few days of deer hunting. Mr. Webster and his family enjoyed a holiday-week visit with his parents in Hastings, and got lots of fresh air and exercise. But no deer.

The Dale Huser family, 101 N. Forrest, also annually combine a Thanksgiving visit with hunting forays. They are home again after a holiday stay with Mrs. Hauser's parents, the C. E. Plotners in Gowrie, Iowa where the pheasant population is high. After several trips into the fields the host and his son-in-law reduced it somewhat, but not drastically.

MR. AND MRS. James McNamara, Kevin and Tom returned home to 722 S. Mitchell a week ago today after an 8-day Thanksgiving vacation in California. The boys were much impressed with the train ride through the mountains and with the visit to Disneyland, and their parents admit to being impressionable too.

They had short, busy stays in San Francisco, Los Angeles and that fantastic portion of west coast real estate that is Mr. Disney's.

Christopher Carstens was 5 years old Saturday and celebrated a day early with 10 neighborhood children at a morning party in his home, 1014 N. Evergreen. Games and the happy hubbub that surrounds 5-year-olds occupied the pre-noon time; then a festive luncheon with candle-blowing out and birthday song singing concluded the gay soiree.

EX-ARLINGTON Heighter Joseph Post, now of Little Rock, Ark., was welcomed "home" Tuesday evening at a reunion with former neighbors in the Donald Bunton home, 317 Windsor. The Post family moved from that neighborly neighborhood early this year and the recent news that Mr. Post would be in the Chicago area on business caused immediate party plans Addzen couples were guests in the Bunton home and although the evening was all that a friendship-session should be, it was much too short. Post overnighted with the Buntons, then was off again next day on another lap of his business tour.

Four local couples Saturday enjoyed an evening of relaxation to fortify them for the annual pre-Christmas race against time. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Guilfoil, 801 S. Chestnut, were hosts at a dinner party and with their guests, the Henry Wists, Frank Sterlings and Robert Coys, forgot for awhile the coming holiday rush.

Ten neighborhood women met and welcomed two newcomers at a "coffee and" last Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. William Ross, 1136 N. Dunton. Co-guests of honor were Mrs. Arthur Burmeister, 1134 N. Dunton, and Mrs. Clayton Sivertsen, 1130 N. Dunton, whose new households were settled just in time for Thanksgiving.

The Burmeisters have lived in this area for several years and moved here from Prospect Heights. The Sivertsens' most recent residence was in Rolling Meadows and although there have been about a dozen more, "home" to both Mr. and Mrs. Sivertsen is Wyoming.

Eastwood Events

From Wednesday through Sunday over the Thanksgiving holiday, the Kenneth Anderson family of N. Beverley ave. vacationed with Mrs. Anderson's sister, Miss Inez Riley in East Lansing, Mich. The long weekend gave them the opportunity to travel to Grand Rapids and to Battle Creek, where the Anderson children saw how their breakfast cereal was made at the Kellogg and Post factories.

Since its organization, Mrs. Norman Hoym has been an active member of the Arlington Heights Elks auxiliary and has served on many committees. For the year 1961 she has been chosen as the club's president, and will be installed into this office at ceremonies on December 15 when the group will hold a luncheon and card party at the Evergreen supper club.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mutti were chosen godparents for Leslie Anne Pankau of Mt. Prospect. The baby was baptized recently in St. Raymond's church, and after the ceremony the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Pankau, celebrated the occasion with a dinner for 20 persons in their home.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT Luker entertained at Eastwood bridge Saturday night, Delores and Homer Neilson substituted for Dick and Marcia Koczacawiez. Other guests were the Bob Luedekings and the Kenneth Andersons.

Each year the Fathers club of Notre Dame high school arranges a social and dance. On the accommodation committee for this year's affair, held in the school gym in November, was Mr. I. Pakyz, 727 N. Hickory, whose son, Larry, is a senior. At a recent sports banquet at Notre Dame, both Larry and Bob Williams, also of 727 N. Hickory, received their varsity letters for football. Larry also received the Best Offensive Lineman award and was picked for the North Shore All-star team at tackle.

Miraculously no pedestrians or neighborhood children were injured in the tragic accident at the corner of Dryden and St. James Saturday morning. A large maple tree and three elms were knocked down on the Norman Dennis property where the accident took place. Mr. Dennis, who was talking with a friend in his home at the time, reports that the crash sounded like an earthquake. (A

Doctor Honored By Memorial

An American horse chestnut tree has been planted at the entrance to the Northwest Community hospital in memory of the late Dr. Wayland E. Campbell of Palatine. Over 100 of Dr. Campbell's former patients contributed to the project.

In addition to a plaque on the tree, giving its species, there will be a bronze plaque mounted on a stone in front of the tree commemorating it in the doctor's honor.

Before his death last fall, Dr. Campbell practiced as a pediatrician in the area for several years.

The tree was planted by the Charles Klehm and Son nursery. (A

Village Officials Support Bus Plea

Officials of Arlington Heights and Elk Grove Village Friday supported United Motor Coach company plans to provide the first bus service between the two villages.

They testified at an Illinois Commerce commission hearing in Chicago. Harold Poslusny, ICC hearing officer and bus transportation expert, is expected to recommend issuance of a franchise to United for the route.

THE BUS route would be in Arlington Heights rd., from Rockwell st. in Arlington Heights to Higgins rd. in northwest Elk Grove. The adult fare would be 25 cents.

Officials at Friday's hearing were Elk Grov Village president Charles Hodlmair, Arlington Heights village manager Leonard Hanson, and Paul Collins, president of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce.

Besides commuters and shoppers, the route would serve the Forest View grade school, located between the two villages, and also the Forest View high school, under construction next to the elementary school.

It also would serve the United Airlines new office administration building under construction at Arlington Heights and Algonquin rds.

ALSO, the route would be only a short distance from the Northwest Community Hospital, Poslusny was told.

The witnesses pointed out that Arlington Heights has several banking and financial institutions which Elk Grove lacks, also that Arlington Heights has larger retail stores with a greater variety of merchandise. (A

Bridge Game For Charity

Research in schizophrenia, most serious mental problem, will benefit from the proceeds of a special duplicate bridge game on Friday, Dec. 16 at 8 p.m. played by the Arlington Heights Bridge club at 500 Fernandez, Arlington Heights.

Local bridge players are joining in nationwide support for the "research fund" of the National Association for Mental Health which has been designated as 1960-61 recipient of funds raised in the American Contract Bridge league annual charity drive.

Each year, a different charity is selected, and members of bridge clubs try for coveted master points in duplicate bridge, testing their skill in the game rather than their luck in receiving good cards.

Chicago bridge clubs have received the award for the largest contribution to the charity drive for each of the past two years and are aiming at a third successive honor. (A

Approve New Zoning of Lanes' Site

Arlington Heights trustees concurred with the village plan commission Monday in granting a change in zoning as requested by Alfred Sander, representing Beverly Lanes, Inc., 8 S. Beverly ln.

Sander earlier petitioned the plan commission for rezoning of the bowling lane property, located just west of Arlington Market shopping center, from M-1 to B-2. The commission approved the change.

In recommending similar approval by the village board, commission chairman Harold E. Carlson noted the property is being used as a B-2 classification and is contiguous to other B-2 property.

Trustees voted 4-0 to direct the village attorney to prepare an ordinance allowing the rezoning. (A

Christmas Party Tonight at Wayside

An atmosphere of holiday gaiety will invade the parish hall of Our Lady of the Wayside Church tonight, Dec. 8, at 8:30 when the Catholic Woman's club holds its annual Christmas get-together. Twelve, gaily decorated yuletide tables have been set up to entice the women to pause and watch the evening's program emceed by Mrs. Francis O'Connell and Mrs. Mitchell Fleiszar.

Under their supervision an evening of creative cookery for the holidays will be presented complete with demonstrations and explanations. These items will be available as gifts later in the evening.

Refreshments for the meeting will feature a "Christmas in Many Lands" theme since home made cookies from various countries will be served.

OTHER ITEMS of interest that will occur this evening revolve around various committees. Augustana Lutheran

New Church Selects Cross for Its Name

The ancient process of naming a new church has been repeated in Arlington Heights with the selection of "Lutheran Church of the Cross' as the name of the new Augustana Lutheran congregation in the south part of the village.

Selection of the name followed a study of the reasons certain names have been used through the centuries, followed by extensive inquiries about names chosen by older churches in the Arlington Heights area, Rev. Bruce K. Benander, pastor of the new congregation, said.

One of the major "sources" of names is the long list of men and women who have done outstanding work in the life of the church and have been its leaders, Pastor Benander said, citing St. Peter Lutheran Church of Arlington.

This congregation, now in its centennial year and in the midst of a large-scale building program in the north part of the village, was named for the apostle.

"DURING the period our congregation was organized, many churches being started in the area chose names of apostles," Rev. Robert O. Bartz, pastor of St. Peter, pointed out. He cited St. John Church of Elk Grove and St. Peter of Schaumburg, both older than the Arlington Heights church.

Another important wellspring of church names is the terminology used in the Bible to describe man's relation to Christ. This is the area from which Faith Lutheran church, 431 S. State road, Arlington Heights, chose its name.

"Faith, of course, is one of the great principles of the Lutheran Church. When our congregation was organized, members were asked to suggest possible names. The final selection then was made from among three or four names," Pastor Edgar H. Behrens said.

SYNONYMS for the name of God or descriptions of attributes of God also are important sources of church names. Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, 1234 N. State road, Arlington Heights, is an example.

A congregational poll also was held in this case and was at least partially responsible for selection of the name.

"Purpose of the congregation was to help bring Christ to the community. The name which best specified this purpose was Our Saviour's, another name given our Lord," said Pastor John P. Petersen.

ON THE basis of Pastor Benander's study of area church names, Arlington Heights' newest church took its name from still another important source, the various incidents in the life of Christ—in this case, His cross.

"It was necessary to express by the name something of the message of the church, yet adopt a name which wouldn't be confused with another in the area and a name easily understood when heard or seen.

"Thus the name Lutheran Church of the Cross was chosen to highlight the central fact of the Christian faith, which has been given to man as the symbol of God's mercy and forgiveness," Pastor Benander said.

THE NEW congregation meets in Dryden School, 750 S. Dryden pl., with worship service at 10:45 a.m. and Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. Purchase of the future site of the church on Golf road just west of Arlington Heights road was authorized last week. The parsonage is at 1029 S. Pine ave., Arlington Heights. (AMP

Warn of Eye Injuries

Parents Urged: Use Caution with Toys

What's in a toy? "It's all in the way you look at it, so look carefully," Frank F. Fowle, president of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, urges Christmas toy shoppers.

Fowle stated that the number of toy eye injuries, especially among young children, usually snows an increase during the days immediately following Christmas. "Many of these accidents, some costing the eyesight of youngsters, can be prevented if parents and other adults who chose children's toys will remember that if they buy right they can save sight," the Illinois Society president emphasized.

THE ILLINOIS Society for the Prevention of Blindness is seriously concerned about the number of eye injuries resulting from toys and other items used for recreation. A number of physicians also have voiced similar feelings to the agency.

In the hope of learning more about the problem, and as a first step toward a comprehensive public education and toy safety project, the society will begin a toy eye injury study for the first time this Christmas, enlisting the assistance of hospitals and physicians throughout Illinois. Through it the agency hopes to learn more about the types of playthings and circumstances surrounding these injuries.

But Fowle pointed out that studies alone will not solve the problem. "They can only give us basic information from which to work," he said. "Parents and others responsible for the safety and eyesight of children must be alert to the need for careful thought in selecting proper toys and see that children observe the rules for safe play."

Most adults already recognize the danger of BB guns, bows and arrows, darts, and toys which shoot sharply pointed objects into space at high speeds. These things, in hands of children too young and inexperienced to use them safely, are dangerous weapons—not toys. The "Space Age" with its rocket toys poses new problems. Unless these new innovations are carefully constructed and used, they may turn into "misguided missiles" because they misfired at the countdown.

TO ALL outward appearances, most of today's toys should not cause harm. Fowle credits the majority of toy manufacturers for their high manufacturing standards. Rubber tips, non-breakable plastics and other materials, one piece construction are consistently selected by most manufacturers.

But the society warns that it is not enough to glance casually at any toy selected for children and say that it looks safe. The society urges careful examination of all toys to be certain that a shiny exterior does not hide a potential threat to the eyesight of youngsters. Parents should also know how a toy works, so that they can teach the child to use it safely.

As a guide to toy shoppers the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness emphasizes the following points:

—Toys should be sturdily constructed, preferably of single unit, unbreakable material, if for a very young child;

—There should be no small parts which can be pulled or broken off to expose sharp corners or points;

—All protective coverings should be securely attached. If plastics are used, they should be the non-breakable variety. Some plastics are as dangerous as glass when broken;

—The facial features in dolls and animals should be sewn or securely glued—not attached with sharp pins or tacks;

—Rocket and projectile toys should be checked to see what sort of objects they eject and at what speed. Any that involve sharp darts, arrows, etc. should immediately be ruled out as safe playthings as they could cause serious eye damage.

IF, IN spite of all precautions, an eye injury occurs, the society warns that external appearances or absence of pain do not rule out damage to the eye. In case of any eye injury, a physician should be consulted immediately. Meanwhile, parents should protect the eye to avoid further complications and to prevent the child from rubbing it. They should not attempt to treat the injury themselves. (BB

Hints To Home Owners

by

James Fizzell

Assistant Farm Advisor

The stately Amaryllis provides a bright accent for the flower window in late winter. That is a time of the year when bright splashes of color ar especially appreciated. The scant foliage and short blooming season are more than compensated for by the bright color of the 6 to 8 inch flowers, and by the easy culture.

Amaryllis bulbs should be plump and free of rot or mold and at least 2½ inches in diameter for good flowering the first year.

Plant the bulb in a pot several inches larger in diameter than the bulb itself. Any good potting soil is satisfactory. However, the pot must be provided with good drainage. A layer of coarse gravel in the bottom of the pot is satisfactory.

The bulb should be planted so that the upper ½ to 2/3 of the bulb is above the soil.

BE SURE TO have the soil level about ¾ of an inch below the rim of the pot.

Keep the soil on the dry side until growth appears and keep the bulb in a cool shaded place during this period.

When growth begins, move the plant to a warm sunny window and water more freely.

Insects and diseases are seldom a problem on these plants. If the bulbs do become diseased, it is wise to discard them immediately.

Magnificent flowers, brightly colored and supported on a tall stem will be the reward for proper care about eight weeks after potting.

GARDEN LILIES, so delightful but often so expensive, can be easily propagated in the home without special training or complicated equipment. Where small bulbs are produced naturally in the leaf axils of the flower stalk, as in the tiger lily, they can be detached when mature and ready to fall, soaked in water for 48 hours, and planted in shallow flats. If protected from drying in summer and freezing in winter, they should produce a supply of bulbs.

In lilies that bloom in early summer, the bloom stalk may be pulled out of the growing bulb with a twisting upward pull after blooming and laid horizontally in a bed of moist sand. If the sand is kept moist, small bulbs will form along the stem at every node. These can then be grown to flowering size. Late blooming lilies will not have time to develop bulbs by this method out of doors, but they may be handled in the same way indoors.

Another sure-fire way to produce bulblets is by the process known as scaling. In this method a large bulb is pulled apart scale by scale. Care should be taken to get all of the scale because the important part is where it has been attached to the base of the bulb.

PUT THE detached scales between layers of moist spaghnum moss in a mason-type fruit jar. Wet the sphagnum moss thoroughly, and then wring as dry as possible with the bare hands. This will remove most of the excess moisture but will still leave the moss moist enough to keep a good humidity in the jar. Place a layer of sphagnum in the bottom of the jar, cover with a layer of lily scales, then a layer of sphagnum, alternating layers until the jar is filled.

Leave the jar open for 48 hours; then put the cover on without an air-tight seal. If the jar is kept at ordinary house temperature, small bulbs will form at the base of the old bulb scales. These should be left in the jar for several months, then planted shallowly in a flat of light soil and grown for a full year before being placed in the garden.

While this may seem a long time to wait, a single mature bulb will produce 30 to 50 bulblets. Bulbs will usually bloom in 3 years.

Student Writes Magazine Piece

John Marxen, 100 Willow rd., Prospect Heights, is author of an article in the fall issue of "The Green Caldron," a magazine of freshman writing at University of Illinois.

The magazine is published four times a year by the U. of I. freshman rhetoric staff. Material is chosen from themes and examinations written by freshmen in rhetoric classes.

Marxen, a graduate of Arlington high school, is a freshman in the college of engineering. He wrote "A Materialist Afterlife" as Theme 13 for his Rhetoric 102 class last spring.

PREFERRING not to trust faith, but to "extrapolate from scientific facts," Marxen writes that "science has, in the past, settled many theological questions and disproved many dogmatic assumptions about the universe without in any way lessening the basic truth—if such exists—of a religion's teachings. The truth is never less awe-inspiring, less beautiful than the superstitition . . . "

Marxen believes "it may be assumed . . . the mind survives after death," and that the "minds of the physically dead could be in communion with each other . . . but nothing can be proved.

"There is the possibility that the experience of dying would be traumatic enough to destroy the pattern of a person's mind completely or render it irrevocably and eternally insane.

"Or perhaps, the free mind, after centuries of subjective time spent in introspection and repentance, would become purified and perfected. And perhaps this is what heaven is."

Marxen placed fifth among 13 contributors to this edition, and received a prize of $5 worth of books.

The Stentor recently published a special edition honoring Dr. William Graham Cole, who was installed as the 10th president of the college on November 19. Douglas, a senior, is majoring in physics.

SHOP 9:30 TO 9:30 'TIL CHRISTMAS EVE

Wieboldt's Christmasland

WIEBOLDT'S MEADOWDALE

by JUNE MARLOWE

GOOD NEWS! We're open twelve full hours every day now till Christmas: 9:30 to 9:30.

HOW I LOVE

Christmastime in a big department store! I really think we have all the materials to hand, to express our warm holiday thoughts from Wieboldt's to everyone we know around the whole world!

Here at Meadowdale, we've more stock than last Christmastime — Our Toyland is crammed with delightful things . . .

We've built some extra islands of stock shelves—we even swiped a little of Gene Peterson's curtain display area (Gene didn't gripe; HE likes Christmas and kids, too.)

CHATTY CATHY's our best seller doll . . . This freckle-spattered, even slightly chipmunk-toothed darling looks like a REAL KID! She lacks the traditional too-perfect beauty of most dolls.

To add to and enhance this likeness to life, CHATTY CATHY talks a blue streak.

Like any little girl, she asks: "Will YOU play with me? Will you brush my hair?" Complains, "I'm sleepy . . . and "I'm hungry." She says lots of things, and no matter how many times you pull the string that makes her talk, she never speaks her mind in the same sequence.

"I LOVE YOU"

she says sometimes, too, and somehow little girls everywhere seem to break up in happy squeals at this.

WE sell Chatty Cathy for $14.99. We also have TINY TEARS ($8.98 to $16.98—compare those prices, please, with the asking price for T.T. at OTHER stores).

BACK TO THE MAN'S WORLD: Meanwhile, boys will love our REMCO Fighting Lady motorized assault battle ship . . . MR. MACHINE @ $8.99 . . .

You'll ALL enjoy LIFE, a new 3-dimensional game that 2 to 9 people can play — from 10-year-olds up to adults. Sometimes you end up in the poorhouse, sometimes a millionaire . . .

YOU'LL BE GLAD

for our strollers during the Christmasshopping season . . . Small ones can nod off while YOU shop for 'em!

LOOK FOR

our magnificent ARCTIC STAR tree, 7 feet tall, resplendent with its "northern light" branch tips, curved needles, graduated branches. Fireproof aluminum stays bright.

To make it even more beautiful, get a revolving stand ($9.95) and/or a set of colored lights to play on it from above — only $8.98 for this dramatic projection scheme.

The tree alone costs $29.95.

LAST THOUGHTS

1. You never SAW so many beautiful Christmasy ideas for your home as in our Trim-A-Tree shop. SEE them ALL!

2. You can get 3-day service on Christmas cards imprinted in gold 100 for $3.

3. Our perfumes have never been so exotic, nor in such good supply: CHANEL NO. 5, RUSSIA LEATHER, SHALIMAR, BELLODGIA (by CARON) and LANVIN's gorgeous trio; ARPEGE, MY SIN, and SPANISH GERANIUM.

4. We're open every single night now until Christmas!

See you around the Tower —

Traditional Plum Pudding Is Regal Christmas Treat

This is the time for Christmas do-aheads. For holiday entertaining and gift-giving, make your steamed plum puddings now in sufficient quantity for the holiday season.

Although steamed plum puddings may be served immediately after making, the custom of advance preparation was established generations ago in Britain, home of the traditional holiday dessert.

This recipe, based on time-honored British recipes, calls for ale, an ingredient which English women still regard as essential for a pudding that has lightness and flavor perfection. You will find it an exceptionally good pudding, one that is completely worthy to reign as king of desserts throughout the holiday season.

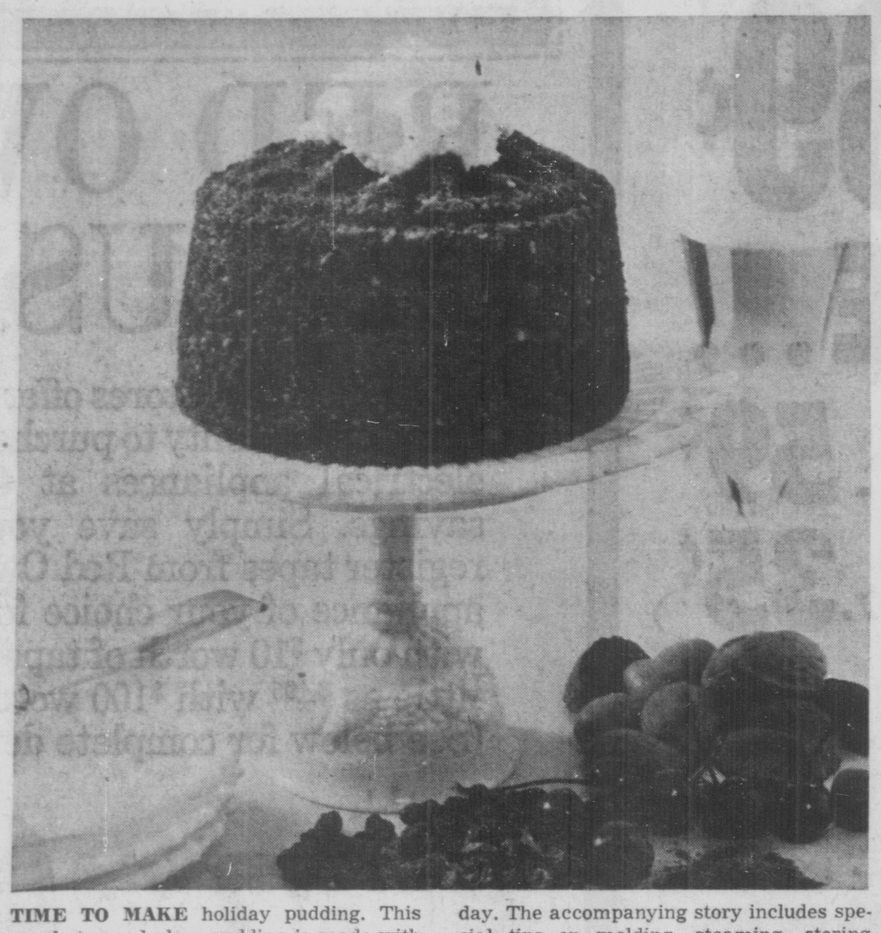
TRADITIONAL PLUM PUDDING

½ cup finely cut dates
1 cup seedless raisins
½ cup finely cut citron
½ cup finely cut candied cherries
½ cup finely cut lemon and orange peel
2/3 cup ale or beer
4 eggs
1 1/3 cups firmly p... brown sugar
½ cup chopped nuts
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 cup ground suet (¼ pound)
2/3 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1/8 teaspoon cloves
1/8 teaspoon alspice

Combine dates, raisins, citron, cherries and peels in a bowl; add ale and let stand for one hour. Beat eggs; gradually add sugar, beating after each addition. Stir in fruit-ale mixture, chopped nuts, dry bread crumbs and suet. Sift together flour, salt, soda, baking powder and spices. Add and stir well.

Turn into greased and floured 2-quart pudding mold with tight-fitting cover or cover with aluminum foil; tie securely. Place on rac's in deep kettle; pour in boiling water to half the depth of the mold. Cover; steam 5 hours, adding more water during steaming if necessary.

Remove from steamer; uncover immediately. Let stand 20 minutes; carefully remove from mold. YIELD: 12 servings. If desired, pudding mixture may be turned into four greased and floured 2-cup molds. Steam 2½ hours.



TIME TO MAKE holiday pudding. This regal steamed plum pudding is made with ale in the tradition of old-time recipes and those cherished by the English women today. The accompanying story includes special tips on molding, steaming, storing and serving. (SH

SPECIAL TIPS

To mold: How your pudding will look is determined by the utensil in which it is steamed. It can be anything from a coffee can or a mixing bowl to an elaborate mold of tin, copper, aluminum or earthenware. The mold may have a tube in the center or it may be solid; it may be one large mold or many small ones sized for individual servings.

To steam: The mold must be covered tightly with a lid of its own as in the case of coffee cans or with aluminum foil smoothed over the top of the mold and fastened with string. In a deep kettle which can be covered, it should be set on a rack to allow steam to circulate freely around the pudding.

Boiling water should come to half the depth of the mold and it should be kept boiling continuously, adding more boiling water during steaming if necessary.

To cool: After the mold is taken from the steamer, the cover should be removed immediately. After cooling 20 minutes, it should be removed from the mold by carefully running a thin knife around the edge and inverting the mold.

To keep: The pudding must be cooled completely to allow the surface moisture to dry off. This prevents mold formation during storage. Wrap the pudding in aluminum foil and store it in the refrigerator or other cool place for 3 to 4 weeks or in the freezer for longer periods.

To serve: Replace pudding in original mold and steam until piping hot. Frozen pudding need not be thawed before resteaming. Unmold on serving plate and accompany with hard sauce.

To blaze: Have pudding really hot. Take hot pudding to table, then pour on 3 to 4 tablespoons of heated brandy. Pour more heated brandy into a tablespoon, light and add to the pudding. When the flame burns down, slice and serve. (SH

Do not say, "Whom did you say is going with you?" Say, "WHO did you say is going with you?"

One is accountable TO another person, but is accountable FOR a thing. Thus: "Martin is accountable TO his foreman, and he is accountable FOR any errors."

Do not say, "I meant to have spoken to you." Say, "I meant TO SPEAK to you."

Avoid the expression, "She is every bit as clever as he is." It is much better to say, "She is JUST as clever as he is."

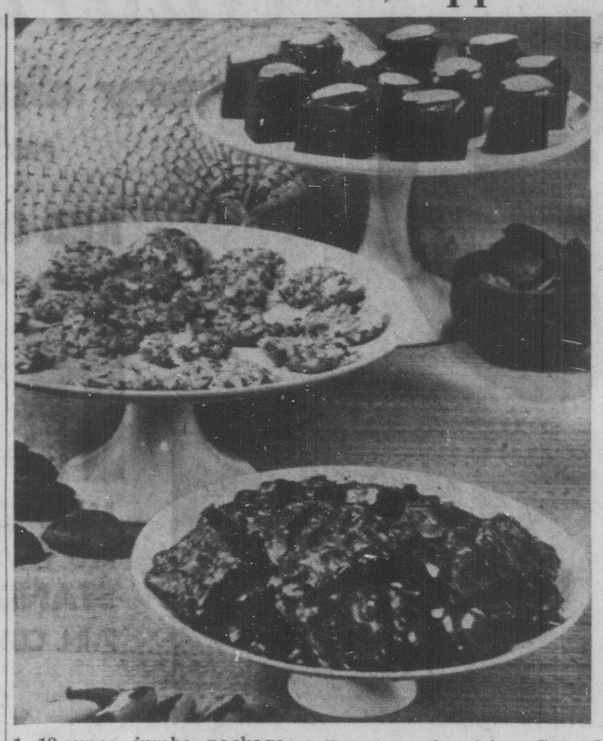
Brazil Nut Candies Take Taste, Appeal Spotlight

Brazil nuts, delicately distinctive of flavor and creamy of texture, have long been used in candies. The news here is that they have been incorporated into homemade fudge, caramel patties, and chocolate bark which are extremely simple to make and yet so professional of looks.

The semi-sweet chocolate morsels used in the fudge are a ready-to-eat chocolate, so the fudge is a simple combination of evaporated milk, sugar, semi-sweet chocolate, and Brazil nuts, no long cooking and almost no stirring are required.

BRAZIL NUT caramel quickies are just as their name implies. Store-bought caramels are melted in a double boiler over hot water and then are dropped by teaspoonfuls into chopped Brazil nuts to come out as patties. The Brazil nut bark is a truly excellent thin candy with chopped Brazil nuts and raisins again incorporated into a semi-sweet chocolate base.

To speed up the shelling job of Brazil nuts, cover the in-shell nuts with cold water. Bring to a boil and simmer about 5 minutes. Drain; cover with cold water for a minute, then drain and crack. The boiling water softens the shells.



BRAZIL NUT BARK

1 12-ounce jumbo package (2 cups) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
2 tablespoons shortening
1 cup chopped Brazil nuts
½ cup raisins

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels and shortening over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from heat. Stir in Brazil nuts and raisins. Spread Brazil nut mixture on baking sheet lined with waxed paper. Chill until firm. Break into individual servings. On humid days store in refrigerator.

YIELD: Approximately 1 pound.

BRAZIL NUT FUDGE QUICKIES

1 cup chopped Brazil nuts
1 pound caramels

Spread chopped Brazil nuts on aluminum foil. Melt caramels over boiling water. Drop melted caramels by tablespoonfuls onto chopped nuts. Cool until firm. Store in refrigerator or cool place.

YIELD: Approximately 1¼ pounds.

BRAZIL NUT FUDGE

2/3 cup evaporated milk
1 cup sugar
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
½ cup chopped Brazil nuts

Combine evaporated milk and sugar in saucepan. Bring to a full boil, stirring constantly. Boil 3 minutes over moderate heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in semi-sweet chocolate morsels until smooth. Stir in Brazil nuts. Turn into greased 8-inch square pan; cool.

YIELD: 1 pound. (SH

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

by Edward Rentz

There is no aroma more delightful than the fragrance of cookies baking in the oven . . . Everyone likes them. They taste good, and they are filled with energy value that growing children, particularly, must have.

Cooky baking need not be a time consuming chore. When in a hurry, make bars and squares instead of rolled-out cookies. Even the rolled-out ones can be cut with a twist of the wrist with the new six-way cooky cutter that cuts half a dozen in one swoop. By keeping your favorite refrigerator cooky dough on hand in your refrigerator, you can treat teatime or coffeetime guests to warm, fresh cookies, even when guests are unexpected.

For an extra touch the next time you bake for your children, shape the cookies into numerals to represent their ages. They will love them . . . and send a box to school with your child. You'll win the popularity contest hands down.

FROM SUNNY FLORIDA comes pure gold in the form of oranges and grapefruit, with gift-giving time almost upon us the time is right for making citrus recipes to highlight friends' holiday tables. Of course, make certain a few jars are reserved for your own family because not only are the relishes perfect partners for any meal but are packed with much needed vitamin C. (SH

No blues from this Southland-Florida gives us oranges instead. And grapefruit, too, bright and yellow like the sunshine they grow in. Pictured are Spiced Orange Wedges, Orange Cranberry Relish and Orange Conserve, ideal for gift-giving.

Grapefruit halves make wonderful appetizers and desserts. For a light and refreshing dessert after a bountiful holiday meal, combine sections of orange, grapefruit and tangerines.

You will find plenty of citrus in local stores this fall and winter in spite of recent hurricane damage in Florida. Although the overall crop will be smaller than last year's, there is plenty of top quality fruit in your neighborhood, just filled with health giving vitamin C.

Try these spiced orange wedges with your next pork roast. They make a perfect flavor accompaniment:

SPICED ORANGE WEDGES

4 Florida oranges
2 cups sugar
1¼ cups water
½ cup vinegar
12 whole cloves
3 pieces stick cinnamon

Put whole oranges in saucepan; add one quart water. Bring to a boil; boil 20 minutes. Drain and cut into eighths. Combine sugar, 1¼ cups water, vinegar, cloves and cinnamon; stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved.

Bring to a boil; add pieces of orange and simmer about 20 minutes. Cool; cover and store in refrigerator. Serve as a relish. Yield: 5 cups. Oranges may be spooned into hot sterilized jars and sealed.

ORANGE CRANBERRY RELISH

2 Florida oranges, quartered and seeded
4 cups fresh cranberries
2 cups sugar

Put orange quarters with peel and cranberries through food chopper, Add sugar to mixture. Chill in refrigerator several hours. Yield: 1 quart. This relish will keep well in refrigerator several weeks.

ORANGE CONSERVE

6 Florida oranges
5 cups water
6 cups sugar
4 tablespoons Florida lime juice or vinegar
1 two-inch piece stick cinnamon
½ cup raisins, ground
½ cup chopped nuts

Using the point of a paring knife, remove orange peel in quarters. Dice pulp, removing center membrane and seeds. Put peel through food chopper, using coarse blade. Cover ground peel with water and bring to a boil.

Cook until peel is tender, about 20 minutes. Add pulp and juice to undrained rind. Continue cooking, about 20 minutes, until mixture reduces to about ½ its original volume and measures approximately 6 cups. Add sugar, lime juice, cinnamon and raisins; stir until sugar is dissolved.

Cook until thickened, about 30 minutes, or until syrup runs off sides of spoon in two drops which "sheet" together. Stir in nuts. Pour into hot sterilized jars or glasses. Paraffin at once.

YIELD: seven 8-ounce glasses. (SH

Week's Best food buys

Prices consumers pay for red meats this week depend largely on how skillfully butchers wield the knife. On this ability many stores peg their promotion quotes.

From a competitive viewpoint, retails are higher and range wider for beef, pork and veal, and firm prices continue for lamb. Few market-made concessions appear. This narrows store feature chances based on pure marketing factors. Pricing emphasis, therefore, is not only on how thick the meat is cut but from the portion sliced.

The University of Illinois consumer service weekly survey for the period ending December 10 finds the three market levels conflicting. Between-holiday adjustments are part of the reason for unsettled if not confused conditions. Weather, seasonal trends, limited marketings, and approaching Christmas inventory bookings are others.

POULTRY and produce markets also are out-of-step with normal patterns, leaving the grocery division as the only really steady and unchanged department.

Clear-cut consensus market values are severely restricted, and this week include only: Meats—round steak, ground beef, lamb leg roasts; Poultry—fryers, large eggs; Produce—grapefruit, Florida oranges, tangerines, lettuce, potatoes, onions, celery.

Trouble spots can be highlighted as follows:

Local cattle receipts went through the fourth consecutive week of fewer than 40,000 head. But on balance they were 10 per cent ahead of the previous holiday short work week. As anticipated, early week reaction cut live market prices on this slightly increased supply. In terms of wholesale beef, the supplies were moderate but adequate to meet the holiday follow-up. The early week declines quickly reversed and latest prices at wholesale closed steady to higher than week-ago, ribs and full carcass taking the most increase. Retail beef was higher throughout, the stores relying on the butchers knife to slice promotional features as consumer attention getters.

The pork market was closest to being normal. Live hog receipts for a single day were the largest since April, and prices dropped briefly—only to bounce back the next day to remain firm on moderately good demand. The bubble of higher costs on limited supplies moved into wholesale, but here demand fell and prices went into a 3 cent per pound skid for the balance of the week. At retail, pork remained unchanged despite lower wholesale, with rib and loin portions, and center cuts, showing the best promotional opportunities with some quotes as much as 14 cents to 20 cents per pound under general market levels.

Lamb receipts were the largest since Februray, total live market supplies equaling year-ago but weights increasing seasonally. Live costs were steady to ½ cent per pound lower. Fair demand at wholesale maintained the steady to higher prices of week-ago. At retail, lamb was strictly in a plus or minus situation by stores, but on balance is rated steady.

In poultry, limited movement and increased production made fryers more attractive at wholesale and retail, with store prices ranging more widely to warrant consumer bargain attention. The turkey market is at a standstill at higher levels. Egg markets are unsettled, prices irregular but momentarily trending lower at all levels.

PRODUCE rates a generally higher classification, except for those items listed in the value summary above, due to continuing wet weather and colder temperatures.

Significant retail pricing:

Beef—Quotes range more widely and generally higher. Without promotions, expect blade cut chucks to quote 55-59 cents competitively, round bone pot roasts 65-69 cents, standing rib roasts 69-75 cents for the 5th-6th cut and 79-85 cents on 1st-4th (some of these are on promotion), and the rolled roast group 89 cents lowest, and more likely up to 98 cents. Steaks still offer some promotion opportunities, but generally round steaks quote 89 cents, sirloins $1.09 and porterhouse $1.29.

Pork—Generally holds at week-ago ranges, with some promotions shaving 14 - 20 cents off the following general quotes: rib portion cuts 49 cents, loin cuts 59 cents and center cut chops 89 cents. Fresh butts are 49-59 cents, spare ribs 49-53 cents with some lower to be bargains. Bacon continues firm, 69 cents for first lines, 55 cents for seconds. Hams are showing Christmas market strength, whole hams ranging 59-69 cents. Smoked butts 75-79 cents, picnics 39-43 cents.

Poultry—Fryers, an improved value at 29-39 cents range, turkeys continuing to show 49 cent tags. Eggs recede 2 cents per dozen, large grade A whites tagged 65-69 cents, mediums 59 - 61 cents. SH

Q. When it is necessary for a house guest to make a long-distance telephone call, how should this be handled?

A. First, of course, the guests ask permission of his host or hostess. Then, after his call has been completed, he immediately calls the operator, asks for charges for his call, and then immediately remits this amount to his host or hostess.

Q. How should the very large type of shrimp in a cocktail be eaten?

A. If you can manage it, cut it in half with your fork against the side of the glass -- or else, you lift it out, put it on the plate under the glass, and cut it in half with the fork.

New Toys For Preschoolers

Next to a child's food, his playthings are probably the most important contributor to his steady progress in muscular and mental development, educators and psychologists agree. Research, in fact, has shown many of the same principles which apply to the feeding of babies also apply to play situations.

A thorough knowledge of those principles now has led one of the nation's leading baby food producers to enter the toy field by creating a totally new line of toys for the preschool child. Each of the new toys has been designed with a specific motor control in mind. Because a child moves from stage to stage rapidly, toys are also planned wherever possible to have several uses, giving them longer play life and leading the child positively into the next stage of development.

Typical of such toys are the Giant Alphabet Blocks pictured above. First they are a toy the infant can see and touch, later fit-together toys which help develop finger skills. To the toddler, they become a "stacking" toy, and finaliy to the preschooler, a "building" toy. Their play life thus lasts easily from infancy through the first four years.

In addition to the requirement that toys be well conceived and properly designed, there is still another requirement of particular importance to parents of infants—sanitation. To overcome parental anxiety on this score, the company is using an unusual new material. Surfaseptic polyethylene, a recent development of one of the large chemical companies, contains a unique ingredient which combats bacteria on the surface of the toy, offering a positive health safety advantage. This property remains effective for the life of the toy and is especially effective as an active killer of the deadly staph organisms.

Not Lacking Aid, Busy Mother Of Six Prepares Yule Goodies

by LOIS SEILER

Cooking for a family of eight doesn't bother Mrs. Beauford A. Berggren a bit. In fact, her six children are more of a help than a hindrance because they are all culinary enthusiasts, ready and willing to participate in kitchen activities.

Being raised in a household where delicious home baked goods are always available, these children are accustomed to good food and quite naturally have adopted their mother's interest in cooking and baking.

The Berggrens' two oldest daughters, Joyce, 16 and Linda, 13, especially enjoy baking, and Joyce also specializes in salads which she prepares for all the evening meals. Linda bakes cookies at least once every week, and both girls like to bake Cranberry Bread, which is one of their mother's favorite recipes.

"WE MAKE this bread all year 'round," said Mrs. Berggren, but it is especially nice at Christmas time."

Cake-like in texture and very moist and flavorful, this bread contains the juice and rind of oranges, chopped walnuts and fresh cranberries. If wrapped tightly and stored in the refrigerator, it will keep well for weeks. When served it is sliced thin and spread with butter or cream chese, butter being preferred by the Berggrens.

Although rich, this bread has a delightful tart flavor and is as attractive in appearance as it is appealing to taste. It is perfect to serve during the holidays, for a luncheon with a fruit salad, for a buffet supper (especially with ham), or for tea or coffee parties.

EVEN the Berggrens' 12-year-old son, Kenneth, enjoys cooking and has baked a few cakes, while 10-year-old Cheryl makes jello and puddings. The two little Berggrens, Julie, 5, and John, 3, get into the act, too, decorating cookies and sampling the dough.

Hundreds of cookies are baked in this household each Christmas time. "My family likes crisp cookies," commented Mrs. Berggren, "and Almond Slices and Cinnamon Discs are among our favorites. My own mother made the almond slices for years and years, and it wouldn't be Christmas without them."

THE unique combination of ground almonds and cinnamon give these cookies an unusual and delicious flavor. The recipe makes a large quantity, 80 to 100 cookies, and the rolled dough may be stored in the refrigerator, sliced and baked as needed.

"The cinnamon discs disappear as quickly as snow in July in our household," said this capable cook, "and they are my husband's favorite, too."

These crisp, short cookies are made by forming the dough into balls and rolling them in a mixture of cinnamon and chopped pecans. They flatten into round cookies when baked and are a delightful taste treat.

You'll want to try all of these excellent recipes this coming holiday season.

IN addition to her many household obligations and culinary activities Mrs. Berggren also finds time to participate in the PTA and the Women's Missionary fellowship of the First Baptist church, where she is also in charge of the nursery during the Sunday worship service.

The Berggren family resides at 1411 W. Miner in Arlington Heights.

Cranberry Bread

4 cups all-purpose flour, sifted
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking soda
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1 cup orange juice
4 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
4 tablespoons hot water
¾ cup chopped walnuts
2 cups fresh cranberries cut in halves
Rind of 3 oranges, grated

Sift dry ingredients together. Beat eggs and combine with orange juice, butter and water. Add liquid ingredients to dry ingredients all at once and stir until just blended. Stir in nuts, berries and orange rind.

Pour into two greased loaf pans and bake in a 325 degree oven for one hour and 10 minutes. Remove from pan and cool; refrigerate for 24 hours before serving. Slice thin.

If wrapped tightly, this bread will keep for several weeks in the refrigerator.

Almond Slices

1 pound butter or margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup brown sugar
3 eggs, well-beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
4½ cups flour
2 level teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup ground almonds

Cream butter and sugar. Add the well-beaten eggs and vanilla. Beat in sifted dry ingredients and ground nuts; mix thoroughly.

Form dough into three rolls. Roll in waxed paper and place in refrigerator overnight. Slice and bake in a 350 degree oven for 8 to 10 minutes or until done.

Makes 80 to 100 cookies.

Cinnamon Discs

1 cup margarine
2 cups granulated sugar
2 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
2½ cups all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup finely chopped pecans
3 teaspoons cinnamon

Cream margarine and sugar together thoroughly. Add eggs and vanilla and mix well. Beat in the sifted dry ingredients.

Mold dough by level tablespoons into balls and roll into mixture of cinnamon and chopped nuts.

Place balls on cookie sheet two inches apart and bake in a 375 degree oven for 12 minutes. Remove from sheets immediately. Yield: approximately 75 cookies. (SH

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

Local Marines Collecting Toys for Tots

The popular picture of Santa Claus is of a man in a red suit trimmed with white fur — but the busy "Santas" in the Arlington Heights area are young men who wear green uniforms, many with campaign ribbons.

That's because members of the Glenview Marine Air Reserve squadrons are again collecting "Toys for Tots" — toys that will say "Merry Christmas" to less fortunate children in this area.

THE PROGRAM is sponsored by the Chicagoland Marine Reserve units (air and ground) with the cooperation of the Shell Oil company, which is again making available their service stations as collection points.

Take new or used toys to the local Shell stations or call Sgt. Lawrence J. LePage or Sgt. James R. Smallridge, Naval Air station, Glenview, PArk 4-1000, extension 422. (B9

Hospital's First 'Preemie' Baby Celebrates Birthday

A LITTLE 2 pound, 13½ ounce mite with mostly head and lots of hair was Daryl Ann Reed when she was born a year ago at Northwest Community hospital. Nurse Mrs. Arlene Allen is shown caring for Northwest's first premature baby who lived in an isolette unit for eight weeks. The white mark across the baby's face is tape which secured a tube to her stomach by which she was fed.

DARYL ANN REED is a happy, laughing one-year-old who sports two teeth now. However, when she was born, she was the first premature baby to arrive at Northwest Community hospital — two and a half months early. At 2 pounds, 13½ ounces, she is the second smallest premature baby born at Northwest to survive.

Medical Miracles Achieved

by NATALIE McKENZIE

Daryl Ann Reed will be 1-year-old next week.

She smiles incessantly, says "hi," "ma ma," "da da," chews zwiebak and loves people.

One year ago Daryl Ann Reed announced her arrival in this world with a squawl. But the crying baby of a year ago came two months and 10 days earlier than the doctor or anyone else had ordered. Daryl Ann was the first "preemie" born at Northwest Community hospital. She weighed a scary 2 pounds 13½ ounces.

Any additional day in the life of a premature baby is one more day of victory, according to Mrs. Arlene Allen, one of the nurses who helped Daryl through her first eight weeks of life.

"But when a baby is almost two and a half months premature, we consider it very lucky if we can pull it through."

DARYL'S LIFE for the first eight weeks after December 5 was protected by a machine that is fairly new to hospital nursery floors, the isolette unit.

Unlike an ordinary incubator, the isolette unit can be entered to care for a baby only by special porthole-type holes in the sides. An incubator top must be entirely lifted to feed and change babies.

The isolette and incubator are further different in that the isolette unit is automatically operated. Humidity and oxygen can be regulated. Temperature is kept constant like the heat of an oven.

In newer incubators, humidity can be regulated, but oxygen can't.

And if oxygen cannot be regulated for the "early arrival," chances are that too much oxygen over too long a time will destroy delicate tissues in the eye, and the baby will become blind.

SO INTO the isolette it was for Daryl where she was closely observed and pampered by the nursery staff.

Feeding was an every two-hour process. Only small amounts, because her stomach wasn't big enough to hold more than a little. At the beginning she was fed glucose only. Then the doctor put her on formula—16 cubic centimeters every two hours. Because she was so tiny, Daryl didn't have the strength to suck. A tube was taped through her nose into her stomach and she took her food that way.

Nor was the battle all uphill at first. From 2 pounds, 13½ ounces she dropped, until she reached a low of 2½ pounds. The regular feedings continued. Another aspect of special care for the prematurely born is that they must be turned from side to side frequently.

According to Mrs. Allen this is because often their lungs aren't fully inflated and because fluid can collect easily and stop off air.

"We need to touch them ever so gently," she said. "Their bones are so fragile you can easily break a rib by touching them."

DARYL WENT through all this. Her weight steadily began the upward climb. Sometimes she gained as little as a quarter of an ounce a day. By January 1, she weighed three pounds. Every day her parents, the A. Stanley Reeds, 1148 N. Hickory, Arlington Heights, called to check on how well the little mite with fingers the size of paper book matches was doing. They came to peer through panes of plate glass at the all head and very little else human, as Daryl continued her life in isolation.

By January 6 Daryl weighed 3 pounds, 3½ ounces. She was able to move out of the isolette unit into an incubator. Three days later she went on bottle feeding: 1 ounce every three hours.

When she was born the Reeds were told it would take three months before they would be able to bring her home, if she survived. A little more than a month had passed and Daryl tipped the scales at 4 pounds, 5 ounces. They took her out of the incubator January 25. Her parents took her home a week later.

BY THIS time, she had become the darling of the hospital staff. Of Mrs. Allen in particular. "We were fascinated," she recalled. "Even when the tiniest bit of a thing, Daryl had personality. She was always alert and bright from the beginning. She loved to be talked to. Often we didn't have to turn her over in the isolette unit, because she wiggled enough to turn herself."

Daryl hasn't stopped wiggling or charming the world either. Her head turns automatically toward the sound of a telephone. She loves to stand up, though she doesn't sit by herself or crawl yet. Her bright smile, evoked with no effort on the part of a stranger, reveals two bottom teeth.

"And healthy," her mother exclaims. "She never even had a sniffle until she was 11 months old. The doctor was amazed when she escaped without catching a cold I had."

Christmas this year will be a special one for the Reeds, endowed with a daddy who sells toys as a manufacturers representative.

"This is the first year we're really going all out," Mrs. Reed said.

HER TWO older children, Laura, 10, and Jeffrey, 7, can boast some unusual birth stories themselves. When Mrs. Reed was carrying Laura, she was recovering from a bout with t.b. and had one collapsed lung at the time.

Being fearful of how her lungs would react under the anesthetic she decided natural childbirth was the answer. "I didn't want anyone slapping anything over my face!" she laughed remembering her fears then.

So despite mother with a collapsed lung, Laura was born. No anesthesia.

So successful was this attempt at natural childbirth that Mrs. Reed decided to do it again—only this time she decided to watch. What she saw was Jeffrey. Nothing skinny about him. He weighed 9 pounds, 1 ounce.

"And he was much easier than my little 2 pound Daryl," she said.

Quite Contrary by Mary

Economy With Caution

WHAT WITH CHRISTMAS coming up in its usual sneaky fashion, everyone I know is rather money conscious. It's all very well to go on and on about the spirit of Christmas and I more or less agree with those who say that somewhere along the line, we have become a wee bit commercial about the whole thing.

On the other hand, I don't think I would get much of anywhere with the young just being spirited on Christmas morning. And, I know that others have the same problem. As witness what happened to a friend of mine. She was feeling especially penurious, it being this time of year and all, so she decided to save just loads of money by washing her own feather pillows.

Getting out her book of how to that came with the washer and dryer, she found that she must rig a three inch tear in the pillow and then pin it together with a safety pin. Neither of us was too clear on just why this should be done but agreed that it must have something to do with air getting in or out or something.

She washed and washed them in the washer and so, when they were done and spun what did she have. A nice washer full of feathers. Just loads and loads of feathers. However, as there still appeared to be a few left in the pillows and they weren't much good to her yet, she decided to put them in the dryer. This led to almost complete disaster.

When she hesitantly made her way into the basement to view the results, she was struck in the face with clouds of lovely white clean feathers. All over the place. It took her hours to get enough courage to wend her way through the blizzard and look in the dryer.

When she finally did, she found two of the cleanest pillow covers in the state and two of the sickest appliances ever looked at by a repairman who seems to come for the nominal price of $50 an hour. The moral to this story is economy is great and all that, but pick your economies with care. In fact, I have sworn off economy and decided to let the bills fall where they may. I think she has, too.

Western Illinois Students Married in College Town

Two honor students from Western Illinois university in Macomb chose the day after Thanksgiving, Nov. 25, for their wedding in St. George Episcopal church, Macomb. The bride is the former Sandra Jane MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. W. MacDonald, 1305 Mayfair, Arlington Heights, and the bridegroom is Marvin Edwin Cochran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cochran of Peoria.

The ceremony, attended only by close friends and relatives, was performed by Rev. John Bloomer at 1 p.m. Mrs. Bloomer was organist for the candlelight, double ring service. White chrysanthemums were used to decorate the church.

Sandra Mac Donald

BOTH THE bride and groom are biology majors and members of Beta Beta Beta, national honorary biological fraternity. The bride was graduated from Arlington high school in 1959, an honor student and member of the national honor society. The bridegroom, a senior at Western, is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity and vice president of Kappa Delta Pi, honor society in education.

Twenty guests attended the wedding luncheon in the Hotel Lamoine, Macomb, after which the couple honeymooned in St. Louis. They are now at home at 318 N. Pearl, Macomb.

FOR HER marriage, the bride wore a white brocade dress with white roses. Her father gave her in marriage. Her only attendant was Miss Judy Strobel, a Mayfair rd. neighbor of the bride. Her dress was of sheer blue wool and her corsage of pink roses.

Dick Davenport of Havana, Ill. was the bridegroom's best man.

WORKING ON candle centerpieces used at Arlington Heights Juniors' dinner dance, "Holiday Whirl," held Saturday at Tam O'Shanter country club are Mrs. Donald E. Buxton, Mrs. J. J. Witzig and Mrs. J. L. Bolus. The women guilded candles and nuts which were placed in glasses to make the attractive holiday decorations. The affair provided a buffet dinner and dancing with proceeds going to the club's various local and statewide federation projects.

PIERCED EARS and tiny, gold hooped earrings prompted photographer to select this baby from the dozens undergoing physical check-ups at the Northwestern Settlement House, Chicago, where the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago operates a clinic. The new Arlington Heights center of the society, which will help nurses and doctors with the babies twice each month, recently toured the settlement. Youngster appears pleased with the attentions of Mrs. William H. Ball, left, president of the Arlington Heights group, and Miss Bess Hawver, executive director of the society's services.

Frank Kosses Mark 50th Anniversary

Waltzing again to the strains of "I Love You Truly," Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koss, 152 S. Brockway, Palatine, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at a party held November 27 in the Palatine Legion hall. One hundred relatives and friends feted the couple at a buffet supper and were entertained by John Krzeminski of Chicago, playing his accordian and the piano.

Among the party guests were Mrs. William Sikorski of Arlington Heights and Tom Katke of Wauwatosa, Wis., the couple's wedding attendants 50 years ago in St. Boniface church, Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Koss have lived in Palatine for the past 12 years. Mr. Koss retired from the printing business 15 years ago. They have two children, a son George of Littleton, Colo., and daughter, Mrs. Norbert Middendorf of Roselle. There are six grandchildren, Tom and Judy Middendorf and Peter, Jimmy, Barbie and Debbie Koss.

Saintpaulias Fete Haywood Millers

A golden tea in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Miller, 19 S. Kerwood, Palatine, will be given by the Suburban Saintpualia society on December 14. Mrs. George Neuffer will be hostess at the party, which begins at one o'clock in her home, 653 Lakeside, Palatine.

Mrs. Miller, a member of the Suburban Saintpaulias, and her husband were married 50 years ago this Christmas eve. The society is honoring them on their anniversary and also for the long and devoted service of Mrs. Miller to the african violet club.

Life Member Tea

Life members of the Northwest Community hospital auxiliary will be honored Sunday at a tea in the hospital. The women will also be taken on a tour of the Pink Lady shop, which was furnished with a snack bar, soda fountain and fixtures to display gifts through dues donated by the life members.

Pink Lady Shop Opens at Northwest

NOW SERVING VISITORS at Northwest Community hospital is the newly-opened Pink Lady shop, located in the lobby area of the new Arlington Heights hospital. The shop consists of a gift section and snack bar. Chairman of the gift section is Mrs. James Mason, Arlington Heights, center. The customer is Miss Lorrie Stanchfield and at right is Mrs. Thomas J. McKain of Barrington, buyer for the shop, which sells jewelry, toys, cosmetics and other gift items at reasonable prices.

SNACK BAR in the newly-opened Pink Lady shop at Northwest Community hospital is proving to be a popular spot with visitors at the hospital. The snack bar serves sandwiches, pastries and boasts a complete fountain service. All proceeds from the shop will go toward the hospital building fund, according to Mrs. John McCartney, director of volunteers.

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

A Christmas Idea Swapping Party

by DOLORES HAUGH

The gift wrapping season and holly hanging season will soon be here and for a quick get together with "the girls," why not have a kaffee klatsch and a Christmas Idea Swapping?

Maybe you don't have a pot bellied stove to gather around for swapping but a cup of hot coffee and homemade coffee cake will serve as well.

INVITATION

The invitation can be any number of things, a gift wrapped package with a note inside—this is easy if you save small, every day item containers—or put the invitation in a paper tube from wax paper, and decorate it like a party favor. A card with stickers on the front or any of a number of Christmas flavorings can be the invitation.

Old Christmas cards too make excellent, hasty ones with the inside cut off.

Write the following rhyme on the invitation:

Put down your apron and come on over
On Tuesday morning we will meet.
The time is ten and all the neighbors
You will greet
Now bring along one Christmas idea
On wrapping, centerpieces, or decor
An idea for the table, the kitchen,
Or something for the door.
Below you'll find one thing for sure
We'd like to have you do
So won't you call and say you'll come
It'll be more fun with YOU.

State one item in particular you would like for each guest to concentrate on and here you may choose something she is really professional about. It may be baking cookies for the holidays, in which case you would ask her to bring several copies of her recipes and another may be handy with making favors, candy, centerpieces, outdoor displays, but you know your friends better than anyone so you decide.

If they do not have any particular talent along these lines just suggest they use something from a magazine or something they used to do at home, etc.

Make the invitations at least a week or so in advance so they will have time to decide what they want to bring.

MENU and DECORATIONS

The menu is so simple with a coffee cake, some holiday cookies and hot coffee. Of course, the way you serve these will add the holiday flavor. The Christmas colors of red and green may prevail and you may wish to serve either in the family room or kitchen. But keep it to the red and green for most of the ideas will probably incorporate these.

You, as the hostess, will want to have as many of your own Christmas ideas and "props" as possible, e.i. your Christmas dishes, or paper ones hand-decorated for you by the children with matching napkins, your favorite candle with fresh greens and a few ornaments, a few old ornaments from when you were a child, or some from other countries, and this getting ready early is a boon as far as time is concerned, you have the Christmas things out early and may find time for the little things that get packed "to do next year."

TRY A few culinary ideas, too, such as candlesticks from marshmallows with life savers tied on for handles. Use red ribbon and a bright red candle, the birthday cake type. Or make santas from ripe, red apples using cotton for beards and hair, raisins for eyes. A batch of fancy decorated cookies made tripled, serve as decorations, refreshments and you can stow the rest, in a new hiding place if your house is like mine, till the holidays. Most cookies if kept in an air tight tin will remain crisp, If you make chewy ones they mellow with age just like fruit cakes.

Gingerbread men with tiny holes at the top are best aged and then hung on the tree for ornaments but if you want them edible, wrap them in the clear type wrap. If you feel particularly festive serve your guests a flaming dessert with either brandy or a sugar cube soaked quickly in fresh almond extract. It is a real "ooooh" getter during the holidays.

ENTERTAINMENT

Nothing for the hostess to do but MC. Just have each guest tell about her idea, how it is made, approximately what it costs. You will love this "getting into the holiday spirit" get together and it is fun galore with a head start on the hectic holiday season.

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

The Annual Operetta

Dear Peg:

I was about to sit down and get a letter off to you yesterday, when the doorbell rang and three children appeared at the door saying, "Oh, Mrs. McArdle, Sister Barbara forgot to tell you yesterday that she needs you this morning because all the chorus and the dancers are at school ready to practice for the Christmas operetta!"

"Oh dear, does she need me right away?" I asked knowing the answer.

"Yes, Mrs. McArdle. She would like for you to come and stay until noon, if you can." (It was then 9:00 a. m.)

Well, here we go again — the annual Christmas presentation for the joy and edification of parents and children. This will mean practices every afternoon after school—with children weary of a school day of control and discipline, trying to fit "changing" voices into the music somewhere and unchanging voices as well, trying to get children to say their parts without the paper, finding costumes for shepherds, wisemen and angels, trying to talk Jerry Vallez into being responsible for the scenery (which results in his turning out several lovely paintings to be used for the background) and contacting the local organ studio for the loan of an organ on the day of the program. And you know what? I love it! I would be so disappointed if they didn't ask me to provide the music and a good deal of the instruction for this yearly production. Actually it's an important part of my Christmas.

This year's program looks very interesting and different. It's an operetta called "The Magi's Gift" with the libretto by Clare Grubb and music and lyrics from "Fifty Christmas Carols" by Eduardo Marzo an doriginal incidental music by Bryceson Treharn. An interesting sidelight is the fact that the Nativity Play in Act I is taken from the Mystery Play of the Company of the Shearman and Tailors of the Middle ages.

I hurried over to school (the convenient part about all this is that I only live a block from school)—as I said this is convenient—for everyone and found the children and Sister waiting. We got right to work—I was to teach the skating dance first—this was in between playing the piano for the Morris dancers and the chorus. Did you ever try to teach a dance to eighth grade boys? Oh my, not only are the usually very ungraceful, but they seem to deliberately try to be even less graceful than they are! It takes much patience. However, fortunately I can usually make friends with them before we ever begin and believe me that's half the battle!

Well, dear I'm exhausted from my early morning workout so we'll hear more about this later.

My love,

Patty

Scharringhausen-Wagner Rites in St. John Church

St. John United Church of Christ in Arlington Heights was the scene of the October 8 wedding of Donna Rae Scharringhausen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharringhausen, 408 E. Thomas st., Arlington Heights, and Ronald Wagner of Mount Prospect. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Wagner of 518 S. Louis st.

A reception dinner for 175 guests in the church fellowship hall followed the evening candlelight wedding, and later an open house took place in the home of the bride's parents. The bridal couple is now at home at 1814 N. Chestnut ave., Arlington Heights.

ALTAR VASES of white shasta mums, double candelabra and two large baskets of gladioli and greens decorated the sanctuary as Rev. Robert McDonald united the couple in double ring rites. Organist Charles Duwe accompanied Mrs. Roberta Morand, who sang "Because," "O Perfect Love," and "The Lord's Prayer."

An aqua and yellow color scheme was chosen for the bridal attendants' attire. All Arlington Heights girls, they were gowned in identical aqua taffeta dresses, with full skirt and chiffon over taffeta bodice. They carried yellow shasta mums, autumn leaves and strands of wheat in bouquets, and wore headpieces of matching flowers and matching shoes. The bride's sister, Mrs. Lois Duwe, was matron of honor; bridesmaids were Mrs. Beverly Johnson, Mrs. Caren Schulze and Miss Gail Wiltshire.

THE bridegroom's brother, Robert, a student at Upper Iowa university, was best man, and ushers were Charles Wagner of Cleveland, the bridegroom's cousin; Allen Biohm of Arlington Heights, the bride's cousin; and Earl Behrens of Arlington Heights.

As she came down the aisle, the bride wore a peau de soie wedding gown beaded with alencon lace appliques at the neckline and throughout the skirt. The gown had long pointed sleeves and a chapel length train.

She wore a matching crown with a 3-tiered bouffant veil of silk illusion and carried a corsage of two white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

WITNESSING the ceremony the bride's mother wore a light beige chiffon over taffeta sheath dress with chantilly lace bodice. Her accessories were brown, and she wore a cymbidium corsage. Mrs. Wagner chose a light beige lace sheath with beige accessories, and also wore a cymbidium corsage.

The couple honeymooned for one week in the Smoky mountains and Gatlinburg, Tenn.

The new Mrs. Wagner attended Arlington high school and is presently employed at Ekco-Alcoa Container Inc. in Wheeling. Mr. Wagner is a graduate of Luther North high school in Chicago and is employed by Quaker Oats Research Laboratory in Barrington. Jenart(S

3 Generations Take Part In Weseman-Garbe Rites

Three generations of Wesemans took part November 26 in the wedding service which united Miss Carole Weseman, daughter of the senior Earl Wesemans, 1107 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, and Bruce Garbe, son of the Felix Garbes of Los Angeles.

The first generation of Wesemans was represented by the birde's father, who gave her in marriage; the second was the bride and her brother, Earl Jr., who was an usher; and third was the bride's nephew, 5-year-old William Weseman, ringbearer, son of Earl Jr.

Rev. Edgar Behrens officiated at the candlelight, double ring service in Faith Lutheran church at 7 p.m. Two sprays of white mums decorated the church for the ceremony during which Tom Brooks sang "The Lord's Prayer." Guy D. Warke was organist.

A WHITE chantilly lace over taffeta gown was chosen by the bride. It was made with basque bodice, scooped neckline detailed with appliques of lace and iridescent sequins and long tapered sleeves. The skirt had alternating ruffles of pleated nylon and lace. Her fingertip veil was of silk illusion and the crown was of aurora borealis and seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of white mums and an orchid.

Miss Diane Gabrys of Elk Grove was maid of honor and bridesmaids were the bride's cousin, Sharon Schumacher of Arlington Heights, and the groom's sister, Janice Garbe of Los Angeles. Their gowns were identically fashioned of violet silk organza with ballerina skirts and fitted bodices. They wore matching violet headbands with circular milan veils. Their nosegays were of yellow mums, Miss Gabrys' tied with violet ribbon and the bridesmaids' with yellow ribbon.

THE LITTLE ring bearer was accompanied by 6-year-old Laurie Pengilly of Palatine, who was flower girl. Laurie wore an orchid organdy dress and carried a nosegay of yellow mums. Her headband was of the same flowers.

Best man was Tom Brooks of Ottawa, Ill. and ushers were the bride's brother of Carpentersville and Jim Phillips of Elgin.

(Bak Studios (S

Immediately following the 7 p.m. service, a reception for 200 was held in the Palatine Legion home. For their honeymoon, the couple is traveling to California, where they will make their future home.

THE BRIDE was graduated from Arlington high school last June and until her marriage was employed by Illinois Bell Telephone Co. in Arlington Heights. The bridegroom was graduated from Elgin Watch college and attended Bradley university.

Bride Uses Handkerchief From Grandmother's 'Day'

A lace handkerchief used in her grandmother's wedding ensemble provided a feminine counterpart of the traditional white satin costume worn by Miss Patsy Ruth Dunavan, when she became the bride of Alan Lange November 12 in the First Methodist church of Arlington Heights.

White baskets of Fuji mums, gladioli and snapdragons decorated the altar as Dr. Hughes B. Morris waited to unite the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dunavan of Burton pl., Arlington Heights, and the son of Mrs. Herbert Lange of Morton Grove, in a 4:30 p.m. candlelight service.

FASHIONED OF brocade satin, the bride's floor-length gown had a chapel train, scoop neck embroidered with seed pearls and irridescent sequins, and bustle back. The headpiece of white satin was topped with a self-made cabbage rose and held a shoulder-length veil. White orchids and lily of the valley made up the bridal bouquet.

For her December wedding Miss Dunavan's only attendant, Mrs. Glen Frederichs of Mt. Prospect, was attired in a holly red taffeta floor-length gown. Hair ornament chosen for the matron of honor was a large red satin rose; red nosegays, pink carnations and roses formed her bouquet.

BROCADED boleros enhanced the pink taffeta dresses worn by two 7-year-old flower girls, Betty Diane Lange of Palatine, and Diane Jean Frederichs, whose baskets were filled with pink nosegays and red carnations. Holiday pink silk organza with matching hat was worn by Mrs. Dunavan, her selection of gold in accessories was also used in a pink corsage.

Brown cymbidium orchids accented the beige lace outfit worn by the groom's mother, who, beside the Dunavans, received guests at a reception and buffet in Old Orchard country club following the rites. From Los Angeles came Ronald Lange, brother of the groom, to serve as best man. Also present were ushers, Kenneth O'Dell of Park Forest; and William Kennedy, Chicago.

AFTER JANUARY 1, the newlywed couple, who honeymooned at Miami Beach for two weeks, will make their home at 125 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights. The bride was graduated from Arlington Heights high school, attended the Art Institute of Chicago and the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts. She is now on the staff of John Plain and Co.

Now a student at Northwestern university, Mr. Lange completed studies at Lane Technical high school and Wright Junior college. In the capacity of CPA, he is employed by the Palmer Florida Corp. (Times (S

MELODY SQUARES

Melody Squares will hold only one dance this month, tomorrow night, Dec. 9. This will be the Christmas party and Santa is expected to put in an appearance. Each person is asked to bring one wrapped 50 cent gift.

Dancing will be from 8:30 to 11:30 at Pioneer Park fieldhouse, Arlington Heights, with Walter Meier calling. Refreshments will be served.

ARLINGTON SQUARES

Still in a holiday mood the night after Thanksgiving, the Arlington Squares gathered at South junior high school in Arlington Heights for some gay goings-on. Six guest couples joined the regular members for the post-holiday fun.

Another special guest was Miss Nancy Weissmueller, daughter of the Bill Weissmuellers, Nancy with a cast protecting her ankle, broken in a bicycle accident, wasn't up to square dancing but the word is "she sure does a neat 'bunny-hop' on her crutches."

Club officers ask members to note the following "for-December-only" change in the regular schedule: the Christmas party dance is tomorrow night rather than the usual fourth Friday and is the ONLY dance of the month. There will be no second Saturday dance for December.

THE dance tomorrow night will be held as usual at the South Junior high school starting at 8:30 p.m. Not "as usual" will be the performance of "Doc Heimbach and his wife, Irene, filling in for the club's regular callers, Bill and Marie Clarke. The Heimbachs have done this for several years and the welcome mat is always out for them.

Club members especially appreciate the appearance of these "regular irregulars" who come all the way from Blue Island to call the rounds and squares in the Clarkes' place.

Members and guests are requested to bring two 50 cent grab-bag gifts, one for paw and one for his taw, to fill Santa's pack. If all prospective guests will call refreshment chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Behm, to make reservations, there will be plenty of "goodies" for all.

REV. EUGENE SPAROW

Rev. Eugene Sparrow, director of field services for the Midcontinental Unitarian Universalist headquarters, will speak to Countryside Fellowship this Sunday morning on "Inherent Democracy—Fellowships."

In a brief resume of the subject, Rev. Sparrow says, "History records countle s s times when religion has affected people and cultures. Although we would sometimes like to believe that Christianity has been an enrichment of all cultures . . . . the record shows to the contrary. Very often a culture has decayed because a religion was superimposed due to its geography and historical accidents."

Tot Tumbles in Tub, Is Burned by Water

A 13-month old boy received second degree burns last week when he fell in a tub of hot water.

Treated at Northwest Community hospital is Jonathan Baker, Palatine who was injured on his legs, arms, and a portion of his body. He is in good condition.

Two persons were treated last week by the hospital emergency staff for dog bites. They are George Lee, 10, of Arlington Heights, and Robert Koziol, 32, of Palatine.

Power saws were responsible for three injuries during the week. Thomas Egan, 32, of Arlington Heights cut a finger on his left hand with a table saw; Roland Hallberg, 41, of Westchester, injured his thumb and middle finger; and Albert Dunham, 35, of Arlington Heights suffered a 1½-inch cut on a finger of his left hand.

James Westlake, 9, of Mt. Prospect, broke his left shoulder while wrestling. He is in good condition after being admitted for observation. Donald Sommers, 23, of Cary, suffered a half inch cut while playing basketball.

Four children underwent the stomach pumping treatment. They are George Luehrs, 1, of Arlington Heights, who swallowed spot remover; Teddy, 3, and Kyle Lunn, 2, of Mt. Prospect, who swallowed an unknown amount of aspirin; and Dirk Franzen, 3, of Arlington Heights, who also ate an unknown quantity of aspirin.

MAJORITY OF emergency room activity during the week was from patients who suffered cuts in falls. Quinnette Johnson, 1, of Rolling Meadows, fell on a coffee table and cut her tongue. Other coffee table victims are Steven Horst, 4, of Elk Grove village, who suffered a one-inch cut between the eyes, and Cynthia Peterson, 4, of Elk Grove village who received a one-inch cut of the scalp.

While 8-year-old William Kruckenberg, of Palatine, was sliding on the ice he fell and cut his leg on a metal gate. Stitches were taken in a 1¼-inch cut.

Michael Nash, 13 months, of Elk Grove village, fell off a couch and cut his upper lip, and William Pranke Jr., 4, of Roselle, fell out of bed and suffered a one-inch cut of the eye lid.

OTHER CUT victims are Michael Mueller, 2, of Elk Grove village; JoAnn Atkinson, 3, of Arlington Heights; Roserdo Perez, 34, of Mt. Prospect; Russel Koeppel, 22, of Arlington Heights; Peter Hunt, 2, of Elk Grove village; and Susan Fissell, 15 months, of Arlington Heights. (A13

Suitable Remarks For an Art Exhibit

by LUCILE ERNST

Recently I encouraged some of my friends to attend an art exhibit. Well, no, that isn't exactly true. Actually I begged, bribed, and nagged some friends into attending an exhibition. I can't imagine anyone not enjoying the experience. My friends managed to do just that. They not only did not enjoy it, they referred to it as a downright embarrassing experience. If I had just thought of it in time, it needn't have been embarrassing at all.

One of my friends had the unfortunate experience of having the artist at his elbow. My friend related that he simply could not think of a thing to say. He made little clucking noises as he viewed what appeared to him to be an inverted carrot immersed in a scrambled egg.

The artist kept whistling through his teeth and waiting for a word, any word. My friend just kept clucking. The word he should have used was "Interesting." I personally want to scream when I hear this word but it covers a situation neatly. You didn't lie and say it was good. You didn't say it was bad. Almost anything can be interesting. The worst thing you can do is not say anything as the artist will believe the worst.

I HAVE suffered this experience occasionally. Someone will stand and stare at my painting and then turn away quickly and, I suppose they believe tactfully, change the subject. I have seriously considered hitting them over the head but have always restrained myself. I would prefer them to say "I hate it." At least they are reacting.

The next problem my friend at the exhibit encountered was finding a painting he did like. It was placed against a wall and resembled a volcano erupting into some skinny blue hands, but good. My friend picked it up and waxed enthusiastic. He noticed the distrubed look on the artist's face and with a growing sense of horror, realized he was probably holding it upside down. Again, he need not have been embarrased. Most paintings are checked for composition by holding them upside down. All he had to say was "Nice composition," and he would automatically become an expert. How easy it is!

HALF THE fun of going to an exhibit is listening to what people say. Almost everyone will say "Interesting," at least once. If a painting has no color at all it may be referred to as, "Subtle," or possibly, "restrained." If the color knocks you down, it may be referred to as, "Colorful." Before a painting which is not downright lopsided, you will hear them enthralling about, "good design." Any painting which even the most imaginative fail to find a resemblance to anything living or dead, may evoke a tactful, "How decorative."

It is easy to spot other artists at an exhibition. If there are a good many paintings being shown, the more spiteful will mention how prolific the exhibitor is. This is a polite way of saying it looks like he might be turning them out like pancakes. If the paintings are rather sparse, a catty artist will hint broadly that the exhibitor is rather lazy and really should work harder.

IT IS at the moment of a sale that other artists can be most clearly spotted. They have a tendency to turn a lively shade of green.

Hollywood knows all about artists. For some reason or other they are just like Hollywood's idea of boxers, poor, brash, arrogant, and bad mannered, sort of the John Garfield type. I will admit I knew one artist that Hollywood would have loved. Unfortunately, he spent so much time being like John Garfield, he really didn't have time to paint. Aside from him, if one were going to generalize about artists, they are as a group rather shy uncertain people, a little nervous and rather vague. After all, they are almost the only people left in the world who are not ashamed of their dreams. They spend their lives painting their dreams so that we may share their peculiar beauty. It doesn't seem too much to give these gentle people a few kind words, even if it is just an, "Interesting." (BILL

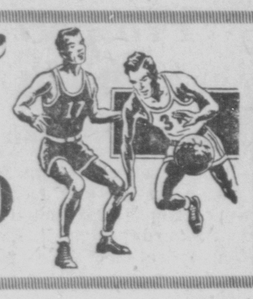
Prospect, Wheaton in Loop Headliner

LaGrange, Glenbard Next Arlington Tests

KICKIN' IT AROUND



by BOB FRISK

THE BASKETBALL RACES in the West Suburban conference and Interim assn. could well be repeats of the football title scrambles if the early returns can be taken as an adequate sampling of what's to come.

Hinsdale's Red Devils and Prospect's Knights, the class of their respective gridiron championship chases this fall, are off to unbeaten starts after two weeks of hardwood firing and the prep experts are casting them in the favorites roles for the WSC and Interim crowns.

We may know more about these selections Friday evening around 10 o'clock because the two teams expected to have the most reason to argue about the pre-season choices will get a chance to back up their claims tomorrow in two area headliners.

These same prep prognosticators who tag Hinsdale and Prospect as the teams to beat also favor Maine township East and Wheaton as the squads most likely to succeed if the Red Devils and Knights don't live up to expectations.

And Friday night Hinsdale invades Maine and Prospect journeys to Wheaton!

It's pretty early in the respective title chases to label any games as crucial and vital to the championship picture but Friday's battles in the West Suburban and Interim appear to be as crucial as two contests could be in early December.

Both Hinsdale and Prospect, the defending champs in their respective divisions, have had their shaky moments in the infant season but both have come through when it counted. Both have been pushed and both have had those effortless victories.

Hinsdale has two impressive scorers in 6-3 Hal Brandt, the All-State quarterback in football who's trying his hardest to repeat on the hardwood, and 6-2 Bob Haarlow, only a junior with a varsity season already on record.

Brandt finished sixth in the West Suburban conference scoring race last winter and his early season outputs this year indicate that he's going to have another impressive campaign. Haarlow dumped in 165 points for a 12th place finish though only a sophomore.

Coach Larry Hoff complements these two boys with 6-3 Jeff Munn, a rapidly improving center who poured through 17 last Friday against a good York quintet, and 5-11 Jim McAlpin and Bill Walsh, two of the fastest back-court men in the conference.

Prospect, of course, is an all-veteran aggregation, and Coach Dick Kinneman has that impressive combination of adequate size in the front-line and some capable operators in the back-court. He doesn't have that big pivotman (in the 6-6 on up class) but he has a burly front-line, one that won't get pushed around when the action gets tough under the boards.

The Knights like to play defense and in four games have limited opponents to an average of only 38.5 points per game. In 24 contests last winter Prospect's opponents could average only 48 points per game.

Although both Hinsdale and Prospect have the talent, they face difficult tasks Friday in Maine East and Wheaton.

Both Maine and Wheaton have size. They also have experience. They feature good shooters and capable performers under the boards.

We'll stick with the defending champs but the Red Devils and Knights will have to be ready Friday. Everyone's shooting for the pre-season favorites and Maine and Wheaton have a lot to shoot with!

THIS 'N THAT:

When Arlington's Jim Clabaugh tossed in 38 points against Evanston to break a school scoring record, he didn't break a mark held by George Bork and Bill Randag as previously reported . . . The former varsity scoring mark at Arlington high was 37 points established by Jay Vawter in 1952 . . . A check of the files showed that Vawter, a 6-7 pivotman who registered 245 points in 14 West Suburban games in the 1951-52 campaign, hit his 37 on Feb. 23, 1952 against St. Edwards of Elgin . . . Eugene Crandall of Rolling Meadows, a Palatine high grad, and George Sell of Bensenville received varsity letters at Knox College in cross country this fall . . . Glenbrook high school is planning the Spartan Relays next spring and hopes it will develop into one of the top track attractions in northern Illinois . . . Haskell Tison, the 6-11 giant in Geneva's giant prep outfit, collected 40 points against Batavia last Friday . . . Hinsdale's Hal Brandt, mentioned earlier in the column for his basketball talents, has been awarded the Fielding Yost trophy by the University of Michigan as the top football player in the Chicago area.

How good is Ohio State's basketball team this winter? Jim Snyder, Ohio U. coach whose team became the Buckeyes' first victim of the new season, remarked, "The only weakness I could see in Ohio State was that the manager was a little slower bringing the towel to the huddle at timeouts!"

Cardinals Seek First League Win

A club that's enjoying pronounced success against non-conference aggregations hopes to start a winning streak against league opponents this weekend when it engages two formidable West Suburban entries.

Arlington high's basketball Cardinals, unbeaten in four tests outside of league play but dumped in their only WSC clash, will travel to LaGrange Friday evening and host Glenbard West Saturday in the first of three weekend double-bills against conference squads.

Coach Frank Bohac's varsity extended its non-league winning streak to four straight with an easy rout of Glenbrook last Saturday, but the Cards opened their West Suburban season Friday with a 52-48 setback at Downers Grove.

BOTH TILTS this weekend will be preceded by frosh-soph games at 7 p.m. as Ken Schaller's young squad also seeks its first conference victory.

At LaGrange

Arlington		LaGrange
5-4 Clabaugh	F	Bolum	6-0
6-1 Witt	F	Willoghby	6-1
6-4 Jacobsen	C	Chana	6-5
6-1 Close or	G	Ruggles	5-10
5-10 Koeppen
5-10 Brodnan	G	Quane	5-9

TIME:
Frosh-Soph game, 7 p.m., Friday
COACHES:
Arlington, Frank Bohac; LaGrange, Art Sandusky
OFFICIALS:
Bob Young and Kevin Donlan

The Cards experienced an unfortunate dry spell at the outset of the game last Friday and although they rallied and pulled ahead in the third period, Downers still came through with a triumph.

Arlington went over four minutes without scoring a point against the Trojans before soph Gary Brodnan hit from close in.

THE CARDS have to be on this weekend as both LaGrange and Glenbard West boast capable quintets. Glenbard handled the Lions 68-57 in the league opener although LaGrange sent its one-man scoring gang off to the races and he responded with 32 points.

Dick Ruggles, a 5-10 guard and an All-WSC selection as a junior, dumped in those 32 markers, and he'll be the boy to watch Friday as the Cards invade LaGrange. Ruggles hit 31 points in the Lions' two wins over Arlington last winter and finished with 211 in 14 league encounters.

Although Ruggles is the key to the LaGrange attack and carries the scoring load, Coach Art Sandusky has some other capable performers.

THE ONLY junior in the starting alignment is 6-5 Fred

West Allis Feature

Skating Club Coach Records Two Thirds

After meeting head on with the top mid-west skaters at West Allis, Wisc., last Saturday, the young Mt. Prospect Skating Club continued to show impressively in the fastest competition.

Leading point scorer for the local club was its Head Coach, Helen Joy Lutsch, who took three third place medals in the senior women's events. Miss Lutsch, reigning Illinois State outdoor champion, continues to press national leaders in her division. She demonstrated, again, to the youngsters she coaches on the Mount Prospect Club, proper skating techniques and racing strategy.

Bob Grady came to the front in this meet as a strong juvenile contender for State championship honors. Bobby skated a close fourth in the 220 yard sprint. His work throughout the meet was of championship quality. Skaters from Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois and the host state of Wisconsin were represented in each division.

THE CROWD at West Allis was thrilled by the performance of Billy Grady and Dick Solley, the "Pony Express" team of the local club. Grady, a six-year-old making his first try in the big time, qualified for the 110 yard final. The other team half, seven year old Dick Solley, also qualified for the same final event. Unfortunately, both youngsters took unscheduled tumbles in the final event. The West Allis crowd, however, adopted these two mighty mites and gave them an encouraging cheer for their first big effort.

Other Mount Prospect skaters who reached the final events in their classes, but failed to score were Tommy Haenisch and Jim Rybarczyk. Both were strong contenders in their final events until unfortunate falls hurt their chances. Among the new young skaters, Lene Lindstrom of Arlington Heights, skating in the midget class, did herself proud in her baptism in open national competition.

OFFICIALS of the Mount Prospect Club are hard at work completing their plans for the presentation of the first Winter Carnival skating meet at Lions Park, Monday, January 2. A complete program of speed skating events will be held, and the appearance of all four Illinois representatives on the 1960 Olympic skating team is expected.

The Flying Tiger squad of the Mount Prospect Club, a group of indoor speed skating specialists, will next attend the Olympic Fund Meet to be held Monday evening, December 12th, at the Michael Kirby Ice Bowl at 74th and Loomis in Chicago. This meet will again bring together the finest skaters in the midwest.

New members of the club are eagerly awaiting weather that will permit the flooding of the Lions Park skating area, so that coaching and practice under safe conditions can begin. The club acquired an enthusiastic group of young skaters in its "kick off" meeting registration.

Frosh Invitational

Prospect's frosh wrestlers will compete in the third annual frosh invitational at Barrington high school Saturday. Eight schools will battle in the mat test with 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. starting times for the two sessions. Joining Prospect will be Crystal Lake, Barrington, Dundee, McHenry, Libertyville, Palatine, and Batavia.

Arlington Frosh Tip Glenbrook

Arlington rallied from a nine point deficit after three periods to stun Glenbrook 32-31 Saturday morning in a frosh "A" cage test on the Spartans' hardwood.

The young Cardinals, coached by Rog Steingraber, trailed 18-17 at halftime and were behind 29-20 going into the final stanza before putting on their rush.

Greg Buczynski topped the Cards' scoring in their first game of the season with 10 markers and also turned in a strong game on the boards. Jim Murray collected eight and Jeff Beckman and Fred Devin added four for the winners.

Arlington's frosh have an open date this weekend and will host St. Charles Saturday, Dec. 17, for their home opener of the season.

Palatine Pirates Here on Saturday

by BOB FRISK

They should pack 'em in at Wheaton Friday evening.

The rangy hosts, boasting seven boys on the varsity roster who stand 6-4 or taller, and Prospect's highly-regarded Knights will get together in an Interim assn. opener that could go a long way in deciding the loop crown.

Both clubs have the experience and both are unbeaten after the non-league tuneups. Both have creditable height, but Wheaton rates the overall edge in that department.

Although the veteran-stocked Knights handled the Tigers on two occasions last winter, hitting 96 points for a school mark in one affair, Coach Dick Kinneman's crew can't take Friday's league opener lightly.

AL DUHM could also put five lettermen on the floor for Wheaton and a tall, experienced front-line combined with some capable back-court men give the Tigers a formidable aggregation.

Friday's clash will be the first of two weekend encounters for Kinneman's Knights with Prospect hosting Palatine of the North Suburban league Saturday evening in a non-conference game.

Both tilts will be preceded by 7 p.m. battles with the JVs of Ted Wissen in Friday's lidlifter and the frosh-sophs of Bob Hoese in Saturday's prelim.

WHEATON'S Duhm wasn't set on a starting alignment at the outset of the week but did indicate that 6-5½ Jimmy Jones and 6-1 John Pfund would be definite starters.

Jones tallied only nine points in two tries at the Prospect defense last season but has been impressive in early season efforts and is a key figure in the Tigers' attack.

Pfund is one of the top guards in the area and was named to the all-Interim team last winter. The son of the Wheaton College coach didn't find the Knights' defense too difficult to handle in the 1959-60 meetings and collected 35 points in those two battles.

THE 6-1 GUARD pumped in 128 points in ten Interim games for a sixth place ranking in the league.

Either Dick Kee, a 5-8 junior, or Al Lange, a 5-10 junior, will operate with Pfund at guard, but the forward slots are definite question-marks.

Four boys are in line for the two forward berths. Duhm will decide between 6-4 Art Tischiva, 6-6½ Jack Hutchinson, 6-1 Neil Close, and 6-4 Tom Fitzsimmons.

TISCHIVA, Hutchinson, and Fitzsimmons are returning lettermen and Close is a transfer from Washington who should see extensive action.

Wheaton has handled two West Suburban quintets in its first two games this season. The Tigers routed Downers Grove 66-48 and edged Glenbard West 52-51.

Kinneman will stick with his front-line of George Pomey, Bill Zadel, and Dick Palmer against Wheaton with Fred Lussow and Fred Empkie manning the back-court.

POMEY, A standout in the Knights' first four victories, has 62 markers for a 15.5 per game average. Zadel has pumped in 60.

Lussow, the squad's top scorer as a junior with 317 points, came back with 20 last weekend after a slow start and ranks third in the scoring parade with 32 counters.

A rapidly improving Palatine quintet will furnish Prospect with some non-league competition Saturday night with the encounter in the Knights' fieldhouse.

COACH DICK Kolze's Pirates only stand 1-3 for the season but two of the losses have been in overtime. After falling by 18 to Arlington in the season opener, Palatine dropped an overtime battle with Dundee, edged Libertyville, and fell in another overtime clash with Zion-Benton.

Kolze will open with 6-1 John Seehausen and 6-3 Denny Christensen at the forwards, 6-7 soph Ron Kozlicki at center, and 5-10 Jon Fabri and 5-10 Curt Marker at the guards.

Christensen and Kozlicki have both netted 49 points in four games and Seehausen has chipped in with 46. Seehausen and Febri have the high individual game outputs with 20 each.

Prospect leveled Palatine 65-48 last season but had to recover from a slow start.

Cards Take Opener in Gymnastics

Senior Bill Sayre and junior Jerry Russell each won two events Tuesday afternoon as the defending state gymnastics champions of Arlington high school launched their 1960-61 schedule with a 79-52 victory over Niles.

Sayre, the state champion in tumbling, won his specialty and also copped the Trampoline, and Russell topped the field on the parallel bar and rings. Jerry added a second on the horizontal bar to his pair of firsts.

State side horse champ Dick Wetzel ruled his specialty with scores of 84 and 81 and finished fifth on rings for nine team points.

JUNIOR BOB Cordaro took two seconds for Coach Gay Hughes' Cardinals on the Trampoline and in tumbling, and senior Larry Brousseau finished second on the side horse and fifth on the horizontal bar.

Lars Anderson gained eight team points with thirds on the horizontal bar and parallel bar. Other thirds for the locals were taken by Len Witter on rings and Pete Engle in tumbling.

Arlington won five of the six events insofar as actual team points with the host Trojans gaining a tie on the horizontal bar. The Cards' biggest spread came in tumbling where they piled up a 16-5 advantage thanks to a 1-2 finish by Sayre and Cordaro.

Arlington's varsity and frosh-soph gymnasts will travel to Maine West Tuesday for a meet at 4:15 p. m.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

A NEW STATE WIDE RULE on limitation of participation in track meets of all kinds goes into effect this coming season. Except for the state series of meets there has been no limitation on the numbers of events in which a boy could compete. The new rule is as follows: "In all scholastic track and field meets, except the state championship series, no school belonging to this association shall permit a student to participate in more than four events. Not more than three of these four may be track events, and of these, not more than two shall be events in which he runs 440 yards or more." If preliminary competition is held in any event the preliminaries shall count as one event. Meet managers may be more restrictive but never allow more participation than the state rule. This applies to relay meets, triangulars, and all types of track and field competition. The purpose of the rule is to prevent over competition by any one boy and to give more boys a chance to participate in track and field events.

SUCCESSFUL ATHLETIC COMPETITION is an important goal for American young people and schools and community organizations are making an effort to expand athletic programs and permit wider participation. The benefits of athletics for the boy while in school and in later life are well known and accepted.

One of the areas which comes up for discussion when disadvantages are mentioned is that of injuries. A great deal has been accomplished in the past quarter of a century in this area.

There was a time when the coach or trainer put a little tape on an injured player and sent him back in the game. The attitude of some coaches was that a boy who would not go back in the game or stay in following an injury was "yellow." Everyone realizes today that the welfare of the individual, the team, and game is best served by immediate attention to injuries by one competent to attend to such matters. Football teams now have a doctor on the bench or readily available at games. The successful coach of today is a protector of his players and cooperates in a team which includes himself, the trainer, the physician and possibly the specialist. The program of this group is to give prompt attention to injuries and start a program of rehabilitation with the goal of returning the player to competition as soon as is safely possible.

YEARS AGO BOTH COACHES and players were fearful of doctors. Too many physicians were not in sympathy with athletics and would advise dropping the sports and encouraging a long period of recovery. As a result coaches tried to handle minor injuries themselves and when the boys did arrive at the physician's office they were in bad shape. Now with cooperation there are fewer serious injuries, the period of disability is shorter and recovery is more complete.

Early examination and prompt treatment is one of the most important factors. Asking the athlete to wait from Fridy night to Monday morning to see how the injury comes along before seeing a physician may mean an extra week on the sidelines.

20 YEARS AGO

Crane Tech won the city title last year and with their three best players returning came to Palatine Saturday night for a warmup but got the surprise of their lives. Coach McElroy's slick ball handlers led all the way to win 30-26. The Crane coach took his team off the floor in a display of anger in the final minute of play as Palatine played a control game against the visitors' zone defense . . . Friday the Pirates continued to dominate the Northwest Conference beating Northbrook 39-17 with a balanced scoring effort in which Hahnfeldt got nine and Schwolow eight. Palatine tops both varsity and light-divisions in the Northwest Conference taking on strong Barrington teams Friday . . . Barrington beat Bensenville 16-9 with Gutnik getting 8 of the Bisons' 9 counters. Arlington lost 31-20 to Lake Forest. Coach Hays seems to have no one who can get more than 3 field goals in a game.

10 YEARS AGO

Palatine defeated Northbrook 44-34 as Schrage, a sophomore, tossed in 16 points for the winners. Bensenville lost 56-41. Bob Nolan of Wauconda who is averaging 23 a game scored 25 against the Bisons who were led by Palm with 11 points . . . Arlington lost 41-40 and 29-28 in a double bill with Downers Grove. Bob Evans scored 20 for the Cardinals . . . An extra regional in the state series will be held in this area this year with Barrington assigned as the host school . . . Palatine is keeping pace with Barrington in the Northwest with three league wins in a row.

Glenbrook Wrestlers Rout Cards

Glenbrook jumped off to an 18-0 lead after six bouts and coasted in with a decisive 33-10 varsity wrestling victory over Arlington's Cards last Saturday afternoon.

The host Spartans registered successive decisions from 95 through 133 until the Cardinals' Tim O'Gorman managed a 1-1- deadlock with highly-regarded Vic Lyczak. Lyczak finished fourth in the state at 133 last winter.

O'Gorman held a 1-0 lead going into the third period before the Spartan veteran gained a tie.

MIKE KOENIG picked up a decision for Arlington at 145 with an impressive 2-0 conquest of Schuyler Huck. Koenig gained a first period takedown and held on for the victory.

The other triumph for Bob Emmons' varsity came in the 180 pound class where Glenbrook was forced to forfeit.

The Cardinals lost several close decisions in their opening meet of the 1960-61 season with letterman Denny Fitz-Patrick bowing 4-2 at 95 pounds. Another letterman, John Anderson, was blanked 2-0 at 112 and senior Tim Smith dropped a one-point, 3-2, decision at 120.

In other matches soph Bob Hoehle lost 3-0 at 103, junior Ken Adams lost 4-0 at 127, junior Byron Cuff bowed 6-0 at 133, and junior Bob Burm was pinned in the heavyweight test.

Arlington's varsity and frosh-soph wrestlers will host Palatine Saturday, Dec. 10, at 2 p.m. in the battle for PA's bucket and will also host Fenton next Tuesday, Dec. 13, at 4:15 p.m.

Important Notice

Wrestling fans should enter the north door of the foyer, not the extreme north door of the gymnasium, for Saturday afternoon's match between Arlington and Palatine in the AHS gym. This is expected for each home wrestling meet at Arlington but especially Saturday because all the doors will be open for voting. The meet starts at 2 p.m.

Arlington Basketball

Chana but Sandusky has three other seniors in addition to Ruggles. 6-0 Nick Bolum and 6-1 John Willoughby handle the forwards with 5-9 Larry Quane opposite Ruggles in the back-court.

Of the starters only Bolum and Ruggles scored in West Suburban games last season.

The Lions stand 2-2 this season with wins over Morton and Oak Park of the Suburban league.

GLENBARD'S Hilltoppers, a sectional finalist last winter, also stands 2-2 this season with wins over LaGrange and Aurora West and tight losses to Dundee and Wheaton.

Bob Metcalf's unit got off to a slow start but has been playing some impressive basketball in its latest outings. Metcalf doesn't have any lettermen back at Glenbard but has some rangy boys in 6-6 Don Niemann, 6-6 Dave Muller, and 6-5 Bill Peterson.

Niemann and Peterson are starters with Muller an alternate at both forward and center.

GUARD BILL Power has been the Bards' top scorer, and the 6-1 senior dumped in 20 against LaGrange. Power was a transfer from Philadelphia last season who was ineligible the first semester but worked as sixth man in Glenbard's closing rush which netted 12 victories in the last 14 games.

Another transfer who should see extensive action if he's ready Saturday is 6-0 Paul Vernon. Vernon is a transfer from Edwardsville where he was a starter but he's been bothered with foot trouble this winter.

Rounding out Glenbard's probable starting alignment for Saturday will be 6-2 Bill Millichap and 6-1 Brian Farney. Millichap tossed in 17 in the league opene.

Arlington Soph Gym Unit Wins

Arlington high's frosh-soph gymnasts experienced a rough opener Tuesday afternoon but managed to record a 67-65 victory over a host Niles team.

The young Cardinals of Mike Karon outscored the Trojans in only two events but wrapped up a decisive advantage on rings with Bill Kelley and Bob Edie finishing 1-2.

Arlington held a 12-10 margin on the Trampoline with Jim Lippert first and Bob Frohne third and gained ties on the side horse and parallel bar.

BOB PADDOCK was an easy winner on the side horse and Kelley and Don Schaefer combined for nine points with a second and third on the parallel bar.

Kelley was a busy individual for Karon's Cards with a fourth on the side horse, fourth on the horizontal bar, second on the parallel bar, and first on rings.

Prospect's frosh-soph gymnasts will travel to Maine West next Tuesday for a meet at 4:15 p.m.

Prospect Captures Jayvee Tilt

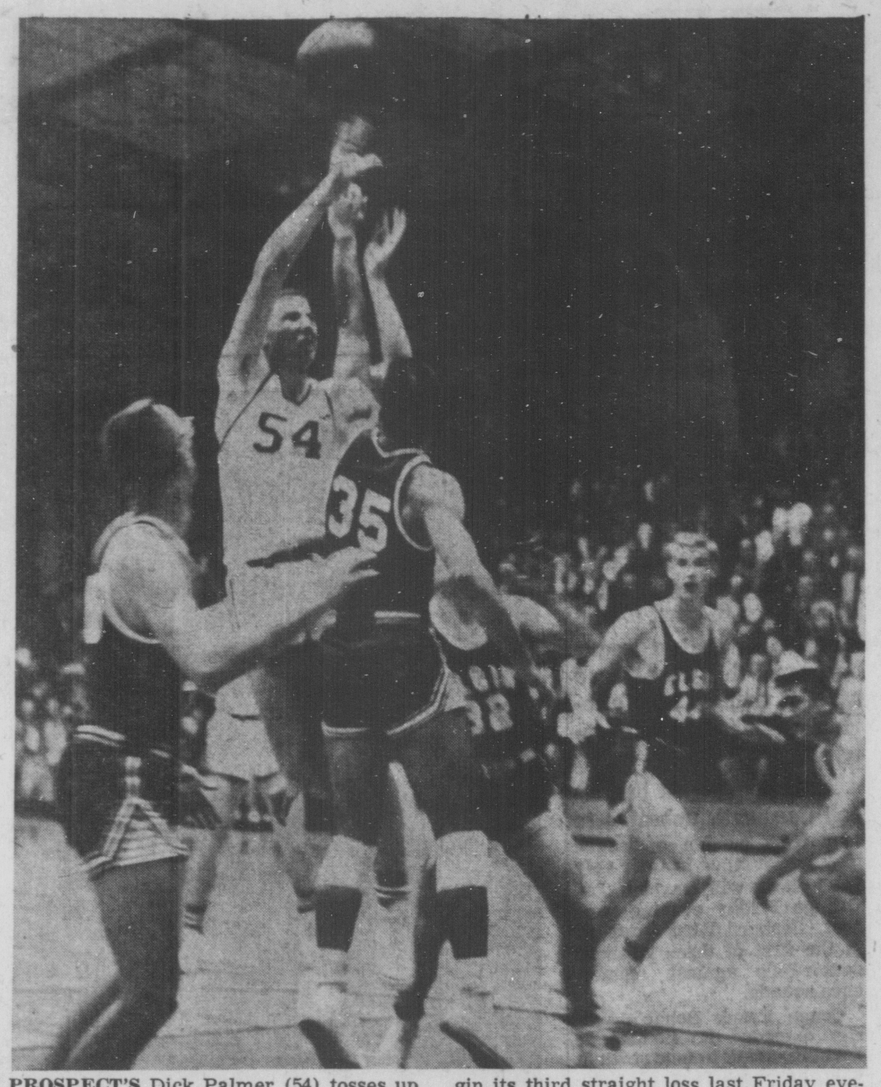
Chuck Andrews poured in 20 points to lead Prospect high to an easy 58-34 win over Fenton in a junior varsity tilt at Fenton Saturday.

The Knights built up a commanding 26-14 halftime edge and then coasted easily to victory, their first of the year against no setbacks.

FENTON, on the other hand, has now dropped two straight jayvee tests while still in search of its first success.

High point honors for the Bisons were divided by Don Adis and Phil Floring, both of whom registered 11 tallies.

Doug Spaulding dropped in 14 to aid the victors' cause.



PROSPECT'S Dick Palmer (54) tosses up a shot from in front of the basket despite the defensive efforts of Elgin's Britt Farroh (35). The unbeaten Knights handed Elgin its third straight loss last Friday evening with a smashing 65-28 conquest in the Prospect fieldhouse.

Kits Pose No Problem For Knights

Prospect Gains Fourth Straight Cage Victory

by TOM McSHANE

The Prospect Knights faced a zone defense and a control-style offense and routed both last Saturday night in Evanston to claim their fourth straight victory of the young season.

The Knights whipped the Wildkits 51-30, and posted their second superb defensive performance of the weekend. Friday night Prospect held Elgin to 28 points.

Prospect jumped right off to a 10-2 lead in the opening minutes on the shooting of Bill Zadel and George Pomey. The two big men both made six points as the Knights came up with a 14-7 first quarter bulge.

EVANSTON played control ball for two and a half quarters, bringing the ball down and setting up plays deliberately, waiting for openings. The Wildkits were hampered all along by a pressing Prospect defense that broke up several thrusts. In the second quarter the press held Evanston to two free throws while the Prospect offense moved the Knights to a 24-9 lead.

The Knights really opened up in the third period, scoring 21 points while holding Evanston to seven. Fred Lussow led the way with six points. Fred Empkie hit five free throws and Pomey sank four of four. At the end of the quarter Prospect was ahead by 29 points, 45-16.

The Wildkits came back in the fourth period to outscore the Prospect second stringers 14-6.

Pomey led the scorers with 11 points for the night. Zadel and Lussow had 10 apiece. The Prospect starters hit on 13 of 14 free throws to set a new mark.

The Knights journey to Wheaton Friday night and host Palatine Saturday in their Foundry rd. field house.

Downers Grove Wins

Cards Fall, 52-48, In Conference Tilt

by BOB FRISK

Arlington waited over four minutes for its initial point, desperately fought back to claim the lead for the first time midway in the third period, but couldn't hold on in an exciting West Suburban battle at Downers Grove last Friday evening.

The host Trojans regained the lead in the closing seconds of that third quarter and held back the Cardinals' final challenge in fashioning a 52-48 conference victory.

Downers' conquest was its first of the young season and it snapped Arlington's winning streak at three games. Friday's clash was the league opener for both hardwood quintets.

Sophomore Chuck Close canned a 20 foot jump shot midway in the third stanza to give Arlington its first lead of the game, a 32-31 margin, and when he followed with a driving layup, the Cardinals appeared on their way.

BUT A determined Downers team wasn't ready to throw in the towel. Mike Hogrefe connected on one of two free throw attempts with 2:06 remaining in the third period and after Jim Clabaugh boosted Arlington with a layup Wynn Miller matched Clabaugh with a two-pointer of his own.

Miller hit again and following a Downers Grove steal, Hogrefe banged home a tip to give the Trojans a 38-36 lead going into the fourth period.

Four free throws, two each by Bill Gurican and Rich Coffin, sent Downers off to a 42-36 lead with 6:22 remaining in the game but Clabaugh counted from out front.

IT WAS Gurican again from the foul line and when the 5-9 guard connected on a pair, Coach Guy Wellman's hosts were on top 44-38.

Downers increased its lead to eight points with 3:22 remaining in the WSC opener when Coffin dumped in two more charity throws, but Rusty Blix got Arlington back into the scoring column and cut the Trojans' margin to 46-40.

Hogrefe, the 6-4 pivotman who played a key role in the Downers Grove victory, stuffed in a rebound, and Arlington's Gary Brodnan netted his third basket with 2:38 remaining.

CLOSE was fouled by Coffin with 2:15 left and the soph collected his tenth and eleventh markers to push Arlington within four.

With 53 seconds remaining and following an unsuccessful Downers stall, Clabaugh popped in two free throws to cut the hosts' lead to two, slim points. That's when 5-9 Dave Wotring took over to kill off the Cardinals' final hopes.

Wotring came down the floor and banged in a jump shot off the backboard and with only ten seconds remaining the little guard dumped in two free throws to give Downers a comfortable six point lead.

Arlington collected the final points when Skip Witt counted a basket but only served to narrow the final margin to 52-48.

COACH Frank Bohac's Cards had moved off to their slowest start of the season when they failed to find the range for over four nimutes of the first period. In the meantime Downers jumped off to a 7-0 lead.

Brodnan recorded the Cards' first points with a five-footer but Miller matched the sophomore with a jump shot from the key.

CLABAUGH sent home a layup and free throw but Downers tallied the final four points of the quarter and held a 13-5 lead.

Arlington closed the gap with an explosive second period and hit a string of seven straight points to pull within two at 20-18. An off-balance layup by Bill Duffy gave the Trojans a 22-18 lead but Clabaugh hit from the free throw line.

RESERVE Ross Retterer tallied on a tip-in as the first half drew to a close and Arlington trailed by only one, 22-21 at the intermission.

Close was the key man in the surge that eventually carried the Cards past the Trojans in the third period. Chuck tallied seven of his points in the third segment, two on long 20-footers.

Clabaugh tied Downers' Miller and Hogrefe for game scoring honors with 15 and Close chipped in with 11. Arlington's second leading scorer this season, 6-4 Bob Jacobsen, was handicapped throughout with fouls and eventually left the encounter at the outset of the fourth period.

Downers Grove's Sophs Dump Cards

Dave Screbant hit eight straight shots in the first half and finished with 22 points for his evening's work to spark Downers Grove's frosh-soph quintet to an effortless 62-35 victory over Arlington last Friday evening.

Screbant collected 10 points in the first period, eight in the second and sat out most of the final two stanzas as the hosts raced away from the visiting Cardinals.

Thirteen boys scored for the highly-touted Downers sophomores in the opening West Suburban conference game for both squads.

THE young Trojans jumped off to an 18-11 first period lead and increased that margin to 30-16 at halftime. Downers led 49-23 after three periods and the reserves took over after that.

Arlington poured in only nine baskets in the four quarters and forward Ken Seeger collected four of those. Seeger had eight points on his four baskets but center Phil O'Connell emerged as the locals' top scorer with ten points on two baskets and six free throws.

Arlington's best period offensively came in the final seven minutes when the reserves combined for 12 points.

Ken Wessling hit on five of seven free throws in the final period and Eric Berg registered three charity tosses.

Glenbrook Handles Frosh-Soph Matmen

Arlington held a 9-8 lead after five matches but Glenbrook won the next six, five on pins, and wrapped up a 36-14 victory last Saturday afternoon in a frosh-soph meet on the Spartans' mat.

The young Cards, coached by Julius Fliehler, fell behind 8-0 after the first two bouts but bounced back on three straight decisions by Kendell Bond, Mike Ryan, and Terry Witt to take the lead.

That's when Glenbrook went to work and recorded pins at 133, 138, 145, and 154 to pile up a 28-9 lead. The Spartans copped a decision at 165 and added another pin at 180 before Arlington's frosh heavyweight Ray Goertz pinned his opponent in 5:55.

Arlington's frosh-soph matmen will host Palatine Saturday, Dec. 10 at 2 p.m. and will also meet Fenton next Tuesday, Dec. 13, in another home match.

Arlington Sophs Topple Glenbrook In Non-Loop Tilt

Glenbrook registered more baskets from the field than Arlington and still lost by 15 points in a frosh-soph hardwood encounter last Saturday evening.

The visiting Spartans collected 12 baskets to the Cards' ten but Arlington's parade to the foul line paid off in a 47-32 non-league victory.

COACH KEN Schaller's frosh-sophs hit on 27 of 39 free throw attempts and added to their ten baskets had enough to topple the visitors by 15 points.

Center Phil O'Connell hit his season high with 15 points, nine via free throws, and ten boys chipped in with markers as the young Cardinals won their second game of the 1960-61 season.

Arlington moved off to a 14-6 first period lead with O'Connell and freshman Joe Mueller collecting five points each and held a 26-19 halftime margin. O'Connell tossed in five points in a third period that saw the Cards pull away to a 38-24 lead.

THE RESERVES got into action in the final segment but Arlington still outscored the outmanned visitors.

O'Connell's 15 was high for both squads and Ken Seeger added 10 for the Cards. Mueller registered eight to finish third in the Arlington point derby.

Elgin Routed, 65-28

Prospect's Knights Humiliate Maroons!

by TOM McSHANE

Prospect humiliated Elgin 65-28 last Friday night. It was the third straight basketball victory of the season for the undefeated Knights.

And the defeat was one of the worst an Elgin squad has met in recent years.

Led by Big George Pomey and Bill Zadel, the Knights moved ahead in the opening minute and never were headed. A tremendous Prospect defensive effort held the Maroons to quarters of six, eight, eight and six points, completely bottling up their attack. Pressed hard by the eager Knights, the Watch City lads repeatedly threw the ball away or lost it in attempting to set up plays.

Zadel started things moving for Prospect with two quick baskets as the game opened. An Elgin score made it 4-2, but baskets by Fred Lussow and Zadel and free throws by Pomey and Zadel moved Prospect ahead 10-2 with 4:42 left in the quarter.

A SECOND Elgin basket keyed a nine-point Knight spurt during which Pomey scored five points to lead his mates to a 19-4 advantage. The third Elgin counter made it 19-6 at the buzzer.

The second quarter was a repeat of the first, with Pomey contributing four more baskets as the Knights pulled to a 33-14 halftime lead.

In the third period the Knights out-rimmed the Maroons 18-8 to leave the floor with a 51-22 lead. The final quarter saw the Prospect second stringers ring in 14 more while holding Elgin to six. Tommy Thomas, the only junior on Coach Dick Kinneman's squad, led the reserves with five points.

GEORGE POMEY

POMEY WAS the high scorer for the game with 18 points. Zadel had 12, and Lussow had 10. Chuck Anderson and Howard Bramer were high for Elgin with eight apiece.

Prospect opens its defense of the Interim association championship Friday night in Wheaton against a strong Tiger squad in what promises to be the toughest game of the season so far for the Knights.

Arlington's Frosh 'B' Unit Wins

Garron Kokai and Jerry Reinwaldt each collected 10 points to spark Arlington high's frosh "B" basketball team to a 34-18 victory over Glenbrook last Saturday in the season opener.

Coach Bob Rees' Cardinals jumped off to a 10-7 first period lead and never trailed as they wrapped up their first triumph as high school hardwood performers.

Brian Karp chipped in with six and Mirrel Kephart, Mike Fitzpatrick, and Ray Merkel collected two each for the young Cardinals. Reinwaldt also picked off eight rebounds to lead in that department.

Intelligence—dogs vs man —

Dogs are more likely to show intelligence in specific situations rather than in a way that corresponds to general intelligence in man, according to Dr. John L. Fuller, senior scientist of the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial laboratory, speaking at the veterinary symposium on "The Newer Knowledge About Dogs," sponsored by Gaines Dog Research center and held at Kankakee.

A very intelligent human can be trained to perform well on a variety of tasks provided he is motivated, said Dr. Fuller. However, in general behavior studies on dogs, correlations between performances on different tests are usually low so that selecting on the basis of one particular ability is not likely to have affect on other abilities. One other subject which Dr. Fuller mentioned was that in the field of genetics the present vast assemblages of dog breeds is perhaps the world's best example of the power of artificial selection to mold a species, but despite this great practical achievement, dog breeders have made less use of the principles of genetics than have breeders of farm animals.

Go for a walk —

Now is the time to get out and walk, at least before the snow gets too deep. Even then it is not a bad idea. Above all take the dog along, he can use the fresh air just as well as you.

Speaking along these lines, it does seem strange that folks who are so weight-conscious these days and are spending a lot of hard earned cash on this and that diet, would do just as well if they owned a dog and would take him out for a walk — and also learn to push themselves away from the table after the first helping. With the holiday season starting, it would be a good idea to think about such things.

Well known—and will be missed —

The death last week of Mrs. Peter G. Spilios of Palatine, well known breeder and owner of Irish Setters, will leave a void that will be felt all over the country. Especially among those who, of course, knew her and used to see her at shows.

One of her dogs, "Terry Terhune," was an outstanding and well known champion with many an award to his credit. To her husband, Pete, and son, Bill, nothing more can be said that has not already been repeated many times.

Barks and Bays

With thoughts of trips home for the holidays, think of Max, a fox terrier of Scarsdale, N.Y., who was found swimming eight miles away after having been lost from his family's cabin cruiser in Long Island sound.

Arlington's Cards Stop Glenbrook

Local Varsity in Easy 60-39 Hardwood Victory

By BOB FRISK

In what developed into little more than a Saturday night workout, and not a real good one at that, Arlington high's varsity Cardinals ran over Glenbrook 60-39 in a non-league encounter on the AHS hardwood.

The West Suburban entry, tagged with its first defeat of the season on Friday night, had too much in all departments for the outmanned visitors Saturday and increased its point production in each period, finishing with a 20 point flurry in the final stanza.

Glenbrook experienced a brief period of prosperity at the outset of the game but it was short-lived and when the Cards gained the lead at 7-6 on Jim Clabaugh's tip, the Spartans were finished. They couldn't climb on top of the hosts again and from then on it was just a matter of time for Arlington to wrap up its fourth straight non-conference decision of the season.

ALTHOUGH he experienced his low night offensively of the season, Arlington's Clabaugh still managed to gain game scoring honors with 12 points. Jim has either shared or captured game scoring honors in each of the Cards' five outings this season.

Ten boys broke into the scoring column for Coach Frank Bohac's victors with Bob Jacobsen following Clabaugh with 11 markers. Skip Witt chipped in with nine, five on charity throws, and guards Chuck Close and Denny Koeppen added seven each.

Clabaugh's tip-in gave Arlington its first lead of the game in the first period but Jacobsen followed with a short push and the locals held a 9-6 first period margin.

GLENBROOK closed to 9-7 on Dave Lass' free throw, but the Cardinals gradually pulled away until they held a 22-14 halftime lead. Witt was a key individual in the second period surge with six points.

With Clabaugh, Gary Brodnan, and Close contributing the counters Arlington stormed off to a 14-point lead midway in the third segment and after the clubs traded markers Jacobsen dumped in a pair of free throws to give the Cards a 40-24 lead going into the final period.

BOTH CLUBS hit their offensive highs in the final eight minutes and Arlington had eight boys collect points as Bohac sent in the substitutes. Reserve Vince Furlong tossed in four in his brief appearance and Koeppen registered six of his seven markers.

Arlington's biggest lead of the game, a 24-point margin in that final period, was accomplished on two free throws by reserve Don Kolstad. The Cards twice held 23-point leads as they breezed to their easiest triumph of the young season.

BILL BOND'S MENS WEAR moved into a tie for first place in the Paddock Classic Men's traveling league with a 3-0 victory over Moyle Construction last Saturday evening. Bill Bond's Bowlers Sweep Three Games in Men's Play

Bill Bond's Mens Wear, fifth last week is tied for first.

Timroth Plumbing, tied for second last week, is fifth now, but don't let that fool you. The Beverly Lanes based team is just one game out of first place.

And that's more or less the way the topsy-turvy 1960-61 edition of the Paddock Classic Traveling League goes.

BILL BOND'S of Rolling Meadows, the only team in the Paddock Classic to sweep all three games in Saturday night's action at Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling, is tied with not one but two other teams for top honors.

Cook County Mobile Homes of Des Plaines, league leader two weeks ago, and Bill Cook Buick, which like Bill Bond's has come from as far down as sixth place, both won two of three games Saturday to make the race stickier than molasses.

One of the chief culprits was Jeffery Lanes, considered out of the race in its seventh place position. Even so, it rose up with games of 1033 and 942 to strike down Casablanca twice to knock the wind out of the Tommy Thomas sponsored team temporarily.

JEFFERY'S LAST game was just a four-pin victory, but nonetheless, it was enough thanks to a 221 game by George Stone of Wilmette. In Jeffery's 1033 game, Stone rolled the night's high game, 245. This gave him a 628 series, high for Jeffery.

Casablanca Captain Marv Perry of Arlington Heights, try as he may with Saturday night's high game, 252, plus a 221 game and the night's high series, 653, was able to lead his team to only one victory, that a crushing 1055-869 triumph. The 1055 was Casablanca's high game of the year.

Anchor Man Dick Nethaway of Des Plaines rolled games of 215 and 236 in the two Cook County Mobile Home victories over Pro Sport Center of Gunnell Lanes and Mt. Prospect. Nethaway, who bowls for the River-Rand based team, bowled a 646 series, second high in the league. Opponent Al Valentino rolled a 633 series and his 226 game paced Pro Sport Center to its lone victory as the team slipped to sixth place.

BILL COOK BUICK, the Bowlway in Elgin representative, though rolling good but not spectacularly, captured the first and second games from Timroth Plumbing. It took a 1022 game in the final by Timroth, paced by Warren Olson's 247 game and 640 series, to score Timroth's only win. Tom Kouros of Barrington Woods had Bill Cook's best series, 600, and remained atop the league's individual ratings with a 203 average.

Bill Bond's actually bowled below its team average Saturday but Moyle Construction was way off its game, resulting in three victories for the Rolling Meadows team. Moyle Construction, which calls Ten Pin in Barrington home, had no individual with a 600 series, and Bill Bond's was the only team to have two 600's Saturday. Bill Radke struck for a 630 series and anchor man Frank Graff of Palatine had a 608 series.

Sims Bowl Gals Take Two Wins in Classic

Don't tell Vernon Hills Restaurant that Sims Bowl of Des Plaines is the last place team in the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League. The Lake Zurich team will never believe it.

Saturday night the Sims girls rose up and knocked league-leading Vernon Hills back into a first place tie with Steve's Restaurant of Wheeling by taking two games.

Sims' two victories weren't because Vernon Hills, bowling out of Country Lanes in Lake Zurich, was bowling poorly. Vernon Hills had games of 811 and 853 and still lost.

THE DES PLAINES team was hot, shooting games of 850 and 947. However, it was all Vernon Hills in the last game, 886-729, to give Vernon Hills the total pin edge, 2550-2526.

Maxine Moehling of Mt. Prospect was Sims' star with a 574 series on a pair of 181 games with a 212 sandwiched in between. This gave her league series honors for the night. Teammate Pat Patek of Niles had a 506 series, including high league game of the night, 233. Marge Rowland and Lorry Kincaid of Mt. Prospect were just under the 500 mark for Sims.

Bonnie Kuhn of Mundelein, rolling anchor for Vernon Hills, had the biggest effort, a 566 series on well balanced games of 192, 183, and 191. Teammate Fran Altergott, also of Mundelein, bowled 515 and Vi Douglas of Palatine was four pins behind that. Marge Calkins of Lake Zurich was one pin below 500.

STEVE'S Restaurant, which is bowling out of Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling, after losing the first game to River-Rand of Des Plaines, came back to win the next two games on scores of 882 and 874 and move into a first place tie. Sis Jennings of Deerfield and Janice Crovetti of Highwood paced Steve's with 548 and 533, respectively. Peggy Sparks of Rolling Meadows had a 550 triplicate and Alice Ulrich of Chicago a 536 series.

Morton Pontiac, the Beverly Lanes representative, remained in pursuit of the leaders, two games out, by taking two of three from Northfield Bowl. Both teams had three girls with 500 series as the two teams tied with 2486 series totals.

Joan Lindahl and Pat Proebstle, both of Arlington Heights, both had 541 series. Morton's third 500 was a 524 by Connie Labo of Rolling Meadows. Pat's 212 game was high in the contest. Sally Prouty of Wilmette rolled to a 521 series. Gloria Lucchesi of Winnetka had 511, one more pin than Fran Feuer, also of Winnetka.

Rolling Meadows Bowl, Hi-Way to Host Tournaments

Paddock Publications bowling tournaments are on the move, this time to Rolling Meadows for the men's event, and to Palatine for the ladies tourney.

Back in 1952 the first Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap event for leaders of men's leagues was held at Hi-Way Recreation, with eighteen loops represented.

This time the men's tournament is slated for Rolling Meadows Bowl Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 14 and 15, with first place teams of all local men's leagues as of Christmas eve eligible to compete.

IN BETWEEN those two dates, '52 and '61, the Paddock tournaments have been held at seven different bowling establishments with Rolling Meadows Bowl to be the eighth.

The men's event moved to Arlington Bowling Lanes in '53, thence to Bensenville Bowl in '54. It was back to Palatine in '55, then to Beverly Lanes and Gunnell's and to Bensenville. The men's tourney was held at Palatine in '59, then at Beverly in 1960.

FIRST WOMEN'S tournament was held at Bowlwood in Wood Dale in 1953, followed by stints at Palatine, Arlington Heights, Bensenville, Mt. Prospect, Beverly, Pioneer at Addison, Gunnell's and now Hi-Way Recreation.

Leading squads of possibly 65 ladies leagues are expected to compete for trophies and plenty of cash Jan. 21 and 22 with top teams as of New Year's eve eligible.

Those eligibility dates are fast approaching, bowlers are warned. Now is the time for all teams to move into first place in order to be named for the big tournaments.

Prize money is expected to gross over $1,000 this year. Entry fee is $19 per five-man team.

Dons to Battle Procopius; Seek Fifth Straight

by TOM TREBAT

Tomorrow night the basketball Dons of Notre Dame will face Saint Procopius in hopes of maintaining their unblemished record.

Thanks to three straight wins, including a conference victory over Saint Edward, Notre Dame holds a perfect 4-0 record. Undoubtedly, the early season success of the Dons has been due to the play of their high-scoring center, John Schramm.

However, this past week Schramm's load was slightly eased by the developing of the Don bench and the play of guards Dan Odishoo and Dick Manning.

ON TUESDAY night, November 29, the Dons rallied to defeat Ela-Vernon 69-57. To accomplish this, the Dons had to rely almost entirely on Schramm as he dumped in 32 points. The Ela-Vernon squad, which held a four point halftime lead, possessed the lead late in the game until the combination of Schramm and the versality of the Notre Dame bench paid off in the form of additional baskets.

Notre Dame captured its first conference victory on Friday, December 2, when it routed Saint Edward of Elgin, 83-62. For Notre Dame, the difference was a big second quarter in which they picked up 32 points and established a permanent lead. Shimp of Saint Edward collected 25 points to top the individual scoring but Schramm with 21 points was close behind.

Notre Dame was sparked by the play of guards Odishoo and Manning who totaled 18 and 12 points respectively. Frank O'Connell of Arlington Heights, playing his usual steady game, chipped in 14 points for the Notre Dame cause.

TAFT OF CHICAGO was the next victim of the Dons. Notre Dame, paced by guard Odishoo, put its city rivals deep in the hole early in the game and eventually took a 40-24 halftime lead. Notre Dame continued strong in the second half although Odishoo, Frank O'Connell, and Bob Bresnahan each had 4 or 5 fouls. This is where Notre Dame's bench again proved its usefulness.

Gerry Broderick of Arlington capably took over Odishoo's vacated post while Bruce Dickman, a 6'4" junior, picked up the slack at one of the forward positions. Again, John Schramm led Notre Dame's scorers with 17 points. Odishoo and Dickman picked up 14 points apiece while Brenahan and O'Connell each managed 11 points.

Notre Dame's sophomore unit has also been highly successful this season posting a 3-1 record losing only to Saint Edward. The fledgling Dons knocked off Ela-Vernon and defeated Taft this past week to boost their record.

Morton West Sophs Rally For Victory

Morton West rallied for 28 points in the final half, recovered from a 25-14 halftime deficit, and stunned Prospect high's frosh-soph cagers 42-37 Tuesday afternoon.

The visitors outscored the Knights by 18 points in the final half and held a 19-7 advantage, in the decisive final quarter.

Coach Bob Hoese's squad jumped off to a 13-8 lead after one period and increased that margin at halftime before suffering its dry spell in the final two stanzas.

Guard Eddie Beranek pumped in 21 points for the visitors to top all scorers. Dan Johnson paced Prospect with nine and John Davis and Hank LaRocco collected eight each.

Arlington's Frosh Mat Squad Falls

Glenbrook's frosh wrestlers recovered from a slow start to dump Arlington high 35-18 last Saturday afternoon in the young Cardinals' first meet of the 1960-61 season.

The hosts trailed 13-10 after six bouts but regained the lead with a pin at 138 and never trailed after that, rolling to five pins in the last six tests.

After the Cards' Gary Moreau battled to a draw at 95 and Glenbrook copped the 103 pound match on a pin, Arlington started to move. Larry Taylor pinned his opponent at 112 and Bob Jennings and John Hermes both registered decisions at 120 and 127 respectively.

Soph Mat Unit Falls To Eagles

East Leyden's strength in the heavier weights enabled the visitors from Franklin Park to rally from an 18-16 deficit after nine bouts and register a 31-18 victory over Prospect high last Saturday morning in a frosh-soph battle.

The Eagles put together successive pins in the last three bouts to hand the Knights a defeat in their first match of the season.

Copping other victories for the local frosh-sophs were Scott Campbell at 112, Greg Field at 133, and Tom Rogers at 145. Brown gained an 8-8 deadlock at 95.

Levy's frosh-soph matmen will travel to Glenbrook Friday afternoon for a meet at 4 o'clock.

Prospect Freshmen Win Two

Prospect rolled up a 31-8 halftime edge against Fenton Saturday and then turned back a late Bison rally to notch a 53-32 triumph in a freshmen tilt at Fenton.

Bob Neubert and Dave White paced the Knights with 15 and 12 points respectively. Bill Pfluger topped Mel Peterson's Bisons with 13 while Dave Cole chipped in eight.

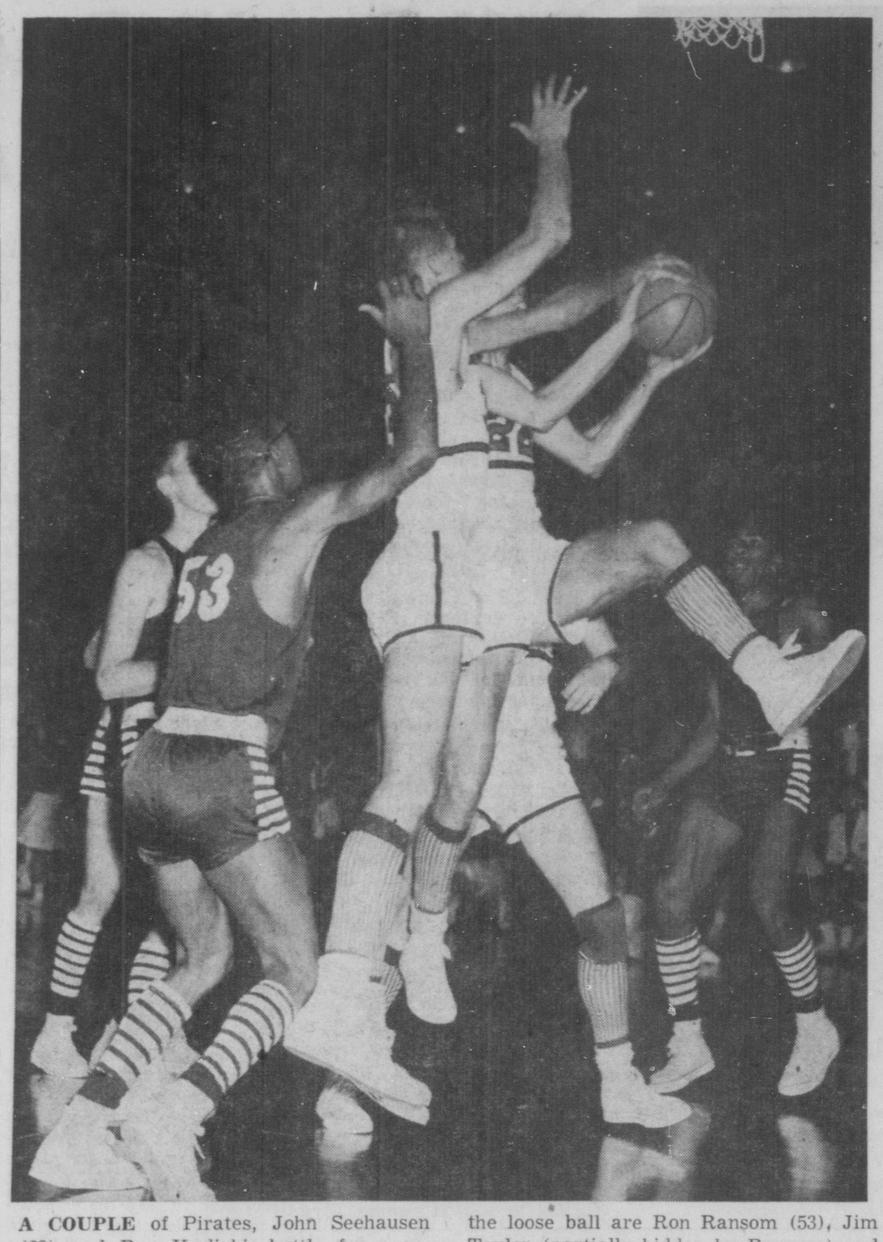
HIGH POINT honors in this tilt went to the victors' Bob Robertshaw with 13 tallies. Bob Pomplun added 11 for the Knights.

Tom Masles and Fred Skultety hit for nine and seven respectively for the losers.

Saturday's loss was the first of the season for Peterson's crew after successive triumphs over West Leyden and Glenbard East. The Bison plebes will host Downers Grove Saturday.



A COUPLE of Pirates, John Seehausen (22) and Ron Kozlicki, battle for a rebound during Saturday's North Suburban contest with Zion. Zee-Bees going after the loose ball are Ron Ransom (53), Jim Taylor (partially hidden by Ransom) and Sam Payne.

Prospect's Sophs Topple Evanston, Elgin Quintets

Prospect's sophomore basketball team evened its season's record last weekend with Friday and Saturday night victories over Elgin and Evanston.

The little Knights, who the week before had fouled their way to two defeats, displayed a smooth-working offense and a solid defense in handling the Big Eight Maroons 48-39, and the Suburban League Wildkits 46-40.

The Elgin game saw the two teams battle on even terms through most of the first half before Prospect pulled to a 25-21 advantage at the intermission. Then, after a seesaw third period, the little Knights put on a final burst that moved them in front 46-34 with 2:20 left in the game.

Bob Gerrard led the Prospect scorers with 15 points. Jim Hogarty and Ken Groh each had 10.

IN THE EVANSTON game, the little Knights again waited until the final minutes to make their winning bid. Led by Tom Hamilton, the Wildkits stepped off to a fast 12-7 first quarter lead. A stiff Prospect defense held the Evanstonians to two free throws in the next period, enabling the little Knights to tie the count at 14-14 at halftime.

The third quarter saw Jimmy Johnson hit 12 points for Evanston and Dennis Mitchell six for Prospect. The score at the buzzer still was tied at 31-all.

The Prospect winning bid came on the shooting of Mitchell and John Davis, who dropped 11 points between them to lead their team to a 15-9 final quarter bulge and the victory.

Evanston's Johnson was high for the game with 15 points, followed by Mitchell with 14.

Don Neubert led the frosh scoring for the second straight game with a 12-point effort. Dave Gobielle and Tom McClellan added nine each and Dave White collected eight for the Knights.

Prospect's frosh "A" and "B" squads will travel to East Leyden for their next encounters Saturday, Dec. 17.

Strong Niles Mat Squad Handles Knights, 33-13

A strong Niles varsity copped nine bouts, three by pins, in rolling to a 33-13 victory over Prospect's wrestlers last Saturday afternoon in the Knights' first meet of the season.

The visiting Trojans, already boasting decisive triumphs over formidable Palatine and Glenbrook varsity units, trailed on two occasions through the first six bouts but regained the lead at 133 and breezed in with the decision.

Niles gained a 3-0 lead after the first bout when Gary Lindemann decisioned Del Blakely 8-2, but Prospect bounced back thanks to an impressive effort by Tom Krause.

KRAUSE ROLLED to a 4-0 first period advantage and held a 6-3 lead in the second period before putting the clincher on his 103-pound opponent. Tom's pin came at 2:40 and pusned the Knights off to a 5-3 lead.

Toddy Wise bested Prospect's Dick Krause 5-2 at 112 pounds, and the Trojans took a 9-5 lead after 120 when Jim Fung edged Bob Trausch 8-7 in one of the meet's top battles.

Fung, a state finalist last season, had his hands full with the newly-elected Prospect wrestling captain but held on for the victory.

Trausch, a three-year letterman, was hampered by an injury last year but gained a third in the district and reached the semi-finals of the sectional at 112. He was elected captain prior to the opening meet.

A HIGHLIGHT for Prospect came at 127 when Doug Vaughan pinned Steve Weiss in 3:56. Weiss had previously lost to Palatine's highly-touted Brad McCreery, 8-6.

Niles gained a decision at 133 and pin at 138. With a 9-3 conquest at 145 the Trojans moved out to a 20-10 advantage.

Mike Field concluded the Knights' scoring for the afternoon when he rallied in the third period for a 5-3 victory over Bob Herkert.

HEAVYWEIGHT Darryl Phillips, third place finisher in the sectional and district champ last winter, was surprised in the day's concluding battle and pinned in 2:56 by Niles' Bill Fischer.

Prospect's Head Coach Dick Mudge expects some possible lineup changes for Friday's battle at Glenbrook with the alignment pending weights made by the boys and the elimination bouts.

THIS YEAR'S CORN harvest topped United States department of agriculture estimates by about a quarter of a million bushels. States with much above average production were Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Michigan, and South Dakota in the corn belt, and Georgia and North Carolina in the South. Iowa and Illinois which produced one-third of the nation's crop of 4¼ billion bushels, produced slightly above average, with Iowa leading the total.

Surplus Wheat Problem Is National, Not Regional

America's wheat problem does not involve all wheat; only surplus wheat, according to L. F. Stice, a University of Illinois grain marketing economist.

He also reported recently that the problem is not national, but regional. Peak problem areas are the central and southern plains states that produce hard red winter wheat. The plains states, major producers of hard wheat, are also included as problem areas.

Stice said that by July 1, hard red winter wheat stocks will rise to 1,232 million bushels. Since America uses and exports only about 550 million bushels of this kind of wheat, there will be more than a two-year supply on hand before the 1961 crop is harvested. Hard wheat is used primarily for bread.

IN CONTRAST, the supply of soft red winter wheat on hand next July 1 will total only 12 million bushels, about a three weeks' supply. Out of this year's supply of 206 million bushels the nation expects to export 59 million bushels and use 135 million bushels at home. This kind of wheat grown in southern Illinois and Indiana is used for making cake flour and other pastries.

The 1960 production and prospective use of all classes of wheat except hard red winter are nearly in balance. The 1960 crop of hard red spring wheat is estimated to be 190 million bushels, and disappearance 189 million. This year's production of white and durum wheat will actually fall short of use.

Any new legislation to alleviate the wheat surplus problem must recognize that not all wheat-producing areas of the country have this problem, Stice emphasized. The bulk of our present wheat surplus came from wheat farms in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Colorado. A much lesser amount was produced in Minnesota, Montana and the Dakotas.

Cattle Respond To Antibiotics Best in Winter

Cattle on wintering rations respond better to antibiotics than cattle on fattening rations, reports Cook county farm adviser. Carl F. Mees.

Two typical trials at the University of Illinois illustrate this point: In the first, cattle on aureomycin-supplemented wintering rations gained 1.86 pounds a day: cattle without the antibiotic gained only 1.63 pounds. Feed costs averaged 10 per cent less with the aureomycin ration.

With fattening cattle, however, aureomycin actually reduced weight gains. Supplemented cattle gained only 1.80 pounds a day compared with 1.95 pounds for those not receiving aureomycin.

But Mees warned that, like other antibiotics, aureomycin does not produce results as consistent as those given by stilbestrol and other hormone-like substances. (Fm

Clip Cows Before Winter; Save Time, Money: Mees

Dairymen can save time, money and labor by clipping their cows before turning them into the barns for the winter.

Cook county farm adviser Carl Mees points out that clipping saves work in preparing cows for milking. It may also reduce milk sediment and help to lower the bacterial count.

Here are five steps dairymen can follow in clipping cows:

1. Clip the tail and bob the switch so that it clears the ground about four inches. Clip the tail head and area around the switch of the tail.
2. Clip the entire surface of the udder.
3. Next clip the belly and hocks. Then make a "mark line" from the navel to the thurl on both sides. Do this by holding the clippers on edge, with the bottom blade toward the cow's head.
4. Clip the flanks and thighs by running the clippers up from the hock to the "mark line."
5. Clip up the backbone to help control lice.

Clipping is no substitute for washing the cow's udder before milking.

Even when cows are neatly clipped, the udder and teats should still be washed carefully with water and chlorine solution before putting on the milking machine. (FM

Applying Ammonia While Plowing Is Good Farm Economy

University of Illinois agricultural engineers say farmers can save time, money and labor by combining plowing and ammonia application into one operation.

Ag engineer Jack Butler said that ammonia application usually costs $2 or more an acre—not counting the cost of the ammonia. And it usually ties up farm labor when it is badly needed in other field operations.

Farmers can lick this problem by putting in the ammonia as they plow. Two years of University research shows that very little ammonia is lost if the job is done right.

HERE'S HOW the U. of I. research worked:

The engineers set the ammonia tank on top of the plow or disk and let the tank hose trail along in the furrow.

To get as much soil as possible above the ammonia, they ran as deep in the soil as the plowing depth would allow. Application rates varied with tillage speed. But, in general, rates ranged from 140 to 200 pounds per acre on the basis of 40-inch spacing.

When researchers compared average losses from more than 50 plow, disk, and conventional knife application tests, they found that all losses were below 1 per cent, although those with knife application were lowest.

Butler said the operation isn't restricted to plowing and disking. Any tillage tool that permits ammonia release at least four inches under ground can probably be used to apply anhydrous ammonia.

Researchers have found that this way of applying ammonia works equally well for fall and spring plowing.

In University tests liquid and dry fertilizers have been proven to be equally effective. The form of fertilizer to use is a matter of individual choice. The factors to consider are the cost per unit of plant food, machinery needed to apply the dry and liquid forms and convenience of handling.

"Where in the world is the water coming from?" This question results from a recent study which shows that national water needs by 1980 will be 600 billion gallons daily. This is all that some engineers say can be made available through present techniques.

It is about half of the total average run off in all streams in the United States. The time may soon come when saying that a man spends his money like water will no longer be a way of describing him as being foolish for we are now entering a period when we should use water to get the most of this vital limited resource.

UNIVERSITY of Illinois tests show that dwarf corn silage may make a strong bid to replace regular corn silage. Pint sized corn yielded nearly as much silage and dry matter per acre as regular corn in tests this year. The total per acre yield of digestible nutrients from dwarf corn may equal that from regular corn because it has a higher proportion of ears to the rest of the plant and 5 per cent less stalk. Dwarf corn is much easier to handle in the field since it does not lodge easily. Researchers believe that they can cut yield differences down by boosting dwarf corn plant population per acre.

University of Illinois scientists are developing corn that European corn borers won't want to eat.

Corn borers will stuff themselves on certain corn plants, while they may not give the next plant a second glance. Corn breeders have discovered that corn borer resistance is inherited.

They are working to develop inbred lines of corn that will have the ability to resist the corn borer. These resistant inbred lines can then be used to produce a resistant high-yielding hybrid. Corn borers find most of today's hybrids very tasty. In Illinois the 1955 bill for corn that the borers like came to $73 million. In 1959 there were a lot fewer corn borers around, but their dinner bill was $11 million, according to USDA entomologists.

Weather Helps Make Big Corn Harvest

An overall balance of production was noted for the 1960 corn harvest by observers from the DeKalb Agricultural association, Inc.

The crop, which started slowly and grew through a rather cool summer, was able to ripen quite fully in a long, warm fall. Before planting, subsoil moisture supply had been excellent nearly everywhere in corn producing states. There was no large area of drouth damage as has often occurred in other years.

Since the DeKalb map was prepared, slowness of ears drying in the field delayed corn harvest so that harvest problems due to bad weather and harvest losses due to lodged corn might have been greater than usual.

Corn dries slowly as fall advances. The University of Illinois agronomy department estimates that, whereas, ears may lose 1 per cent of moisture a day in September, that this figure is reduced to ½ per cent in October and only ¼ per cent in November. Thus corn at 28 per cent moisture would require 28 days to dry down to the 21 per cent figure normally considered safe for ordinary cribbing.

If corn was cribbed at more than 21 per cent moisture, farmers should take certain precautions to prevent spoilage.

1. Clean husking eliminates husks and debris which cut down air circulation—and hence drying—in the crib.
2. Keeping corn well distributed in the crib keeps a central trash pocket from forming below the spout—a place where spoilage usually starts.
3. Crib ventilators are of considerable value in increasing air movement in the crib.
4. Periodic checks of corn, particularly in warm weather, will catch spoilage as it starts. (FM

The Way We See It

Area Growth Spurs Tollway Access Need

Home building in some Chicago area communities has taken a noticeable drop in the past year. Escaping the slowdown trend, however, have been the communities of Arlington Heights and Elk Grove Village.

With their growth continuing, these villages serve to support the contention of Arlington Heights village manager L. A. Hanson that the area between routes 83 and 53 is expanding at record pace. Because of this growth, Hanson maintains, there is an urgent need for entrance and exit ramps to the Northwest tollway at State rd., south of Arlington Heights.

"Population in the area today is estimated at 55,000 or more," Hanson notes. "By 1970 this estimate is expected to climb to near 90,000. And if the area's undeveloped acreage shapes up as predicted, the lack of ingress and egress facilities at t he tollway will seriously hamper transportation."

The master plans of Arlington Heights and Elk Grove call for light manufacturing to be located on either side of the tollway. Industry requires transportation. Entrance and exit provisions at State rd. would eliminate the need for trucks to haul over residential streets on trips to and from the tollway.

The Cook county highway department plans to complete the widening State rd., from Higgins rd. north to Central rd., by Summer, 1961. It would seem logical to consider the widening project and entrance-exit question at the same time.

The widening of Kirchoff rd. to four lanes, from Rolling Meadows east to State rd., should also be taken into consideration. The 1962 opening of the Forest View high school north of the tollway could be worked into the study too.

Supporting Manager Hanson in the drive to obtain a hearing before the Illinois tollway administration are Arlington Heights and Elk Grove trustees, Rolling Meadows councilmen, Arlington Heights chamber of commerce, and thousands of suburban motorists.

There is general agreement that the time to acquire entrance and exit ramp property is now — while it's still undeveloped. The bill for land acquisition and ramp construction would be paid by the tollway commission.

Tollway entrance and exit facilities are now situated at routes 83 and 53, convenient for residents of Mt. Prospect and Palatine. But these facilities are becoming more and more remote for those living in the area between. We trust the tollway administration will give immediate attention to the State rd. proposition.

Urge Election Procedure Improvements in State

The current furor over alleged election fraud in Chicago has not yet extended to the northwest suburbs. The concern over voting procedures and the conduct of elections, however, merits review not only in Chicago, but in our suburban precincts and throughout the state.

In northwest suburban communities, for example, irregularities in last month's election procedures included:

—disenfranch i s i n g of v o t e r s through misplaced registration binders.

—permitting voters to enter polling places after the 6 p.m. deadline.

—allowing persons to vote whose names failed to appear in either registration binders or on precinct poll lists.

—precincts where the number of ballots cast exceeded the number of registered voters in the precincts.

It hasn't been charged, nor do we feel, that these irregularities constitute wilful fraud. We are convinced, however, that a good deal of ineptness was demonstrated by many of our area election judges.

Some judges allowed unqualified persons to vote and later called election headquarters to inquire if they had done the right thing. Others were compelled to check with precinct captains because of doubt over procedural matters.

In those precincts using paper ballots, few judges bothered to personally drop completed ballots in the ballot boxes, as required by law.

Disregard of this regulation opens the door for "chain balloting," whereby an absentee ballot might be illegally cast and a regular ballot carried from the polling place to permit controlled voting.

In other instances rude judges so intimidated voters that clarifying questions on voting procedure were asked hesitantly.

Next year's required re-registration of all Cook county voters and the continued replacement of ballot boxes with voting machines will no doubt help protect the integrity of the vote and reduce questionable voting procedures.

Such steps, however, will give slight aid in instances where the enforcement of election laws and protection of the vote is dependent upon the human element.

As events are proving, this element in Illinois needs reviewing at every level. As a beginning step, the state should require compulsory attendance by election judges at periodic training sessions. Under the present system, election officials may conduct training schools at their whim. Few do. Standard practice is for a judge, upon reporting for work, to receive a sheet of paper listing election procedures.

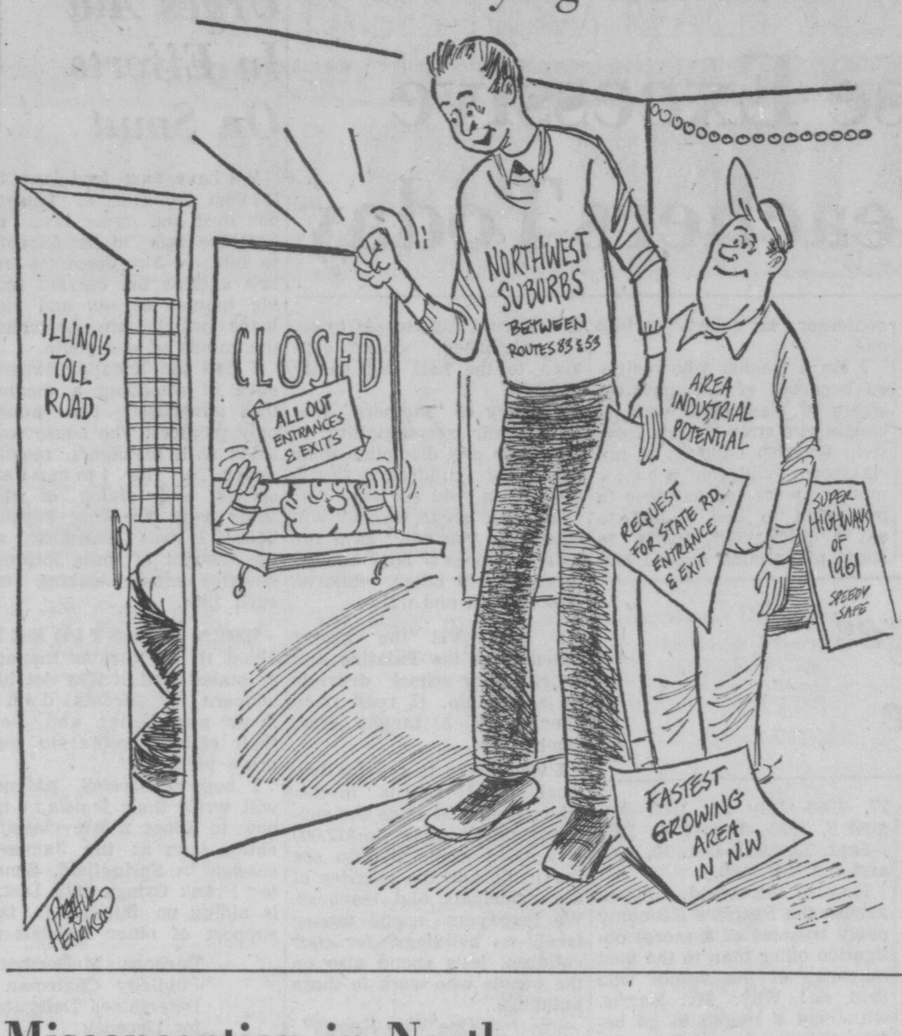
In some states, judges are required to obtain a certificate every two years stating they have successfully completed a training course. This keeps them up to date on such changing procedures as the handling of absentee ballots.

Such a requirement should be passed as law in Illinois. Lacking this, the election authorities have it within their power to compel training school attendance before accepting persons as qualified judges.

Another obvious improvement in our election procedure would be delegating supervision of elections in a central authority — such as the secretary of state's office. This would eliminate the confusion inherent in dividing election authority among various levels of government.

In considering these proposals, it should be kept in mind that the seemingly small, unintended oversights in election procedure are those that may well open the door for wholesale, calculated fraud at a later date.

'Room for More Paying Customers?"



Two Views Of Cuba Are Too Extreme

Truth of Cuban Issue Is Somewhere Between

by MARTIN E. MARTY

Last summer in the British magazine "Encounter," an article argued that all journalists must be, in part at least, psychotic. (This may be my last article in this journal!) The journalist must sort out from a multi-facted life those aspects of experiences which make his story meaningful; this he must invest with the commodity he has for sale; the quality of his opinions as the product of an ego.

The danger in journalism, then, is that in the sorting process a case is over-loaded and the journalist turns out to be the one who must make all facts fit his thesis.

The result, at least in the good old days of journalism, was highly opinionated writing that had to be faced off by its opposite number if one wanted the whole story.

GOOD JOURNALISM, of course, allows for the sifting through the editorialist's ego with still room for relative objctivity.

Two recent books on Cuba illustrate dramatically what happens when men of opposite tendency approach a complex subject journalistically having thrown all critical safe-guards to the wind. Unfortunately, the two speak such different languages that one can hardly come to the truth by being placed half way between the two.

On the one hand we have the strident tract of C. Wright Mills, "Listen Yankee: The Revolution In Cuba" (McGraw-Hill, $3.95 or Ballantine paperbacks, 50 cents and on the other Nathaniel Weyl's "Red Star Over Cuba" (Devin-Adair, $3.50).

Can these two men be writing about the same events?

Mills, a sociologist of no mean repute who has written on "The Sociological Imagination," "Image of Man" "White Collar" and the "Power Elite" (all readable and worth while studies) comes to Castro's Cuba from the extreme left. Castro's Communist involvements seem to bother him very little; his revolution is portrayed as an historical inevitability which all right-thinking Americans will support as the wave of the Latin American future. None of the harangues, the barbarisms, the confusions of Cuba seem to bother him.

ON THE OTHER hand Mr. Weyl sounds like a vestige of the McCarthy era. Just as incredible as Mills' all-white is his all-black assessment of Castro. More astounding is his charge that the whole revolution was the result of Castro's puppetry in the hands of the Soviet. And who made it all possible? It was all planned that way.

After reading both books I was inclined to say, "Let's keep our shirts on." Now I will say, "Let's keep our shirts on."

Castro's Cuba is not a hopeful sign for the Latin American future nor is it the contrivance of leftists in our State Department, and almost everyone in the U. S. except angry Mr. Mills and angrier Mr. Weyl knows this. They are journalists who are denying their vocation, writing tracts that turned out to be bill-boards, sorting out and leaving behind all traces of truth that do not fit their theories and theses.

Mr. Mills forgets what the Soviet is like, Mr. Weyl what Batista was like, and truth lies not half way between but way beyond these two tracts.

Summary: Keep your shirt on.

Misconception in North

Southern White Migrants Are Looked Upon as Subcultural

by PHILIP NELSON

The North has a common misconception about Southern Appalachian white newcomers.

So declared Dr. Perley Ayer at a recent Chicago workshop on southern white migrants.

"Because they often are underprivileged, these migrants are looked down upon as a subcultural type because they are different. We speak as if we have culture and t h e y don't. Because they are poor people, we treat them as if they are culturally depraved."

DR. AYER is executive director of the Council of the Southern Mountains and director of the summer workshops in Berea, Ky. He calls himself a "self-appointed public relations officer from the Appalachian South."

It is difficult to make generalities a b o u t this group of migrants, he said. Decisions have to be made about each one. If the wife of one is w o r k i n g, he pointed out, this was no sign of depravity. Each of them feels within himself: "I, too, am a man," and is proud and quick to protect his manhood over a slur cast upon it in the only manner he can—with a fist fight.

During a question and answer period, he said "the Bible belt" is misnamed, that there is a diversity and confusion and competitiveness in religious circles, with the gospel on one hand and salvation on the other, often weighted to the side of fundamentalism, to sects.

He said a test given to a broad section of persons, including so-called clergymen, revealed that almost everyone flunked the test upon their knowledge of the Bible. "The Bible belt reputation is totally undeserved," he added.

Dr. Ayer intimated that there are too many schools who offer education only as a means for job opportunities. This, he said, is a betrayal of the youngsters who believe and rely upon the broader and deeper aspects of education.

"WE'RE BESET with unemployed people," he explained. "In eastern Kentucky, we have to feed 100,000 just to keep them alive. If not, then you're (Northerners) going to feed them."

He spoke of the necessity for educating the young beyond what has been dreamed of at this point by philosophers, and talked of a 15-year-old he had "set on fire" with a dream in a dirty old hallway in Chicago after the boy had gotten into a scrape and wound up in a police station.

Although there is less average education among this group, under the normal curve of academic capacity, the curve is no less than it is in the North, and there is no need for the Appalachian group to be ashamed, either of its capacity or its culture, although they may not be urban-oriented (city-wise).

There are 39,000 unemployed coal miners in West Virginia, he went on, posing a problem, and there will be a need of 150,000 new jobs in this area in the next 10 years, as coal mines petered out.

THE GROUP of 150 men broke up into different workshops, which returned with questions for a panel including Dr. Ayer, Dr. Herb M. Williams, director of pupil personnel, Columbus public schools, Columbus, Ohio; John L. Donovan, Chicago Commission on Youth Welfare.

Dr. Williams told of Columbus' 500,000 school population, of which 96,000 were relocated from other areas, many from the Appalachian south. Of these, he said, 67 per cent came from the southern half of West Virginia and from Kentucky. All moved in the summer of 1959 and most of these moved to the southeastern part of Columbus, enough Southern white Appalachians to start 33 classes of pupils.

In the Fall of 1959, 30.7 per cent of all the new pupils were Southern Appalachians, and during the 1959-1960 semester, 33.3 per cent came from this area. By the summer of 1960, there were 25.2 per cent. Most of these moved into the low economic area of the city, gradually moving further north.

AN INTERESTING sidelight revealed by the mass of charts, maps and other means to classify the effects of this migration discloses a surprisingly low rate of juvenile delinquency, said Dr. Williams. Of 770 juveniles processed up to April, 1960, only 15 per cent were from the Appalachian South, and 74 per cent were born in the city.

To help adjust the migrants massing in the city, Columbus sent teachers "out into the field" to locate the families, to map, measure and chart, to make personal visits to all newcomers, and to acquaint them with the school, and services, and to use self-contained classrooms with a "travel - at - your - own speed" program. Settlement houses cooperated with the schools on this program.

Donovan and another youth welfare commission worker related his experiences in the Uptown area of Chicago, going door-to-door, telling the Southern Appalachian of the neighborhood and city services.

One of these, he related, makes $11 a day on the job and pays $22.50 a week for r e n t. There are three youngsters, and the wife sews all the clothes for the children.

Another Southern white has been in Chicago 12 years, makes $65 a week and pays $23.50 a week for rent. He lost his car on a finance deal, after having paid and paid without knowing where to go for help. His children eat cornflakes for lunch and spend their summer vacations playing on the street.

FOURTH member of the panel, William R. Simon, assistant study director of a migration project, National Opinion Research center, pooh-poohed the idea that these "refugees from a social crisis" back home offer any major social problem.

They come f r o m the "hills and the hollers and the coal mines," he said, u s u a l l y because some member of the family living in the city sends for them, gets them jobs and helps locate them.

These are basically no different than the typical slumdweller, and come into Lake View and Uptown areas of Chicago as ports of entry. "All these communities can do to help them is probably to help them move out when they were ready."

THEY WERE younger, healthier and better educated than many of their city dwellers, he added, saying: "There really is no m i d d l e-class hillbilly." Their life in Uptown and Lake View is the traditional ghetto and of their family structure, he said "they are a remarkably viable unit."

Social rather than religious convictions brought them to the church back home, Simon added, saying that their religious rate of interest drops off in the city.

He is midway through his project of interviewing 300 people in two-hour sessions. He bases his thumb-of-nail analyses on what he had learned already as well as projection and insight.

He believes the group offers no social problem, declared Simon, who asked the members of the conference: "What will happen if they ever are urbanized and learn our urbanized forms of crime and misbehavior?"

Wood Dale Citizen Raps Vehicle Tax

Property owners and automobile owners of Wood Dale: Are you going to be misled by empty promises from our political-minded village officials regarding the doubling of the vehicle tax?

You are told that the increase is necessary for the improvement of our streets. On one h a n d you are told not to expect any improvement the first year, maybe not the second and maybe not for five years but eventually. Then, too, you are told that a street is no better than its base. That b e t t e r streets cannot be achiev e d w i t hout proper dra i n a g e. Have the street bases been improved and proper drainage achieved. How long will it take our politicians to attempt to keep their promises for doubling the Vehicle Tax? H o w soon will they s l i p through an ordinance a g a i n raising the vehicle tax and again and again. Did you ever hear of a politician lowering a tax?

ANOTHER ITEM not fully explained by our politic i a n s is the 50,000 and some dollars of motor fuel tax belonging to the village and being held by the state. Is it being held by the state because of our politician officials h a v e not met with State regulations pertaining to p r o p e r drainage and positive p l a n s of action. Or have our politicians plans on using t h e money for a few favor e d streets.

Our politicians speak of tax increases in the form of pennies per day or week, but remember several of these penny increases will amount to sizable dollar increases on your tax bill. Your 1960 tax bill is going to give you some idea of these so called penny tax increases. We are going to be taxed for the new $230,000 public school on W o o d Dale road and the 1¼ million dollar addition to Fent o n high school. Pennies! W a i t till you get your tax bill and see how quick pennies have grown into dollars.

This year, vehicle tax increase - next year what will it be? And the next year?

Parents Impose Excessive Demands on Teachers Today

In a recent edition of your paper you quoted Marion Jordan that elementary school teachers are harder to find and harder to hang on to.

This is due to the fact that American parents are making excessive and unrealistic demands on the men and women who work with their children.

In former times a teacher was an instructor and a school superintendent and a scholar. Today the teacher is a substitute mother, policewoman, child psychiatrist, recreation director, instructor and registered nurse all rolled up into one.

A SCHOOL superintendent is a scholar, public relations man, Wall street wizard, personnel director and father-confessor all rolled up into one.

I am a teacher who resigned because of the physical strain of classroom work I caught two strep throats from sick, feverish children in my classroom—children whose mothers were too careless to put them to bed. I had to eat a quick cold lunch to stand playground duty. I had to interrupt my classes to escort disturbed, violent children to the hall and pacify them.

I weary of "mothers" who shirk their responsibility to supervise and discipline their pre-school children, then threaten a wild six year old: "The first grade teacher will straighten you out," as if the teacher weren't busy enough teaching 40 other children how to read and write.

I BELIEVE the salary schedule in the Palatine and Schaumburg school districts is inequitable. (I read it in your paper—I taught elsewhere).

I would like to see the two local school boards in districts 15 and 54 raise the superintendent's salary to $12,000 a year. I would like to see them upgrade the salaries of the principals and teachers. We taxpayers spend money freely on buildings for our children, let's spend also on the people who work in those buildings.

Urges Aid In Efforts On Smut

We have pure food laws to prevent the sale of poisonous food and liquor laws to halt the sale of intoxicants to minors. Yet there is no law against the current movie themes of sex and violence which are poisoning the minds of our youth.

I had the unhappy experience of attending a theater that advertised two adult-only pictures. The house was filled with teenagers, mostly under 16. The immoral scenes and dialog of the films were shocking beyond belief. I was heartsick at the thought of those impressionable minds soaking up such filth.

WHEN QUESTIONED about it, the theater manager stated that it was not his concern "if parents don't know any better and let their children come to see these pictures."

I hope interested parents will write their legislators now to adopt movie classification laws at the January session in Springfield. Senator Frank Ozinga (6th Dist.) is aiding us but needs the support of other legislators.

Reader Raps Location of Park Land

The park board surely did not have the safety and health of children in mind when they decided to put a Paddock pool and playground on Salt Creek, which is polluted with raw sewage several times a year. We have lived here 20 years and recall many instances, which could have been fatal to children, who have been pulled out in time to avoid serious results. One of these children was the son of a police chief Foxworthy, whose wife happened to be near enough to rescue her son from the danger of drowning or injury.

This creek overflows several times a year, leaving mud deposits in which children like to play. Several times I have had to pull out of the mud and mire children who could not get out by themselves, find their shoes and clean them, put them on their feet and send them home.

ONE LITTLE girl who fell into the water was pulled out by a boy who happened to be passing by. Our Paddock Publication stated that it was strange that none of the neighbors were around to make the rescue. We can't be around as watchmen all the time to guard the creek.

Parents, give some thought to this situation when you vote for a park on this land.

Reader Answers Charges On Palatine's Triangle

I would like to answer Mr. Harris's letter in last week's Palatine Enterprise as I feel qualified, first of all because I am aware of all the facts on record, pertaining to the triangle property and I do attend village board meetings and have done so for ten years.

I would also like to go on record as agreeing with Mr. Harris about a nice old couple being taken in, but there the blame should be put squarely upon the shoulders of those responsible and Not the People's Economy party trustees.

Mr. Harris, when did the deal to purchase the triangle property take place? For your information and as a matter of record, the purchase of the triangle took place in March of 1959 and monies were exchanged March 18, 1959.

NOW MR. Harris, who were members of the village board at this time? Certainly it wasn't the People's Economy party trustees as they assumed office on April 27, 1959, a full five weeks after this nice old couple had been taken, as you so stated.

Mr. Harris, you state that the group has not done anything to support their charge that the transaction was illegal. Here are the facts on that—Prior to the village contracting to purchase this triangle, it was called to their attention that this would be an illegal transaction according to the laws of the State of Illinois, Section 15-3 of Chapter 24.

"No contract shall be made by the corporate authorities, or by any committee or member thereof, and no expense shall be incurred by any of the officers of departments of any municipality whether the object of the expenditure has been ordered by the corporate authorities or not, unless an appropriation has been previously made concerning that contract made, or any expense otherwise incurred in violation of the provisions of this section shall be null and void as to the municipality and no money belonging thereto shall be paid on account thereof."

FAILING IN this, and feeling the people should have a voice in the expenditure of a large amount of money such as this, a group of which I was a part, circulated a petition getting some 1200 signatures requesting this question of purchase be put to a vote. Mind you—this petition did not state the signers were for or against—nor at any time during the campaign were the people advised to vote one way or the other, but were advised to vote as they saw fit. We all know the results: 1684 No—823 Yes.

For other attempts, I suggest Mr. Harris read the minutes of the village board meetings of April 27, 1959—May 11, 1959—June 8, 1959—July 13, 1959—July 27, 1959—August 10, 1959—August 24, 1959—Dec. 14, 1959—Jan. 25, 1960—March 28, 1960—April 11, 1960—April 25, 1960—June 27, 1960—July 27, 1960—August 9, 1950—August 22, 1960—Sept. 12, 1960—Oct. 10, 1960 and Oct. 24, 1960.

How in the world can you accuse the People's Economy party trustees of a moral obligation other than to the vast majority of the voters who said no! Why, Mr. Harris, with only a month to go before the people voted on the question of the triangle, did the village put itself in the position it is in? Certainly it wasn't the People's Economy party trustees!

Mr. Harris, you state the people should have had an unbiased mind for this second referendum on the triangle property. You make no mention of the flyer all the residents received by mail advocating what a beauty spot this could be. I would also like to point out that the People's Economy party flyer was not written until after posters appeared in stores advising a yes vote. Is it only biased if those opposing your views send out a flyer?

I would also like to point out to you, Mr. Harris, that this is still a free country, we still have free elections, freedom of speech and press and that the majority of the people should rule. This does not seem to be the case in Palatine as twice the people have voted on the question of the triangle property and there are still members of this village board that don't want to abide by the vote of the majority.

Mr. Harris, don't you believe in majority rule?

In comparison to the few people that came out to vote on a million dollar school bond issue, this election had a good turn out, which to me shows a keen interest of the citizens on this issue. Our government is based on the vote of the majority, no matter how few, as we should all be well aware from our recent national election.

It is truly unfortunate that the Wambach family should take the brunt of this mess, however blame those responsible for advising these people to invest their life savings in property that first of all the legality had been questioned prior to their arrangement—the possibility of a no vote in an election that was forthcoming and the investing of more money in a property than it seems to be worth.

Now's Time To Rename Streets

Congratulations to Alderman Steve Eberhardt of Rolling Meadows for his idea to rename and renumber certain streets in this city.

I have always been bothered by the way one street will go around a little curve and become a new street with a jump in numbers.

A SPECIFIC complaint are the streets that are east of Meadow Drive at the south end of town but west of Meadow north of Campbell. We do not have many through streets. Meadow definitely should be used as a guide to keep the street names in line. Personally, I see no reason why non-through streets should have the same name at the opposite ends of town.

With building beginning south of Central Road, now is the time to act on Alderman Eberhardt's proposal.

Palatine Needs Park With Space

Palatine needs an additional park and pool. But what I would like to see are not little parks here and there, but one similar to North Park in Barrington. This would be larger than our existing park, but our children need not more organized play (swimming, tennis, shuffleboard) but a place to play as their imagination and energy direct. A place to run!

This type of area would appeal to all ages as a picnic area and would probably mean greater enjoyment for more people.

IT MAY NOT be possible to build a pool immediately, but it would seem more important to acquire a large tract of land now to be completed as park area as funds are available.

Eventually completed, the park would have shaded areas for picnics, baseball diamonds, playground equipment, swimming pool and bath house and grassy areas for just plain running!

Press Help Appreciated By School

The members of Community Welfare for Mentally Retarded Children speaking for ourselves and for the children of our Bonaparte school, wish to thank sincerely the Bensenville people who helped us to conduct our recent fund drive in connection with National Retarded Children's Week. We wish to especially thank the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary and the VFW Auxiliary for their valuable assistance.

We are also very grateful to those who contributed to our drive, and wish to mention the Lions club for its generous gift to the retarded children we serve. We would like to mention each donor by name if possible, but we want them to know we much appreciate their generosity.

Not least are we indebted for the coverage given this fund drive by the Bensenville Register and the DuPage Register. People are more informed about the universal problem of mental retardation than they ever were before. Public education is one of the major aims of Community Welfare and we are grateful for the cooperation we have received from the press.

First happy sign of the Christmas season

The season's first snowfall! To the youngsters it means snowmen, sled rides and a snowball fight. To adults it means shoveling the drive, slower transportation, and the annual problem of what to give relatives for Christmas.

The house that security built has solved that one: give an insured-safe Oak Park Federal savings account. It'll be appreciated for years and years to come.

It grows, at a safe, steady 4% profit rate. Its profitability and convenience encourage all the more thrift, and in a few years the thrift-gift you gave this Christmas will have developed into a college education, or a new home, or that special feeling of absolute security.

Come in soon. Open a few savings gift accounts, and have a large share of your Christmas shopping over with.

IN MEMORIAM

Arlene M. Buch
December 8, 1958
A shadow rests upon our home
We miss her smiling face
Wheresoever we look or turn
We see her vacant place.
Our hearts ache with loneliness
Our eyes shed many a tear
Only God knows how we miss her
As we end this second sad year.

and Marian

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of a beloved husband and father, Mr. Fred Redeker, who passed away one year ago, December 7, 1959.
God knew that you were suffering,
He knew you were in pain,
He knew you never could get well
In this world again.
He saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb,
So he closed your weary eyelids
And whispered, peace be thine
A loving father so true and kind,
No friend on earth like you we find.
For all of us you did your best,
May God, grant you eternal rest.
Loving Wife, sons and daughters

In Appreciation

CARD OF THANKS

We are sincerely grateful to friends and neighbors for their many kind acts of sympathy during our sad bereavement. Our appreciation cannot be adequately expressed.
The family of the late
Mrs. Louise Benkwitz

IN MEMORIAM

"SHOULD YOU GO FIRST"
"Should you go first and I remain
To walk the road alone,
I'll live in memory's garden, dear,
With happy days we've known.
In Spring I'll wait for roses red
When fades the lilacs blue,
In early Fall when brown leaves call
I'll catch a glimpse of you.
Should you go first and I remain
For battles to be fought,
Each thing you've touched along the way
Will be a hallowed spot,
I'll hear your voice, I'll see your smile,
Though blindly I may grope,
The memory of your helping hand
Will buoy me on with hope,
Should you go first and I remain
To finish with the scroll,
No length'ning shadows shall creep in
To make this life seem droll.
We've known so much of happiness,
We've had our cup of joy
And memory is one gift of God
That death cannot destroy.
Should you go first and I remain,
One thing I'd have you do:
Walk slowly down the path of death,
For soon I'll follow you.
I'll want to know each step you take
That I may walk the same,
For someday down that lonely road
You'll hear me call your name."
In memory of my beloved husband who passed away December 7th, 1959.
Evelyn Ziska.

Three Killed in Car Crashes on Highway

Three persons were killed in two highway accidents during the past week in the northwest suburban area.

Mrs. Anita Krueger, 30, of R.R. 2, Box 4, McHenry, and her infant son, Dale, four months, died following an auto collision on Illinois 19 two-hundred feet east of Wise rd. last Saturday, Dec. 3.

Wayne A. Brinke, 20, of 557 Helen dr., Northbrook, was killed Saturday when the foreign sports car he was driving collided head-on with another vehicle on Illinois 68 two miles west of Illinois 83.

DEATH CAR driven by Wayne A. Brinke, 20-year-old Northbrook resident who was killed following collision Saturday, Dec. 3 on Illinois 68 two miles west of Illinois 83 in Wheeling township, is shown above. Driver of the other car, Fred A. Bodisch of Cary, suffered broken leg in crash. (B-8

Charged in the Krueger deaths was a motorist who had been involved in a two-car collision less than a year ago in which two persons died.

District 3 state police charged David L. McKinstray, 30, of 608 Home ave., Oak Park, in the mishap with five traffic violations. It was McKinstray who was indicted on two counts of reckless homicide last December following a two-car collision south of Aurora in which an engaged Kankakee couple were killed, according to State's Attorney Jerome Nelson of Kendall county.

McKINSTRAY was cited for driving on the wrong side of the road, driving under the influence of alcohol, driving with a revoked operator's license, not having valid Illinois license plates and reckless homicide.

Hospitalized in the wreck were Melvin W. Krueger, 32, who was driving, and the couple's two remaining children, Linnette, 9, and David, 6. They were taken to Sherman hospital in Elgin for treatment.

McKinstray, who was treated there for facial cuts, was transferred to county jail after Justice of the Peace Carl Behrens of Arlington Heights had set bond at $10,000 for appearance in Arlington Heights Wednesday, Dec. 7.

STATE POLICE said the Krueger automobile was headed west on Illinois 19 about three miles east of Illinois 59 when it was struck by McKinstray's vehicle which was headed east in the wrong lane of traffic.

Indictments returned against the motorist last December were dropped when physicians recommended that McKinstray be committed to Elgin State hospital for treatment of brain damage suffered in that crash. The mishap had taken the lives of Joy Ann Kukuck, 20, and her fiance, Michael L. Hauert, both of Kankakee.

McKinstray was hospitalized for about a month at the institution, from March 30 to May 6. When arrested Saturday, he had a Missouri driver's license and vehicle licenses in his possession which carried the address of Milan, Mo.

WAYNE A. Brinke, the Northbrook resident, was pronounced dead on arrival at Northwest Community hospital in Arlington Heights following the mishap in which his car collided head-on with one driven by Fred A. Bodisch, 60, of 427 Alma terr., Cary, Ill.

Police said Brinke was headed east on Illinois 68 at the time of the collision. Bodisch told police he just saw a flash of headlights before the crash. Bodisch was taken to Northwest Community hospital for treatment of a fractured leg and lacerations of the face. Police described both cars as total wrecks.

In other mishaps reported during the week:

—ON SUNDAY, Dec. 4, a car driven by Mrs. Mary A. Connor, 59, of 550 Ida st., Des Plaines, hit and killed a black Angus cow crossing the road while driving east on Illinois 58 a mile-and-a-half east of Illinois 59. The cow belonged to Floyd Grimm, Rt. 1, Box 276, Elgin.

Three women passengers in the car were uninjured. Damage to the car was figured at $350.

—On Friday, Dec. 2, police cited Jess L. O'Kelly, 28, of 1325 N. Quintens, Palatine, for improper passing following a mishap at Lake-Cook and Deerpath rds. Police said he was driving east on Lake-Cook rd. behind a vehicle driven by Anthony B. Cameron, 17, of 510 Oak Knoll, Barrington, at the time of the accident.

CAMERON was attempting to turn left onto Deerpath dr. when he noticed O'Kelly's auto trying to pass so that he returned to the extreme right side of the lane at the same time O'Kelly pulled back into the lane when he saw Cameron's turn signal so that the vehicles collided, with O'Kelly's car pushing the other auto off the road into a utility pole. Cameron was shaken up in the crash; damage to the vehicles was figured at $350.

On Thursday, Dec. 1, Richard D. Fischer, 21, of 8 S. Edward st., Mount Prospect, was charged with public intoxication and disorderly conduct following a traffic mishap on U. S. 12 an eighth of a mile west of U. S. 45.

POLICE ARRESTED Fischer after a car which had been traveling northwest on U. S. 12 hit a railroad crossing divider and rolled over. Fischer was found at a nearby gas station, but denied to officers that he had been driving the overturned vehicle. Damage to the car was estimated at $500. (B-8

Double Shifts

About 1,000,000 school children in the U. S. attend classes in shifts, due to shortage of facilities. Russia, too, has a similar problem; most of of its schools hold double sessions.

Tahiti Jet
